WILL HAWAII RETALIATE?—Our newest state may send a delegation to Tecumseh when folks there discover what local gals have done to the concept of the hula girls. The quartet, which performed Monday in classrooms all over the city, included, from left, Mrs. Lowell Edwards, Mrs. Kenneth Hinkleman, Mrs. Carl Kennell and Mrs. James Barton. They made up their own ditty, "Come on Over to the Patterson Fair", to the tune of "There's a Tavern in the Town", which could also incense the song writers union. These girls certainly live dangerously.

Britton Wild Over Its Team

BRITTON—Residents of this normally-quiet community have gone wild over their basketball team, following it to tournament games en masse.

Britton-Macon Cagers are taking the same road as last year in a march for the state D crown.

Wednesday night the Tories tangled with Coldwater St. Charles at Jackson in the quarterfinals.

Britton wrapped up the regional crown Saturday at Ypsilanti with a 63-52 victory over Gaines.

Win or lose against St. Charles, Coach Vern Neidlinger's squad has come a long way in tourney competition. A victory last night, however, would not be too surprising.

The Tories broke their game with Gaines wide open midway in the final stanza at Ypsilanti to win going away. The foul-tainted contest was tied 11 times.

Big Jerry Benedict topped the scorers with 10 field goals and one foul shot for 21 points. Gale Smith, taking over a regular spot, dumped in 11 points while teammate Chuck Koman clicked for 10.

Business Places Closing 3 Hours on Good Friday

All retail places of business will close from noon to 3 p.m. on Good Friday, reports Don Murphy, secretary of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

The Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association has planned a Union Good Friday Service to be held at the First Baptist Church from 12 to 3.

"This annual event has become a meaningful experience in inter-church cooperation, fellowship and worship," reports the Rev. James Nixon. Each year it is held in a different church, with five or six of the ministers of the community participating.

"Combined choirs from three of the churches will sing an anthem.

"The service will follow the tradition Seven Last Words of our Lord. Each of these statements from the cross will be used as a text for a meditation by one of the ministers.

"Hymns throughout the service and moments of quietness will provide interludes for the seating and departure of those who cannot remain for the entire service," he added.

The public is invited to attend.

Sawdust Fire Burns 3 Days

Friday night's snow helped smother a three-day sawdust fire next to the Tecumseh Sash and Door Co.

However with warm weather it has started again and was burning at mid-week.

Tecumseh firemen spent most of Wednesday trying to stamp out the problem, a smoldering fire under tons of sawdust.

Employees of the firm manned two hoses all day Friday as a large crane owned by Roy Carr dug into the heap, continually turning over the mass.

Youngsters Help Lead Easter Sunrise Service

A 6:30 a.m. Easter Sunrise Service at Hidden Lake Gardens is being planned by youth groups in Tecumseh, in cooperation with the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association.

Transportation will be available for the young people, with school buses leaving the Methodist Church at 6:15 a.m.

In the event of inclement weather, the service will be at the Friends Church.

If this change is necessary, signs will be posted in front of the Methodist Church and at the entrance to Hidden Lake Gardens.

Young people of the community will help take charge of the service. The High School chorus will sing two anthems.

A trumpet call to worship will be provided by members of the High School Band. Their participation is on a personal and voluntary basis.

The Rev. Blair Bashore has been asked to give the morning meditation. At least ten churches are being represented in the planning of this service. The public is invited to attend.

Entrants Welcome for Dairy Princess Contest April 16

A meeting of the Lenawee County Dairy committee was held March 10 in the Michigan Producers Building. Purpose was to complete plans for the annual Dairy Princess contest, which will be Thursday, April 16 at the Michigan Producers Dairy.

The speaker of the evening will be Dr. John Dawson, President of Adrian College.

Sponsors wanting a candidate or candidates wanting a sponsor are asked to contact the Extension Office.

Entrants for the contest should be sent by April 6 to Mrs. Harold Erhart, in care of the County Extension office in Adrian.

Among the judges is Mrs. Dorothy Grigg, Tecumseh Herald society editor.

After 24 Years in Business, Frenches Sell

After 24 years in the grocery business here, Mr. and Mrs. George French have sold their building and will close their store by August 1.

The building has been purchased by Don Smith, who will move his restaurant, Don's Grill, into it.

Negotiations were completed Tuesday.

The Frenchs have no immediate plans, other than taking a vacation.

Mrs. French says she intends to "sit home and keep house."

The new location for the Grill will give it considerable more floor space, something Mr. Smith has needed for many months.

The building itself measures 29x77 feet and the property runs 90 feet deep.

No plans have been made for the present Grill location.

Hand-Carved Cross Given to St. Peter's

A hand-carved cross of Christ the King was recently blessed and dedicated to hang in the newly refurnished sacristy of St. Peter's Church.

The cross was given as a thanks offering by an anonymous donor.

New cupboards and cabinets in the sacristy will store the vessels and linens used at the altar.

The work was done by Russell Cheever, vestryman, and the painting done by volunteers.

Nation's Fate In His Hands

PICTURE on PAGE 8

One of the fine traditions of local churches is the annual Father-Son Banquet.

The Friends Church held its yearly affair Saturday evening with 120 enjoying a chicken dinner, as served by the Women's Missionary Society.

It was an evening of good fellowship for dads and lads, topped off with a humorous and serious talk by Milton Porter, county superintendent of schools.

"The fate of a nation is in his hands (the son), let's pay attention to him," Mr. Porter said.

He advised the boys to go to their fathers whenever they have a problem, no matter how impossible it might seem.

"Keep an even temper," Mr. Porter went on. "An ill-temper is not worth a cent on the world market."

"If you don't learn to pray every day you're missing something. Don't be ashamed of God, or the Bible," the speaker told his audience.

"Too many (young men) start something and then quit. Don't be a quitter," he advised.

☆

LEE VESCELIUS, a sophomore at the University of Michigan from Tecumseh, acted as toastmaster.

The Rev. Kenneth Marsh of Mt. Gilead, Ohio gave the invocation and the Rev. Howard Jacobs of Kenton, O. led group singing.

Dan Van Valkenburg gave a tribute to fathers. His dad, Raynor, presented the tribute to sons.

This was most appropriate since Raynor's lineup of five sons present netted him a prize for having the most boys on hand.

Ashley Chase, at 21, was the youngest father and Herbert Munger, "older than 68" was the senior dad. Each received a present.

The program was rounded out with a saxophone solo by Chuck Baird and a selection by the male quartet, which included George Kilbourn, Melvin Muhn, Mr. Van Valkenburg and Wayne Selders.

Turn Signs Are OKed by State

By JIM LINCOLN

A long delay in getting approval for "Left Turn Only" signs at the intersection of Chicago Blvd. and Evans St. ended Monday night for city council.

Council, and in recent months, Don Murphy, Chamber secretary, have sought approval from the State Highway Department for erection of the signs.

Although the city received permission for the downtown signs, the state turned thumbs down for installation of a traffic light at the intersection of N. Evans Street and Brown St.

Lansing officials said the intersection did not warrant a traffic light after checking the flow of traffic there.

☆

TECUMSEH POLICE asked council to put them under Civil service, saying it was primarily a protection move for their jobs.

Although no action was taken, councilmen at the end of the session returned to the subject and voiced criticism of the plan.

IN OTHER ACTION, Council approved the tentative plat of Indian Village for contractors Wes Haessuler. Members requested changes in the Kerby Heights plat, and approved eliminating parking in front of the Top Hat restaurant.

No action was taken on Royal Welch's request to change the zoning on W. Chicago Blvd., across from the Presbyterian Church, for a drive-in dry cleaning and laundry store.

City Manager Ed Nelson proposed that Council lease a city lot behind Butler Motors for $75. The lot would include the alley off N. Pearl St., thereby closing the alley.

The lot, which Butler Motors wants to purchase, will be used as a used car lot.

Meyers Aircraft asked the city to help support and maintain the airstrip. Al Meyers is to be invited to the April 20 meeting to outline the help wanted.

Holy Week Begins Maunday Thursday at Lutheran Church

Services for Easter are scheduled as follows:

Easter Sunrise service—6:45 a.m.

Early Easter Service — 9:30 a.m.

Later Easter service — 10:45 a.m.

The choir will sing at all services and the children of the Sunday School from primary on up will sing at both early and late services.

If You're 18 Or Over, You Are Invited

Sharon Moore of 705 N. Union Street is inviting any interested young people 18-years and over to a "Get-Acquainted" party at her home Saturday evening, March 21, at 8 p.m.

The group will organize a club for young people in the area who are out of school and would like to meet others of their own age. Officers will be elected and a meeting time set.

Informal dress is requested and refreshments will be served.

Proclamation

Whereas Friday, March 27, 1959 is to be observed as Good Friday by Christians around the world, in remembrance and commemoration of the death of Jesus Christ;

And whereas proper observance of this day as a special day of worship and devotion has been an ideal among the churches;

And whereas special services are being planned in the churches of Tecumseh for Good Friday afternoon and evening;

As Mayor of the City of Tecumseh I call upon her residents to give fitting recognition to the day, by refraining from all unnecessary business during the hours from noon to three o'clock, by mutual cooperation to the end that those who desire it may be in a place of worship, and by despecting the religious devotion and practice of our neighbors.

Hugh H. Hanna, Mayor

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Green is the featured color this week and most appropriately so since most everyone is "frantically" trying to be patient until the green of bush and tree begin to show and just a bit of warmer weather.

The green of Girl Scout uniforms began the week at the vesper service Sunday when a goodly number turned out. With a bit of Brownie nutmeg and cinnamon they made a pretty sight in the lovely Presbyterian Church sanctuary. (Effort this week). We even heard "Irishman" placed an "O" before his name and wore a bit of green. (See Mr. O'Riordan's effort this week. We even heard one gal remark Monday that she was going home to dye her uniform green so that she would be right in style for Paddy's Day.

Use ADC Money To 'Finance' Shop Lifting

John Curtiss, Jr. 209 S. Maumee St., and two Adrian women were arrested Friday in Delta, O.

This ended a shop-lifting jaunt which they helped finance with Aid to Dependent Children funds according to Adrian police.

The three admitted stealing clothing and other merchandise in Hudson, Hillsdale and Adrian.

Curtis drove the 1950 automobile purchased by one of the ladies with ADC funds and carried the other woman's five-month-old baby during the "shopping" sprees.

Sentences of $100 fines each and 30-day jail terms were suspended so that the trio could be returned to Lenawee county for prosecution.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Coleman LaMaster March 14, at Memorial Hospital in South Bend, Indiana. He will be known as John Coleman. Mr. LaMaster expects to bring his family home Easter weekend.

Carole Demlow Exchanges Vows with Douglas Dunn

Carole Joan Demlow became the bride of Douglas Edwin Dunn Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Blissfield.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Demlow of Blissfield and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Dunn of Onsted.

The chancel of the church was enhanced with white gladioli and snapdragons at the front and in gold altar vases, the altar was flanked with lighted cathedral candelabra with palms placed at the foot of each.

Arrangements of candles with greens and white bows enhanced each window.

During the double-ring ceremony, performed by the pastor, the Rev. A. J. Lucht, the bride and groom knelt on a white kneeling bench in front of the altar. The family pews were marked with greens and white bows.

☆

THE BRIDE given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white chantilly lace over satin with modified sabrina neckline trimmed with irridescent sequins and pearls with a full skirt and chapel length train.

She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, the gift of the groom, and a finger-tip veil of silk illusion with crown headpiece.

Her bouquet was a cascade of pink Carol Amling roses centered with white Phalenopsis orchids edged with ivy.

Mrs. Carl Brown was her sister's matron of honor. Another sister, Jean Demlow, with the groom's sister, Sally Dunn were the bridesmaids.

All wore princess styled gowns in shades of blue crystal debut with sabrina necklines and three-quarter sleeves. They wore matching shoes and short white gloves and carried a cascade arrangement of pink carnations centered with pink rosettes.

The gowns were fashioned by Maude Bell.

DONALD DEMLOW, brother of the bride, was best man and the guests were seated by another brother, Richard Demlow, Dale Riley, Dean Porter and Blair Bascom.

Nancy Demlow, niece of the bride, was flower girl in white lace over satin with a nosegay of pink roses and white pompoms. Steven Brown, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer carrying the rings on a white satin heart shaped pillow.

The bride's mother wore rose lace and chiffon with matching accessories and the groom's mother wore light blue chiffon also with matching accessories. Each mother wore an orchid corsage.

A reception for 250 was held in the church parlor with Mrs. Richard Demlow and Mrs. Donald Demlow as hostesses.

☆

THE BRIDE'S table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake encircled with a bridal ring of white carnations and greens and topped with a miniature bride and groom made by the groom's mother.

Crystal candelabra flanked the cake filled with delicate pink candles and the table was flounced with pink satin draped with white tulle.

Those assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ella Brugger of Phoenix, Arizona, Carmen Yurnikle, Marjorie Gentz, Mrs. Gerald Lippens, Beverly Iffland and Mrs. Melvin Gust.

The bride changed to a beige and brown linen suit for their trip to Florida, where they will spend two weeks. Upon their return they will make their home at 210 W. Pottawatamie St., where the groom will continue his work as manager of the Green-Dunn Funeral Home.

☆

THE BRIDE is a graduate of Blissfield High School and Davis Business School and is employed as a secretary at Owens-Illinois Glass Co. in Toledo.

The groom attended Culver Military Academy, graduated from Onsted High School, attended Western Michigan University and graduated from Wayne State University, School of Mortuary Science.

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Dunn entertained the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner at the Tecumseh Country Club.

No 'Grace Period' for GI Borrowers

Despite what some veterans may believe, there is no grace period for the late payment of installments on GI loans, Lloyd H. Jameson, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Detroit, said today.

Thus, he added, veterans should make their GI loan payments on or before the date they are due.

Failure to do so may prove costly, he pointed out, since GI lenders may make an extra service charge when payments are received late.

Blessing of Palms Opening Holy Week

Blessing of palms and a procession, reminiscent of the procession of people who followed Christ into Jerusalem, will introduce the solemn events of Holy Week at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday.

"The worship of Holy Week has as its goal the deepening of the lives of people in Christ's passion and death," according to the Rector of St. Peter's, the Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne.

"The services have their roots in Christian antiquity and are among the oldest in Western Christendom. The Holy Communion will be celebrated at both 8 and 11 Palm Sunday morning", he states.

The Monday-through-Wednesday Holy Week schedule is as follows:

Holy Communion at 7 and 10 a.m., morning prayer at 9:45, evening prayer at 7:30.

The Institution of the Eucharist at the Last Supper will be commemorated on Maundy Thursday.

Morning Prayer will be said that day at 7:30 followed by a parish-wide Watch of Prayer throughout the day ending with the Holy Communion at 8 p.m. Following the Communion the Holy Table will be stripped of its hangings to stand unadorned for Good Friday.

School children will meet after school on Maundy Thursday for prayers together in the Church.

The public service on Good Friday will recall the Christian's devotion to Christ as he stands "at the foot of the Cross."

This service of prayers, hymns and preaching will be held from 12 to 3. Public devotions on "The Way of the Cross" will be held on Friday, March 20 at 7:30 p.m. and Good Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Watch Out — we're in a mood to sell — that means you can make the best deal on a new or used house in Tecumseh or the whole United States right here in the office of Old Jack.
I'm not going to bother listing all our good buys, in fact I'm not even going to list the fair ones. But here are a few you can almost steal.
A beautiful year-around home at Devils Lake. Now Paul wants this home sold. He will take a trade or a good offer. He just doesn't have any use for the place when he lives in Cleveland.
On Murray Drive we have a 4-bedroom home. This is the best buy in Tecumseh. We have had this house for sale 1 year. Each month the owner has cut his price. I won't let him go any lower. Why? I like him, and any lower, he would have to pay you to take it. Better check this. I would buy it if I could use it.
If you want to live in Adrian, I don't know why you would, we have 2 houses for sale—I don't mean sale—I mean—name your price—the owners say get us an offer. That means your terms. We will take care of any of the little details.
Now the whole bunch of you are missing the extra beautiful, sharp—I can't even tell you how nice it is—you got to see it to love it—home—all brick—will trade —in Tecumseh — WHY does the owner want to sell? To make a buck. But he also is a builder and that is his way of making a living.
Well I haven't even touched on a small part of our listings. I don't care what you want to buy, if we don't have it, we will get it. We build better, sell more, give you more service, if we want to, than any other group in Michigan. To be exact if you're in the mood to do anything pertaining to real estate stop by—we can get it done.
Call Lamar at Howard 1-3664 or Lillard Brown Sr. at 10J or Del at 819 or 849.
You can reach any of them at 583.

TV

TELEVISION SET LOCATION.

The right spot in your home can give you better TV viewing and make your TV set more efficient and reduce your maintenance expense. For example: The TV should never be near heating devices or outlets. Heat dries out electronic parts and causes breakdown. Light from windows or electrical light reflections on the screen reduces quality. Sun light on the screen will effect the picture tube, too.

After telling this to a lady one time at COOK ELECTRIC, she answered.

"You just talked the TV out of the living room; now how about the dining room?"

Phone 692-J for your next service call and maybe we can help you decide on the best location.

Revenue Man Offers Help on Intangible

Douglas Kraner of the Michigan Department of Revenue will be at United Savings Bank Wednesday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

He'll be assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their intangibles tax returns, due not later than March 31.

Intangible personal property subject to the tax includes all mortgages, land contracts, bank accounts, cash, postal savings accounts, accounts and notes receivable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property.

However, all United States bonds are exempt from the tax, and the tax on deposits in Michigan banks and building and loan associations, as well as stocks in Michigan banks, will be paid to the Department of Revenue directly by the banks or building and loan associations.

Under the present law as amended by the Legislature in 1945, all Corporate Stocks are 100% taxable including Michigan Corporations.

The Department has issued a warning to all owners of property, such as is outlined above, to file the necessary return forms prior to March 31. The Revenue Department is constantly engaged in checking stockholders' lists, mortgage records, income tax returns and other data for the purpose of discovering evasions of the Intangibles Tax Act.

Failure to file a return when a tax is due subjects the taxpayer to severe penalties.

In addition to assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their returns, Mr. Kraner will also be glad to advise any person concerning his liability, if any, under the Intangibles Tax Act.

Those desiring this advice or assistance are requested to bring with them full information concerning their holdings, including the face or par value, and income received therefrom during the year, and copy of the previous year's return field with the Department.

OBITUARIES

CHARLES G. ALLEN

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Niblack Funeral Home for Charles G. Allen who passed away Saturday in the Traverse City State Hospital where he had been a patient for several years.

His home was at 139½ E. Chicago Blvd. and he was the owner of the AC Body Shop on E. Chicago Blvd. He was 39-years-old.

NEW KROGER ASSISTANT

Lyman Hall of Brooklyn has been appointed co-manager of the Tecumseh Kroger Store, assisting manager Dick Myers. Mr. Hall was formerly head grocery clerk at the Brooklyn outlet.

For More Than Routine Service . . .

The Green-Dunn Funeral Home offers completely personal service to every family. As some funeral directors do, we might just render the routine service expected. But that is only the beginning.

We take time and make the effort to find out all the little personal requirements of your family, your faith, and all concerned. This personal service we render—in full.

You Pay Less

TRUCKS ARE FITAL to every industry in Michigan, and no service or commodity which affects your day-to-day living could reach you without trucks.

That is the basic way in which trucks serve you. But they benefit you in other important ways, too.

For example—latest available figures show that Michigan's trucks pay over $65,000,000 annually in State registration fees and gasoline taxes alone, plus several millions more in mileage taxes and special taxes levied on the larger vehicles. In addition, of course, trucks pay all the other taxes charged against any business enterprise in Michigan — real estate property taxes, personal property taxes, business activities taxes, sales taxes, intangibles taxes, franchise taxes.

All these millions in taxes the trucks pay go to support the general welfare, to help pay for modern roads, hospitals, schools and colleges, parks and playgrounds, police and fire protection.

So, you see, thanks to the trucks, you pay less.

New Polio Preventative Being Tested

"Sometime in the future it may be possible to swallow an anti-polio pill, made from the tamed live virus, that may confer immunity against the disease for as long as seven years," said Ralph Hodge of the Hodge Drug Store.

"Encouraging results from tests of orally taken anti-polio virus pills have been reported by Dr. Robert N. Barr, of the Minnesota Health Dept. in Minneapolis. The immunity provided is similar to that of a person who has actually had polio and recovered. The new method contains live virus, instead of the killed viruses in the present available Salk Vaccine.

"It will take a few more years to make all the tests needed for this new method, but right now," said Pharmacist Hodges "Anyone, who has not taken the presently available proved-safe vaccine anti-polio treatment, is unnecessarily gambling with his health. There is a plentiful supply of Salk vaccine and your physician should be visited immediately for protection against polio."

Dean's Note Pleases Dave

Dave Lamkin, a freshman at the University of Michigan, received a welcome letter from the assistant dean of men.

It read:

"This is just a note to express my congratulations for the wonderful scholastic record you made here at the University during your first semester on campus.

"The Western Golf Association is very pleased with your 3.2 average — the highest of all freshman Evans scholars."

Dave, who caddied for six years at Tecumseh Country Club, was on the High School varsity golf squad. He was recommended for the $2,200 scholarship by Club officials.

Growing Barley This Season?

Growing barley this season? Better be sure of the variety you plan to use.

If you are growing the grain for feed, several varieties are satisfactory. But if you expect to sell the crop for malting purposes, make certain you plant a good malting variety. Plant certified seed for best results.

Here is the barley variety that is recommended for southern Michigan this season by Herb Pettigrove, farm crops specialist at Michigan State University.

Moore is strictly a feed barley. Pettigrove says it is medium late and high yielding. The variety is stiff-strawed and holds its heads well for combining.

It is resistant to mildew, root rot and stem rust. It is, however, susceptible to loose smut and net blotch.

HY-LINE LAYERS

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Curley Tables His Motion

The other night at the Rices', Curley was shaking his head over "young people," his daughter in particular.

"Can't tell her a thing," said Curley. "She wants a dining room set for a wedding present, so I said her mother might let her have ours. Beautiful set, too, only she claims it's 'out of style,' can you beat that?"

"Now, Curley," said Mrs. Rice, "you ought to know better. My mother gave us that set when we got married and I told her the same thing!"

From where I sit, no two people have the same taste in clothes, furniture — or beverages, for that matter. But we should all have respect for each other's preferences. For example, maybe you like tea or milk. Me, I prefer a glass of beer. That shouldn't prevent us from being good neighbors. Let's not be so "set" in our ways that we can't live with our differences.

Joe Marsh

HOW MANY CHURCHES DID JESUS BUILD?

Jesus said, "Upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it" (Matthew 16:18). The very announcement of his plans indicate that he meant to build only one church. Later when thinking of all who would believe on him, he prayed for their unity saying: "That they may all be one" (John 17:20).

After the church was established, we read, "And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and soul" (Acts 4:32). Strssing unity, Paul wrote, "Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgment" (1 Corinthians 1:10-11).

That the Lord built only one church is quite clear from Paul's statement, "There is one body" (Ephesians 4:4). Already, he had explained, that God gave Christ "to be head over all things to the church, which is his body" (Ephesians 1:22-23).

The congregations were referred to as "churches of Christ" (Romans 16:16) and the members were called "Christians" (1 Peter 4:16). The church was most often referred to as simply "the church". It was also called the "church of God" (1 Corinthians 1:1-2), (Acts 20:28), and "the church of the firstborn" (Hebrews 12:23). The Scriptures teach that this was God's plan for the ages to come.

Ability and Insight

The success of a company and the impact it can have on a community and its employees is in direct proportion to its ability to earn profits.

While many major industries reported thin gains or loses for 1958, Tecumseh Products, although sales were down, was able to hold its profit position — this during a recession period.

We don't pretend to be experts at business analysis, but one doesn't have to be to make an observation on this situation.

Guiding a giant enterprise is a delicate and demanding task. Quite obviously, in the case of Tecumseh Products, there is a management team which is astute and keen.

All of us in the community and everyone connected with the company can be thankful that the fate of this industry is in such capable hands.

Efficiency and high productivity within the plant and top-notch sales efforts outside are vital keys to success. But by far, the most important is the ability and insight of the management team.

In the final analysis, it is the responsibility of these men to make the grave decisions, which can spell triumph or start a large industry on the skids.

Over the years, the team here has consistantly come up with conclusions which have benefited the business, its employees and the shareholders. The Products' fabulous and consistently-steady growth has been proof of that.

Its achievements have been based on the long-accepted philosophy of free enterprise, the thing which has made America what it is today.

That philiosphy calls for company profits in order that a firm might grow and prosper. Without profits, any industry will soon shrivel up and disappear and with it could go thousands of jobs.

We congratulate Tecumseh Products on its past successes and wish the firm all the good luck in future years.

Curse of the Weekly

The curse of the weekly newspaper is the Wednesday night meeting. Important news can break at such mid-week sessions—a matter of hours after the week's edition has rolled off the press.

The net result: the weekly waits seven days before the story can appear. And probably in between time, area dailies have gobbled up the yarn.

It is thus that we find ourselves in preparing our current issue.

The Tecumseh Community Chest board, at present juggling one of the hottest proposals in years, picked Wednesday night for a session.

When you read this, the gathering will have already taken place (unless yau dashed downtown late Wednesday afternoon and bought a copy from the newsstand.)

We have no idea (Tuesday morning) in which direction the board will have moved Wednesday. We can only review the proposal which is being considered.

The local board would incorporate and conduct its own drive, thus leaving the Lenawee County United Fund.

The usual $5,000 budget for Service Club charities, City recreation, Girl Scouts, etc. in Tecumseh would be provided for from the annual fund drive.

Industrial collections — via payroll deduction—would be incorporated locally, except with workers who lived in Adrian, Blissfield, Clinton, etc. In these cases, their contributions would be sent directly to these towns.

Certain portions of the local money raised would go to county and state United Funds.

The balance, and this might be $25,000, would then go into a Tecumseh civic center building fund.

Within two or three years, there would be enough to begin construction of the building, which might encompass a library, youth center and civic auditorium.

As we say, the Wednesday night meeting is our nemesis and we'd love to cast a ballot to abolish it.

Chamber in Tecumseh Joins National Group

Businessmen in Tecumseh have teamed with 2,500,000 others throughout the nation to work for good citizenship, good government and good business.

By joining the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce takes its place with more than 2,700 chambers and some 600 trade associations.

This organization wields a powerful influence in national affairs and will bring to Tecumseh the advantages of pooled information, ideas and advice about improving the local community.

In the National Chamber, American businessmen work as a team. They work on the theory that business cannot flourish and expand, and conditions cannot improve in one area or one field, if the country as a whole is not strong.

The future of Tecumseh therefore, becomes a matter of concern to businessmen all over the country.

At the same time, local businessmen obtain a voice in framing policies which guide the national organization as it copes with the urgent and complex problems of these troubled times.

☆

BUSINESS leadership throughout the country had long felt the need for an instrument to coordinate and give public expression to business opinion.

A small group had been working quietly with the thought that a national businessmen's organization could be formed to accomplish the purposes sought.

In the summer of 1912, at the request of this group, President Taft called a meeting in Washington of local chamber of commerce representatives.

Thus, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States came into being. Its beginnings were small, but as businessmen in cities and towns over the nation came to know of its work the membership grew.

The bulk of the country's trade associations came into the membership so as to give voice to specific industries.

The local chambers gave representation to business geographically and to civic interests as represented in the activities of local chambers.

☆

TODAY, THE Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce is a part of this far flung fabric of business representation — big and little — which might be called the nation's "business front."

The National Chamber interprets to government the considered views of business on issues of national importance, and in turn interprets to its business membership the moves of the legislative and administrative branches of government.

It has helped to create within local chambers of commerce more than 2,400 committees on national affairs which conduct continuous campaigns for more efficient government.

At all times, the national organization is ready to survey business opinion in the interest of applying business experience for the solution of economic problems.

That function has been welcomed by public representatives in the nation's capital, who know that businessmen conduct their operations with the knowledge that the public welfare must at all times be safeguarded.

An early president of the National Chamber, asked to suggest a slogan for the organization, without hesitation responded:

"If it is not in the public interest it is not in the interest of business."

Mari Jane Gard, plant clerk at the General Telephone Company in Adrian, recently completed a three-day training course at Muskegon.

She will present the program "Your Voice is You" to women's groups and organizations.

The program is humorous and entertaining and contains a serious treatment of the role which the voice plays in creating impressions by telephone.

Arrangements for Miss Gard to present the program may be made by calling Dale Clark, local manager at the Telephone office in Tecumseh.

Look for Good Design

Look around you. Everything you see — the table, the chair, the house you live in — has a design.

And each item may be of good design or poor design, says Jane Graff, home furnishing specialist at Michigan State University.

Design really means plan. Someone had to plan how the parts of that table, chair or house should be put together.

When the completed article is pleasing to look at, and serves the purpose for which it was designed in the best possible way, the article is probably of good design.

Taste for good design is something that develops through training and experience. If we see good design around us and in our homes, we begin to develop a feeling for it.

IT'S ALSO possible to develop a taste for poor design. Our acceptance of what we like is generally based on what we know.

Incidentally, good design does not automatically mean modern design. In furniture, for instance, you can find good design and poor design in both the traditional and the modern.

Take a critical look at your design taste. Start with a lamp. You'll find two kinds of design, points out Miss Fraff. One is in the structure of the lamp, and one is in the applied design, added after the lamp was formed.

On the structural side, the lamp base and shade should go together in shape, height and width to form a pleasing outline.

A SMALL shade on a large base, for instance, gives the same feeling as a large man wearing a too-small hat. It looks awkward.

If there is an applied design, it should follow the structural lines and blend with them. An applied design that does not fit the shape of the lamp looks like an unplanned afterthought — a design that would be more at home somewhere else.

Extra bumps and frills on the lamp can be distracting. Such added decoration does not improve the job a lamp is meant to do. Ask yourself if the "extra" really improves the lamp's appearance.

Friday the 13th Lucky for Them

Friday the 13th was not an unlucky day for about 20 young people invited to a party at the Holden home on S. Union St.

Debbie and Mary Ann Mead were co-hostesses.

The youngsters found it necessary to walk under a ladder to get to the door.

Once inside, they found an open umbrella suspended from an archway, letters spelling the day and date on the wall and a horseshoe.

Games and cards were played and dancing to records was enjoyed by all. In conclusion refreshments of sloppy joes, potato chips and cokes were served.

One American in four has this disease

Physicians call it obesity, but it's just as unhealthy if we call it pounds—too many pounds. In some places a chief cause of early death is malnutrition but in this country the Grim Reaper's number one helper is overeating. Overweight people subject their heart and blood vessels to undue stresses and strains. Every ounce of excess flesh is a menace to health. Which is why so many of us diet today. And those of us who are wise see a physician first. We, as professional pharmacists, know how effective a doctor's advice can be.

Through My Window

MORE ABOUT WOODPECKERS

The mystery surrounding the re-styled wren house continues. Mrs. Downy Woodpecker, with her snowy white breast and perfectly stripped and barred black and white back, continues to make daily trips to the house—and we don't know why.

For often as long as five minutes at a time she will sit in her house and look out the enlarged circular doorway.

It sometimes seems as if we, the Woodpecker and I, are engaged in a staring-down contest. She sits in her house and, cocking her showy black and white head first one way and then the other, stares down at me; in the meantime, I am looking out my window and keeping close track of her.

A tally of wins is not kept, but I strongly suspect her patience out-lasts mine.

After Mr. Woodpecker's ill-fated attempt to visit his lady love in her home, he has completely lost interest in the whole project.

Oh, of course, he is still a regular at the feeding station and still finds the maple tree, in which rests the little redwood house, an interesting trapeze of limbs and branches, but he makes a wide detour around the scene of his defeat.

My, it was amazing how quickly and abruptly Mrs. Woodpecker repelled his advances, she certainly sent him flying away fast and what language she used.

☆

THE MALE Downy Woodpeckers are, of course, easily distinguished from the females as they sport a brilliant patch, red in color and rectangular in shape, on the back of their heads.

Mrs. Downy is always hatless, no matter what the weather. In other respects these little Woodpeckers are dressed the same.

For a few days it looked, had things continued like they were, as if we would have an "eternal triangle" situation come nesting time.

The eye-catching, red identifying spot left no doubt that our feeder was playing host to two male Downys.

The newcomer's "hat" was neither as pretty nor as perfect as was the old timer's. An awkard situation was averted, however, when soon, another female arrived on the scene.

As matters now stand, we have two lovely pairs of Downy Woodpeckers. Oh, how we hope that at least one pair will continue to find our neighborhood pleasing and raise their family here at the west end of Logan Street.

☆

AS WE HAVE often said, one of the thrills, one of the fascinations of backyard birdwatching, as a matter of fact, is the anticipation and the hope, always present, of seeing something new or unusual.

Several years ago we had the thrill of watching and photographing a Hairy Woodpecker on our feeder.

He was with us only a few moments, but as he perched on the post which sits on the corner of the tray, we have never forgotten what a handsome sight he was.

Big, almost twice the size of his little cousin the Downy, he was smartly dressed in the same black and white uniform that his smaller relative wears.

Since the first visit we had always hoped, when we saw a bit of black and white working up and down or around and around a far-away tree trunk, that it would turn out to be another Hairy Woodpecker. Well, the other day it happened!

☆

WITH SO MANY Downys around we could hardly believe it true. But when the Woodpecker we spotted on a tree far across the creek, started tree-hopping our way, it was a great thrill to wonder and then know for certain that this was truly a Hairy.

Size, at a distance, can be deceptive and we have been often fooled. However, when the big fellow, complete with a astonishingly large bill and blood-red back-of-the-head spot, lit on the post, which supports the feeder, there was no doubt.

A Hairy Woodpecker was visiting us again.

Displaying typical woodpecker curiosity, he explored tree after tree and made numerous trips to that funny looking "tray on top of the post" which held such good tasting suet.

Once his explorations took him too close to the Woodpeckers nee wren house. In a flash, Mrs. Downy appeared from nowhere and, completely disregarding the absurd difference in size, flew at the newcomer.

She was tolerating no intruders near her new home.

☆

WELL, TO MAKE it an absolutely perfect Woodpecker treat, there was one more thrill in store for us. Mr. Hairy had his wife with him.

Although we had been given to understand that, like the Downys, the Hairy Woodpeckers, male and female, differ only in the head spot, the lady Hairy we saw was somewhat smaller than her mate.

Equally curious and no less shy she too spent the afternoon exploring.

Apparently, the Hairys were not as impressed with our tree-lined Evans Creek bank as are the Downys. At least, since their exciting afternoon visit, we have not seen them again.

We keep looking and hoping though — after all, of such expectations are birdwatching hobbies made.

The standard of the world in Durability

Traveling the highways of the world are many Cadillac cars that have covered a million miles or more! Most motorists, of course, relinquish ownership before one tenth of that distance has accumulated. However, it is a constant source of satisfaction to know that a Cadillac could—if you demanded it—carry you so far as easily. Why not visit your dealer and let the 1959 Cadillac speak for itself—it's a wonderful story told in silence!

"YOU CAN'T FOOL ALL OF THE PEOPLE ALL OF THE TIME"

"Each month, 10 million dollars is being spent by the public for false medical cures ordered through the mails," recently stated Postmaster Summerfield. There seems to be an epidemic of sharp selling by some door-to-door, radio and television salesmen of medicines and vitamins.

Parents Learn New Perspectives about Children

(Third in a series on the local cooperative nursery. This is titled: "What's in it for the parents and the community?"

Last week we mentioned the period of regular freedom which nursery school affords the parent as well as the child.

On days when parents help teach, they can learn new techniques and gain perspective on their own child without losing closeness to the child.

It's a relief to know that you are not alone with your problems. Parent and child find a special common bond in sharing a nursery school morning.

Only in a cooperative nursery are mothers and fathers invited to share this new world outside the home with their child. Fathers often help in building and maintaining equipment and in numerous other ways.

Working with and for other families, as well as one's own increases self-understanding and promotes a healthy community spirit.

The cooperative nursery is a good example of one of the basic processes of democracy—citizen initiation to meet citizen needs. The community benefits as parents are stimulated to think, share and learn together for the good of their children.

The cooperative nursery draws upon resources of the community for information and advice: doctors, dentists, psychologists, ministers, farmers, the library, etc.

It is these same children who will one day give to the community their talents and abilities.

LENAWEE COUNTY'S LARGEST WEEKLY

VOL. 108 — ONE HUNDRED NINTH YEAR — NUMBER 23 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, MARCH 26, 1959 | 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Civic Center Closer to Reality

Tecumseh will likely have its civic center within about three years.

The way was cleared last Wednesday night when the Community Chest board voted to withdraw from the Lenawee County United Fund.

Under the new arrangement, the annual fund drive will collect for existing charities and help begin a civic center building fund.

As a member of the County Fund, Tecumseh could not set aside any money for capital improvements.

As a separate agency, the local group will probably be able to amass about $25,000 a year for the civic center fund.

This would be done after taking care of all local needs and also providing gifts of between $5,000 and $10,000 to county and state United Funds.

Besides this, donations made by out-of-town industrial employees through payroll deductions would be sent to their home communities.

Walt Nichols, president of the local board who voted against a move to drop out of the county plan, submitted his resignation Monday.

He wrote to the board that "since you invited me to serve as a member under the county-fun principle (no capital expenditures) in which I sincerely believe, I therefore cannot remain and serve with all integrity."

In other business, the board disbursed the nearly $1,000 donated over quota in last year's drive to: 1. Tecumseh Service Club. 2. Scout association for cabin maintenance. 3. Recreation program. 4. Community parties.

1 Kindergarteners at Tecumseh Acres had a special Easter project — making Easter bunny masks. Charles Albaugh draws design in first step.

THE Long & Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

Easter for the little ones means chocolate eggs, bunnies, candy-filled baskets.

When we heard that the junior citizens at Tecumseh Acres school were preparing for the feast by making bunny masks, The Herald 35mm camera hurried over for some pictures. (Note adjoining series.)

The kids were all business as they re-inacted the steps followed in fashioning the attractive masks.

Bet there were a lot of proud moms and dads when the kindergarteners arrived home that evening bringing their prize possessions.

☆

While the kids search for their Easter baskets Sunday morning, we adults might quietly search within ourselves for the real Easter.

The story can't be told too many times. If it hadn't happened, there probably would be no Christianity today.

The Resurrection of Christ was the concluding proof that He was the Son of God.

Think about it.

☆

Apparently a lot of folks were watching "Train to Tecumseh" on TV two weeks ago—and much more alertly than the Long and Short of It.

When I wrote the show "didn't say Tecumseh, where," I was out in left field without a glove.

Mrs. Bob Bowers, one of the tellers at the United Savings Bank, waved me to her cage when I walked in Friday afternoon to cover a few checks with a quick deposit.

"You've saved me a telephone call," Mary started. "And the show did say 'where.' It was in Tennessee."

By then there were several others listening and they all nodded in agreement.

Mary explained that the state was mentioned once, right at the start of the show. She and others caught what I had obviously missed.

"We certainly have some sharp folks around," was about the only comment I could muster.

Then while entering Church, a strong hand grasped my arm and there was a smiling Elmer Spreeman.

"The State was mentioned . . ." Elmer began, but I was already finishing.

"Yep, Tennessee. I heard downtown. You people are really on the ball."

Monday's mail brought a card from Mrs. Lawrence Boyd, who also filled us in.

I guess this means I'm washed up as a TV writer.

☆

A chap named Colonel Ev Little produces one of the nation's most unusual weekly papers out in Boyes Hot Springs, Calif.

Its page size is 4½x7 inches and the sheet's name is Colonel Little's Valley of the Moon Progress.

The entire eight pages are ramblings by Ev, broken here and there by liner ads in bold type, like, "The trouble with many hands that rock the cradle today is that they're hired hands. Valley Jewelers, on the Hiway, Boyes Springs."

The Colonel then will muse:

"Traffic in the Springs area had been terrific the last few weekends with the coming of almost summer weather. And a lot of the cars stop off for a while, and maybe spend a nickle or two."

Another pearl:

"Harold Huntsinger, the shoe man, a recent newcomer to the Lions club, is proving valuable as a song leader at the Tuesday meetings. He also is an accomplished pocket billards player, showing up most all rivals."

Another couple of ads, for Broadway Equipment and Garage and Denny's Cog Club, and the Colonel chimes in again:

"We know there is quite a bit of bingo playing in the county, winked at by law enforcement officials. It's about time we all wake up and make simple games of bingo legal, provided the games are run by local organizations for their own benefits and not by 'outsiders' who might seek to make a fast buck."

There was one item which tickled me and brought back memories of Ev Little when he ran a Linotype for the first newspaper on which I labored.

"After lo these many years, Larson's had been able to find a source of supply for our black, but mellow El Verso cigars—so there'll not be so many trips over to Bob's in Sonoma for our smokes. They aren't strong, just different. After you have smoked three, no other cigar will satisfy."

Pardon me, Colonel, you mean after you have taken three puffs if you can breathe again you'll give up smoking for life.

This was a morning daily and after midnight, you'd get a mite giddy waiting for the type to come up and begin page makeup.

One night, as Ev tickled the Lino keyboard, I stopped to chat. As always, Ev was puffing up a low-laying cloud with his long black cigar. There were three or four more in his shirt pocket, ready to go into action as soon as the one he was working on was finished. Ev chained smoked his El Versos.

"Say, Ev, why don't you treat me to one of those cigars?" I kidded.

There is still plenty of time to bring your old books to the library or call Mrs. Fosbender at the library and she will arrange to have your books picked up and taken to the Book Fair.

Ordinance Does Not Require That Dogs Be Chained

With the arrival of spring Tecumseh seems to have an abundance of dogs roaming the streets and frequenting the school playgrounds.

The Herald office has been the recepient of numerous complaints regarding this situation.

The city ordinance reads,

"No person shall own, harbor, or keep any dog, whether licensed or unlicensed, that by destruction of property or trespassing on others property, becomes a nuisance within 1,000 feet of where such dog is so kept."

It does not state that a dog must be chained or penned.

The Musicale will be staged April 19, a Sunday afternoon, at the Baptist Youth House.

Its the annual production by the local group. Members quickly agreed that all proceeds this year would go into Miss Muhn's European-trip fund when they learned of her needs three weeks ago.

She has made considerable headway in the project of raising $800, the amount required to accompany the Michigan Chorale, a group of outstanding high school seniors picked to make a singing tour on the Continent.

The group of 100 has been training since November each Saturday evening in preparation for the junket.

Concerts will be given in Ireland, England, Wales, Scotland, Germany, Belgium, Denmark, Holland, Sweden and Finland.

The youngsters leave June 25 by air with Shannon, Ireland as the first stop. They'll return August 30 from Helsinki, Finland.

Each member of the group is responsible for obtaining all transportation monies and incidental expenses.

To date, several hundred dollars have been obtained by Sharon through performances before various groups and from donations made by area organizations.

4 Whiskers are added and the job is done. Shirley Martin happily models her effort for teacher Mrs. Joe LeFevre, mastermind of the project.

Salary Scale Adopted for Britton Teachers

Britton-Macon Area School has adopted a new improved salary scale for teachers.

After considerable study of present economic condition it was decided to take positive action.

"There is a real concern on the part of our community to provide a good teaching staff and we are making plans to ask our district to raise additional money to meet a deficit in our school budget," said Superintendent Russ Spaulding. "This will require about 1.6 mills voted increase on the state equalized valuation of our district."

The new Salary Scale raised the starting base $200, which puts base salary at $3,700 for non-degree teacher, $4,000 for Bachelor degree teacher and $4,200 for Master degree.

A $100 annual increment will be given for eight years and included in this will be credit of up to $300 for past teaching experience.

"The teachers in our system have a normal teaching load in line with good teaching practices," adds Mr. Spaulding.

"This increase in the school budget is approximately $8,000 to $10,000 short of expected revenue," he explained.

Thus to balance the budget and keep out of debt we must tell you the salary increase of all school employees and general operating cost of our school plant make this present budget rely on the ability to raise additional money."

The budget for 1959-'60 has been studied carefully and only those items of necessity have been included, the administrator said.

General recommendation for next year's teaching staff has been approved by the board of education and contracts will be issued according to these recommendations in the near future.

Why Do Those Who Claim To Follow Christ Wear Different Names?

The various religious names worn today by those who claim to follow Christ have been espoused because of the influence of great men or of movements with which people desire to identify themselves. Many of these movements were sincere efforts to reform an apostate Christianity, and to establish a purer form of Christianity, but none of them can substitute for the one Lord whom Christians serve, or the one body, which is his church.

The truly great men of Christian history have all felt as did Martin Luther who said: "I pray you to leave my name alone and call not yourselves Lutherans, but Christians. Who is Luther? My doctrine is not mine. I have not been crucified for anyone . . . " (The Life of Luther, Stork, P. 289).

Luther's attitude was also the attitude of the Apostle Paul. He wrote: "Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized into the name of Paul?" (I Corinthians 1:10-14). Here the apostle makes it clear that we should wear only the name of him who was crucified for us. "There is no other name under heaven wherein we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). "Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God in this name" (1 Peter 4:16). Are you mocking the prayer of Jesus (John 17:20-23) by wearing a name that promotes division among the followers of Christ? Won't you heed his plea and unite on the glorious name of Christ and his name alone?

Salary Scale Adopted for Britton Teachers

Britton-Macon Area School has adopted a new improved salary scale for teachers.

After considerable study of present economic condition it was decided to take positive action.

"There is a real concern on the part of our community to provide a good teaching staff and we are making plans to ask our district to raise additional money to meet a deficit in our school budget," said Superintendent Russ Spaulding. "This will require about 1.6 mills voted increase on the state equalized valuation of our district."

The new Salary Scale raised the starting base $200, which puts base salary at $3,700 for non-degree teacher, $4,000 for Bachelor degree teacher and $4,200 for Master degree.

A $100 annual increment will be given for eight years and included in this will be credit of up to $300 for past teaching experience.

"The teachers in our system have a normal teaching load in line with good teaching practices," adds Mr. Spaulding.

"This increase in the school budget is approximately $8,000 to $10,000 short of expected revenue," he explained.

Thus to balance the budget and keep out of debt we must tell you the salary increase of all school employees and general operating cost of our school plant make this present budget rely on the ability to raise additional money."

The budget for 1959-'60 has been studied carefully and only those items of necessity have been included, the administrator said.

General recommendation for next year's teaching staff has been approved by the board of education and contracts will be issued according to these recommendations in the near future.

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Why Do Those Who Claim To Follow Christ Wear Different Names?

The various religious names worn today by those who claim to follow Christ have been espeused because of the influence of great men or of movements with which people desire to identify themselves. Many of these movements were sincere efforts to reform an apostate Christianity, and to establish a purer form of Christianity, but none of them can substitute for the one Lord whom Christians serve, or the one body, which is his church.

The truly great men of Christian history have all felt as did Martin Luther who said: "I pray you to leave my name alone and call not yourselves Lutherans, but Christians. Who is Luther? My doctrine is not mine. I have not been crucified for anyone . . . " (The Life of Luther, Stork, P. 289).

Luther's attitude was also the attitude of the Apostle Paul. He wrote: "Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized into the name of Paul?" (1 Corinthians 1:10-14). Here the apostle makes it clear that we should wear only the name of him who was crucified for us. "There is no other name under heaven wherein we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). "Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God in this name" (1 Peter 4:16). Are you mocking the prayer of Jesus (John 17:20-23) by wearing a name that promotes division among the followers of Christ? Won't you heed his plea and unite on the glorious name of Christ and his name alone?

Basketball Bubble Burst by Britton

BRITTON — The bubble burst last Wednesday evening for basketball fans here.

The end of the tournament trail came in Jackson High School's gym when the Britton-Macon Tories fell to Coldwater St. Charles in the sectionals, 69-64.

Britton's chances glowed "bright, but brief" as the fourth period opened.

The club jumped out front, 55-54, on baskets by Charles Komon and Jerry Benedict, but St. Charles snuffed out all hopes moments later.

A strong third period, featuring the shooting of Benedict and the board work of Jerry McCrate and Komon, rallied hope, but poor marksmanship at the free-throw line—20 out of 39—greatly Britton's chances.

Benedict tossed in 24 points to pace individual scorers, while Komon contributed 18.

NO TOWN IS AN ISLAND

No town lives alone. It lives with its neighbors and must work with its neighbors. Its people should take an interest in the things that are good for the area and should take part in programs for development of the area.

The competition among areas for business and industry is hot and growing hotter. How well an area fares in this competition usually depends upon how well the towns of the area work and live together.

It is almost always true that as the area goes, so goes the town.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

This ad is one of a series published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

T. V. TUBES

Recently, for the third time I put a new bulb into the left headlight of my car. The right one has never burned-out. It occurred to me that the reason for this might be a good explanation to you folks who wonder why a single tube in a TV set might have been replaced several times over a period of time, and others might never have worn-out.

The big reason is that all tubes like bulbs are made under production methods to hold down costs. And although good inspection methods are used in todays manufacturing, there are misses. This is the reason our parts and tubes all carry substantial guarantees from the factory.

Another is that certain parts are inclined to have more wear because of the condition of the individual set. At COOK ELECTRIC we often can run this difficulty down and corerct it, but sometimes it cannot be practically done because of set construction.

By phoning 692-J for service, we'll not only satisfy you with our services, but we'll explain them so you will know exactly what you are paying for.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

St. Cloud, Florida

To the Editors:

It is with reluctance that I notify you not to mail any more Heralds to us here in St. Cloud. We plan to leave here next week before the paper would reach us. We have enjoyed receiving The Herald each week and have really noted a continued improvement in the paper.

Here, where we have seen roses and poinsettias in bloom all winter, your weather news from the north has not made us a bit homesick.

Far as weather is concerned, we still haven't much encouragement for starting home. But we have our hearts set on being home for Easter.

I remember coming home two years ago in March and experiencing three snow storms after our return, one of which was heavy enough to close school for the day.

The weather here has been wonderful. Last Nov. 3 I hung my top coat in the closet and there it has hung all winter, undisturbed, gloves in a pocket, too.

Just now the air is fragrant with orange blossoms. It is interesting to view the fruit and blossoms at the same time.

In late February we enjoyed a week with friends to the southwest of us. On our way we had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Linger at Auburndale. We were guests of the Belands at Cortez and the Will Shades in St. Petersburg.

One day, a very rainy day too, there was a party of 10 of us, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Munger at Pinealas Park. The Floyd Bryans and the Ted McConnells were in the party.

We hope to see you before Easter.

Yours sincerely,
Alvin Brazee

We'll Not Forget His Work

After much consideration and soul-searching, the Tecumseh Community Chest board decided to withdraw from the county setup and conduct a yearly drive which will continue to help worthy charities and also bring Tecumseh a civic center.

The board met last week to vote on the proposal.

Each of the eight members present gave his and her slant on the subject and then cast a verbal ballot. The outcome was six for and two against.

As this newspaper has stated before, we feel the local group and the county organization did an exceptional job in last year's campaign, the first of a county-wide nature.

One of the biggest reasons for success in Tecumseh was the tremendous performance turned in by chairman Walt Nichols, manager of the Strand Theatre.

Walt gave considerable time and organizational genius in getting the effort off the ground. There was opposition to joining the county around town and Walt knew it. He also realized that handled properly, the drive could go over the top.

From well before the kick-off breakfast, he and his committees dug into the mountainous task and thanks to Walt's leadership, the drive ran smoothly.

Walt felt we should have stayed in the county plan and carefully explained his reasons. With Tecumseh out of it, he decided that he should resign as president of the local board.

We see Walt's side, and although we favor the other, we lose not one iota of respect or admiration for Walt. We'll never forget the great job he did for his hometown and county in the 1958 drive.

Congratulations, Chorus

Outside competition is a sharp gauge of progress. The High School choral group showed it can stack up with the best Saturday as it racked up number one ratings at the district gathering.

Five counties sent 34 schools to take part in the meet and Les Bennett's boys and girls immerged as one of the best.

This could mean a trip to state doings in May, but the youngsters have a problem along these lines. They're already committed for a Spring Concert just a few days after the state affair and one might interfere with the other.

The matter will be decided in true democratic style with chorus members voting on whether to do both, or concentrate solely on the local concert.

We'd like to extend our congratulations to Mr. Bennett, members of the chorus for both the outstanding performance at Jackson and the way the members reach group decisions.

Sing Irish Songs

Little Garden Club members were entertained St. Patrick's Day at the home of Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, who was assisted by Mrs. Harry Richard and Mrs. Ted Templeton.

Appropriately the program was centered around St. Patrick with various members presenting it.

Mrs. Don Purkey gave an informative history of the shamrock plant, Mrs. William L. Schroer spoke on the life of St. Patrick and Mrs. Paul Burns related the history of the Irish immigration to the United States.

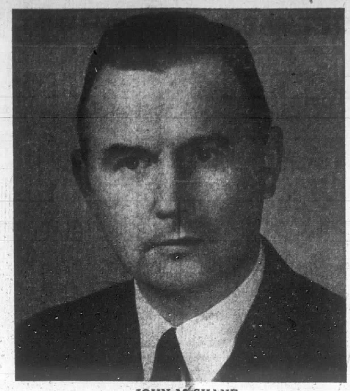
☆

THE PROGRAM concluded with group singing of Irish songs led by Mrs. Robert Bowers accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert at the piano.

During the business session plans were made for a flower arrangement work shop with Mrs. David Ousterhout in charge. The course will begin in April and members not present may call Mrs. Earl Baldwin regarding enrollment.

Refreshments in the St. Patrick theme were served by the hostess committee.

Th next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Don Smith with Mrs. Richard Colson and Mrs. Ira Montague as co-hostesses.



JOHN McSHANE

Partner Joins Firm

Jack Shutt announced this week that John McShane, Jr. is joining him as an active partner in Tecumseh Homes, Inc.

For the past eight years, Mr. McShane has been associated with National Homes Acceptance Corporation of Lafayette, Indiana, including the last five years, as vice-president in charge of the Detroit office.

A native of Indianapolis and a graduate of Notre Dame Law School, he and his wife, Joan, have been married for nine eyars and have four children, two of them now attending St. Elizabeth school.

They have just moved into their new home at 210 Pine St. in Sunset Meadows subdivision.

☆

TECUMSEH HOMES built its first model home here in May of 1956 and since that time, has constructed 58 in this area.

"This year," Jack told us, "we plan to build 25 to 30 homes in our Sunset Meadows subdivision in Tecumseh, and, with John in the firm now, we've expanded our operations and we've taken over a 100-lot subdivision in Bay City called "Greenbriar Estates."

"We expect to be more than busy as we wanted to build 50 to 100 houses this year.

"In the month of May, we'll have simultaneous open house promotions in Tecumseh, Bay City and Morenci."

"As Tecumseh residents, we are most vitally interested in the future of Tecumseh. We enjoy being part of a growing community like Tecumseh, and as Tecumseh grows, we intend to grow with it.

"In addition to the continued success of Tecumseh have other we in Tecumseh have other things to be thankful for.

"Tecumseh enjoys a widespread reputation as a fine place in which to live. Many people actually move away from their work so that they can live in Tecumseh.

"Many people drive (from Tecumseh) to Adrian, Clinton, Manchester, Jackson, even Detroit and Toledo to work."

MR. SHUTT adds,

"We have fine schools, progressive and good city government, proximity to Michigan's finest recreation area, the benefits that a large successful industry can offer and a 'small town flavor' which we all enjoy."

Those on the panel were:

Mrs. Glen Avis, elementary principal in Morenci schools.

Janice Engle, attendance officer and supervising teacher in county schools.

The Rev. Raymond Taylor, minister of the Adrian First Baptist Church.

Milton Porter, county superintendent of schools.

Robert Grant, director of the Adrian Branch of Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic.

They ask that voters approve the proposal at the school election July 13 which will make possible spotting of special education rooms in the present school systems.

A survey will be made to determine the most advantageous location for the rooms for children who are deaf, those partially sighted and with other special handicaps.

☆

DURING THE business session members voted to spend $84 for the purchase of books.

Mrs. James Barton gave a report of the fair committee.

Members voted to accept the suggestion of the executive committee and purchase the package plan of 144 film strips previously previewed by the teachers.

A storage cabinet for them will also be obtained.

It was suggested by the Fair committee that the executive board and the Fair committee meet following the Fair to plan the final disbursement of funds. Oscar Byran, president, will appoint a chairman.

☆

Special Education Program Will Be Voted on in July

A vote on special education will be held July 13 in all county school districts, with the exception of the Birdsall.

The election in the Birdsall District will be held on June 8.

Special education will help the emotionally disturbed, gifted, speech handicapped, mentally handicapped, crippled, hearing handicapped, sight handicapped and children with health problems.

"Not only would the above mentioned children benefit by a county-wide special education program, but the total school population would profit," states Milton Porter, county superintendent.

Through My Window

IT'S HERE AT LAST!

To us, winter-weary and often disparaging of it ever happening, March 21 was the magical date. Yes, Saturday was the First Day of Spring.

With open arms we greeted the oh, so welcome second season and what a relief it was to wave goodbye to winter.

Of course, there is undoubtedly still some unpleasant weather in store for us March 2 does not arbitrarily bring a sudden change from bad to good, but there is a certain psychological lift in knowing that officially 'tis Spring.

It is certain that the winter we have just put behind us will be long remembered by all.

For months the main topic of conversation was the weather and about the only comment that wasn't heard was the old saw, "Well, we just don't have the kind of winters we used to have."

In years to come, when they harken back to past bad spells, it will be the winter of '58 and '59 to which they are referring.

☆

STARTING WITH the Thanksgiving snow storm, our winter was full or not " a little bit" of everything but "a lot" of everything.

Nothing was done in moderation — Old Man Winter dealt in superlatives all season long. As day after day the temperatures sank and nosed-dived, sub-zero reading became almost common place.

Strong winds — bone-chilling, angry, icy blasts—were with us constantly. Although by actual measurement the snow probably did not reach any record depth, I am sure everyone will agree that we had quite enough of the white stuff.

Really, however to our way of thinking, the ice is what our winter will long be remembered for. Not once, but many times, it coated everything; the walking was next to impossible and the driving nightmarish.

But, from inside looking out, it was beautiful to see.

☆

IN ALL THE years, and it has been quite a few, that we have lived here at the west end of Logan Street, never has Evans Creek put on such a show.

Of course, one of the reasons for her extraordinary behavior was the most unusual weather.

Every little break in the sub-zero temperatures resulted in a rain or thaw which promptly raised the water level in the creek and then, with an abruptness peculiar to Michigan, we were thrust back into the deep freeze before the high water could drain away.

As each succeeding high-water level froze, layer upon layer of ice formed. Finally, our little creek was widened and frozen into a tremendous far-stretching skating rink with huge trees and even a fence-row looking strangely out of place surrounded as they were by ice.

With the creek crowded to full and overflowing we were lucky when the big thaw came that it was not too sudden and that great damage wasn't done.

For weeks and weeks we lived not on the bank of a slow, lazy little creek but at the edge of a rushing boiling torrent.

NOT ONCE but several times we spent hours (and incidentally such attentiveness causes uncomfortable and inconvenient stiff necks) looking at the fascinating and yet sobering sight of our creek, swollen almost beyond belief, pouring its cold ice water over the floor of a bridge, which in summertime is a good five feet above the shallow, warm-weather creek surface.

As the creek opened up we also had the tremendously exciting spectacle of ice jams building up and then destroying themselves.

From my window we see four places where the huge ice cakes can, and usually do, pile up.

As cake after cake of dirty gray ice jammed together in a suicidal attempt to hold back the wildly rushing current, it was an awesome thing to watch.

FOR DAYS we watched the ice jams build up then wash away; so spellbinding was it that we had a hard time getting away from the window and were most annoyed when each day darkness put an end to our looking.

Actually the most exciting things always happened at night and all we knew of them was the cracking, crunching, gushing and straining noises they made.

Well, now winter's worst is behind us—at least, it should be.

What we have anxiously been waiting for has finally come; it's here at last—for five days Spring has been with us and the sooner she starts showing herself the better.

Many Farmers Wasting Grain in Corn Silage

Michigan dairy farmers are wasting thousands of dollars worth of feed.

How? Many of them give their cows more "fuel" than they need to produce their daily quota of milk, reports C. F. Huffman, dairy nutrition scientist at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

For top milk production in winter, cows are usually fed silage, hay and some grain. The grain is used to "balance" the meal so cows will get all the nutrients they need.

But few farmers vary the grain while cows are getting corn silage. Most continue to feed the amount of grain needed at other times.

Huffman points out that there is about one pound of grain in 10 pounds of corn silage. If the other grain is not cut back, cows will be getting more than they can use. The extra amount is wasted.

With a herd of 25 average Michigan cows, the farmer who considers the corn in the silage when he figures his grain ration can pocket more than $400 in savings a year.

Two Win State Farmer Degree

The Michigan Association of the Future Farmers of America announced this week that two Tecumseh FFA members will be granted State Farmer Degrees at the FFA convention.

The convention will take place at Michigan State University on March 25 and 26.

The boys who will receive this degree are Jerry Munger of Tecumseh and Jack Allen of Tipton.

Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Munger of Tecumseh. He has been an outstanding member of the Tecumseh FFA for four years.

In his freshman year he had six acres of corn as a productive project. In his sophomore year he had 10 acres of corn, and for his junior year he had a partnership with his father which consisted of 1/6 share of 100 beef cattle, 900 head of lambs, 150 hogs and 256 acres of crops.

Jerry also has been treasurer of the FFA for two years, chairman of three committees, participated in the parliamentary procedure team, and in FFA judging for four years.

He was a member of the work committee of the State FFA Convention in 1958. After graduation from high school he plans to take a short course in agriculture at Michigan State University.

☆

JACK ALLEN is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Allen of Tipton, and is another outstanding member of the Tecumseh Future Farmer chapter.

In his freshman year Jack had two sheep, 12 hives of bees and four acres of corn (½ share).

In his sophomore year he had four sheep, 40 hives of bees and five acres of corn (½ share). In his junior year his productive projects included five sheep, 35 hives of bees and 15 acres of corn (½ share).

Jack was secretary during his junior year, and is president of the chapter this year. He has participated in the parliamentary procedure contest for two years and in the FFA judging team for four. He was also a delegate to the State Convention in 1958.

Richard Williams and John Dewey will represent the chapter as official delegates to the convention this year.

"Who takes all those pills?"

This is often the question when a customer sees the shelves in our pharmacy. Row on row on row of bottles, boxes, canisters, tubes, vials, jars . . . about 2,000 items in all. Good question. Who are they for? The answer, of course, is you. Say you go to a physician and he writes a prescription which you bring to us to be filled. We can't tell what the ailment will be—there are thousands, and we don't know what medication the doctor will prescribe. To provide prompt pharmaceutical service we have to be ready for just about anything. Which we are.

Plain talk to the man who thinks "all cars are built alike today"

J. EMMET JUDGE

"The one thing we know car buyers want above all in an automobile is quality. Yet many people assume that all cars today are pretty much the same in this respect.

This is far from being the case. I can name at least 50 basic differences in the design of our '59 Mercury. Naturally, we feel these differences make Mercury a better car. For example:

EXTRA STRENGTH STARTS WITH THE FRAME

The backbone of every Mercury is the frame. We use a heavy box-type construction—the heaviest in the industry. Competitors use frames that are up to 125 pounds lighter.

WE BUILD QUALITY YOU CAN SEE

Compare the way Mercury builds engine hoods. Most competitive cars use what is known as a single-panel construction. This type of hood can be twisted and turned with the slightest pressure—often flutters and vibrates when the car is in motion. At Mercury, on the other hand, we use a double-panel construction—two layers of steel with the insulation sandwiched in between. Not only is Mercury's hood more rigid, but it looks better.

YOU FEEL THE QUALITY WITH EVERY STOP...

Mercury brakes are the largest in the field—with up to 22% more brake lining than competitive cars. And only Mercury in its field has brakes that adjust themselves mechanically. You save money by eliminating periodic adjustments. And you are safer because Mercury brakes stay properly adjusted for the life of the linings.

...AND EVERY TIME YOU TAKE THE WHEEL

All 1959 Mercurys have a flexible coupling installed in the steering system. This acts as an insulator—absorbs road shocks that would otherwise travel up to the steering wheel. Mercury, unlike some cars, gives you this with either manual or power steering.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF PROOF THAT THIS IS THE BEST-BUILT CAR IN AMERICA TODAY

We know it is the greatest Mercury ever designed and built. Never in Mercury's 20-year history have we had so much value in the product itself. Mercury has advantages everywhere over competition. The four described on this page are only typical. In future messages I'll tell you about dozens more—in styling, comfort, in everything you want in a car."

State Farm Mutual Insures 5,500,000

The nation's largest auto insurance company announced that it now insures nearly 10% of U.S. passenger cars.

MRS. BRIDGE
By Evan Connell

Mrs. Bridge is a familiar figure of America. She has a trio of children, a preoccupied lawyer husband, a comfortable home to run, a large automobile which she operates in a gingerly manner, and a mild social life. The crises of Mrs. Bridge's existence could be said to be generally lost in the roar of the vacuum cleaner.

BRAVE NEW WORLD REVISITED
By Aldous Huxley

When the novel Brave New World first appeared in 1932, its shocking analysis of a scientific dictatorship seemed a projection into the remote future. Today the science of thought control has raced far beyond the dreams of Hitler or Stalin. This book is a shocking, yet calm, estimate of what has been done and what may very soon be done to turn men into robots.

TV 'Party' Host To Spin 'Em Here

He has a "slanguage" all his own—understood only by teen agers. He is a pear-shaped 6 ft. 4, always genial and friendly.

MICKEY SHORR

He won't knock the rock, but adult favorites get a hearing too.

This can be only Mickey Shorr, the big favorite "deejay" from Radio and TV WXYZ in Detroit, who will host a big dance night next Saturday, from 9 to 12 at the Tecumseh high school.

Tecumseh Rotary Club is staging the affair—for $1 per person—for the benefit of the Rotary Teen-Age Activity fund.

Mickey, his "record spinin' machine" and his entourage from his Saturday Party will be on hand to meet all who come, and entertain in their own popular way.

There will be some other special interest too. Eggleston Jewelers will present some records autographed by the recording artists who are with Mickey.

Rotary will have refreshments on hand for all.

Indonesians Are Visitors in Tecumseh

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Three government officials from Indonesia were guests of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club Monday when they, with 33 members of the club, toured Tecumseh Products.

Following the tour they stopped at The Herald office.

They are M. Samiono, R. Muhammad Nur Atmadibrata and Thos S. Hardtasoekamta. Each of the gentlemen have about 15 years in the government service in Indonesia.

They are here studying government at Wayne State University of Detroit under Dr. James Jarvis of the political science department.

Having studied at the University since September, they will spend the next six months on a tour of internship to townships and cities in the state.

So far they have toured Oakland, Monroe and Lenawee counties.

It was interesting to note that 4-H Clubs were organized in Indonesia about three years ago, following the visit here of another of their citizens.

When one of the students telephoned his family across the 12,000 miles he was surprised to find a difference of exactly twelve hours in time. It was 8 a.m. here and 8 p.m. in Indonesia.

When asked concerning their observations of life here they commented that "everything is on such a big scale" and said that while America has about three cars for every person, Indonesia has not one million autos for their 82 million people.

They have electric power only in the cities and only a few of the ladies hold positions outside of the home. They do have a lady representative though and the gals have the privilege of voting.

All three gentlemen seem to approve progress here which they felt is about 50 years ahead of that in Indonesia.

Supper Is Planned

A chicken Barbeque supper will be held April 8 in the Britton school cafeteria sponsored by the Britton-Macon senior class. The price is (one-half chicken) $1.25 for adults and 75c (onefourth chicken) for children.

Don Martin Buys Butler's Building

By JIM LINCOLN

The large, 15,000-square foot Butler building in downtown Tecumseh has been sold to Don Martin, owner of the Gamble store.

Council's decision at Tuesday night's special meeting to trade property with Charles O. Butler, Ford dealer and owner of the building, climaxed sale transactions for the building.

Mr. Butler says the auto agency will vacate the building within six months and move to the former International Harvester building at the intersection of Occidental Rd. and W. Chicago Blvd.

The agency under Mr. Butler was started in its present location on March 1, 1930, and has since outgrown facilities available downtown.

Repeated attempts to purchase additional property behind the building on Pearl St. for continuing the agency on the corner had failed.

Mr. Martin says the building will be completely remodeled, inside and out. A new front will be put on, and the southwest corner of the building will be closed in for show window and display area.

The Gamble store will probably be moved after the first of the year.

Mr. Martin has been in business here for nearly 13 years. He formerly operated a Gamble store at Chelsea and owned a Gamble store at Milford until last year.

'You Never Know Until You Try' Is Scout Play

A play, "You Never Know Until You Try", will be presented by Girl Scouts of Troop 3 for members of the Herrick Park PTA Thursday evening.

Leader of the troop is Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Jr. who will direct the play. It is part musical, perhaps an operetta.

The meeting is open to the public and the play will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Teachers will be in their room for consultation following the meeting, states Bill Damon PTA president.

Virgil Tucker Named to Board of Fund Group

Virgil Tucker was named to the local Community Chest board at a special session of the group Monday evening.

He replaces Walt Nichols, who submitted his resignation last week.

The board designated Dr. Richard Coak and Mr. Tucker to work with a citizens committee, which will formulate concrete ideas for the civic center.

A representative of the board stated that the Community Chest, which will collect funds to help build the center, cannot name the planning group.

Instead, he said this would have to come from among interested persons in Tecumseh.

It was suggested that such citizens might get in contact with either Dr. Coak or Mr. Tucker.

The board designated Owen Partidge, Mrs. H. H. Hanna and Mrs. Barnard Ferro to formulate bylaws for the group.

Rotarians Will Tour Atomic Power Plant

A tour of the Enrico Fermi atomic power plant near Monroe will be made next Tuesday evening by Tecumseh Rotarians.

Members will meet at 4:30 p.m. in front of the Methodist church and drive to a restaurant near the plant for dinner and then the tour.

Ten Vie for Posts on Council

Four Chairs Are To Be Filled; JP Race Draws Four Hopefuls

Four Tecumseh city councilmen are running for re-election Tuesday, facing a challenge from six other candidates.

Councilman Ray Schlegel, Don Purkey, Jim Freckleton and John Hamilton all are seeking new, two-year terms.

In the race with them is a former, three-term councilman, George McCombs, who served six years during the 40's and early 50's. Others are Karl Schneider, Jack Shutt, Oscar Meads, Steve Illeck and Bill Frownfelder.

In the Justice of Peace race, voters will have incumbent Robert French and three others — Les Handy, Ernie Oliver and Marvin Barber — from whom to choose.

All three Tecumseh precincts, at the city hall and fire barn, will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. Township voters will ballot at the Tecumseh Farm Equipment building, west of town.

Voters will also help name two regents for the University of Michigan, a state superintendent of public instruction, two members to the state board of agriculture, six members of the Wayne State U. board of governors, a circuit court judge and two justices of the supreme court.

In two proposals, citizens will decide on a one-half mill levy for county road and bridge repairs, as well as giving the county the right to increase the tax rate limitation half a mill.

Following are thumb nail sketches of all local candidates.

MIRROR, MIRROR—Well, they're both lovely ladies, but in this head piece we're afraid the poor magic mirror would never risk a guess as to "who is prettiest of them all?" Mrs. Orville Laidlaw is under "the thing" and Mrs. Hugh Walters does the adjusting. It all had to do with a crazy hat party at Tecumseh County Club.

Chapeau Bete Draws Laughs from Guests

This is the second year the ladies from Tecumseh Country club have staged a Chapeau Bete bridge luncheon.

It was Wednesday noon and when it came to choosing winners in the crazy hat contest, judges Mrs. Clarence Champanios and Mrs. Bert Ousterhout were in a quandary.

After due consideration, they announced results:

Mrs. Donald Nixon—macaroni and noodles on a wicker cornucopia with red braid.

Mrs. Hugh Walters (note description below.)

Honorable mention went to Mrs. James McDowell for her turban of red cabbage, edged with carrot strips and red radishes.

Also to Mrs. W. T. Claxton of Britton for her hat made of an inverted white nylon purse decorated with plastic cocktail motifs and characters.

☆

GETTING READY for the affair was almost as much fun as parading around in the zany head pieces, agreed Mrs. Laidlaw and Mrs. Walters, the gals in our picture.

For her piece de art, Mrs. Laidlaw selected an army helmet liner, one which a Laidlaw son had returned from the wars with.

This was tastefully covered with a chic netting, GI issue, of course.

Into the openings, she daintly stuffed stray shrubbery from around her yard.

Mrs. Walters' effort was equally as charming. She turned an old straw, sailor hat upside down, made a nest in the crown complete with eggs and tiny chickens.

THE Long & Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

"Win with quality," said the stocky fellow with just a fleck of gray in his coal black hair.

He was talking specifically about football, but he went on to show how it could be applied to anything people undertake.

This was the dynamic, dedicated Woody Hayes, coach of Ohio State. He spoke at a dinner in Toledo recently which Jim Lincoln and I attended.

By "winning with quality", Woody meant top-notch blocking and tackling, precise team work

The boy must have certain natural abilities — but most important he must work at developing them must sacrifice. There's where the quality is polished.

Woody feels "the only way you can win the tough ones is the 'hard way.' " That means rock-bone blocks, tackles. "Not dirty," Woody cautioned.

No one can argue that Woody's ideas are wrong. He has proved over the years that his rock-'em, sock-'em, grind-out-the-yardage football wins more "tough ones."

But football wasn't the only thing that Woody talked about.

He said that he saw "Music Man" in New York and how wonderful it was.

Now rated as one of the best productions every to cross the Broadway boards, "Music Man" almost didn't happen.

Only because of the determination of the people who wrote it—accepting one refusal after another to stage the show — and the folks who finally were given roles, did it succeed.

Woody explained that the cast gave and gave and gave of itself, even working without pay until the production was finally accepted.

Here was an example of folks willing to sacrifice and drive themselves for a cause they knew was worthwhile.

Coach Hayes chatted about the value of education and the strides students are making today—always coming back to the point, if the youth wants to do something and will sacrifice, it can be done.

☆

Bing Crosby says he isn't too happy with the way his sons are turning out.

He didn't want them in the entertainment field and so tried to interest them in cattle ranching.

Bing should have thought back at his own youth and realized a youngsters has his own ideas about a career.

Fathers might best provide educational opportunities for their offspring and neither require they "get into" or "stay out of" some specific profession.

Lets hope each of us can remember this—especially the guy who dreams of the day his kid will go into the weekly newspaper trade.

☆

Oh, gosh, I almost forgot. We just received delivery on a new font of Linotype mats. (Translated: individual brass matrics that form lines and have hot lead forced into them and thus make a slug.)

This type will be mostly for advertisements and job printing.

Called Lipartan, there are two faces on each mat, light (not next paragraph) —

Here's the way the new type looks in its light-face dress.

And bold (like this) —

This is the bold or black-face. Note the clean, sharp letters.

Usher's Club Dance Will Aid Athletics

A Spring Dance is being staged April 11 by the St. Elizabeth Ushers' Club at the Union Hall.

Proceeds from the affair, which starts at 9 and continues until 1 a.m., will go into the school athletic fund.

Donation is 50c per person.

Punch Presses Are Operating

Thirty punch press and metal workers are in full operation at the H. W. Tuttle Co. plant here.

They're located in the rear portion of the layout. The remainer of the 85-man Tuttle force should be here by mid-April.

Each wore a pink carnation and was presented with a mustard seed necklace, gifts of the bride.

MEMBERS OF THE Women's Society of Christian Service assisted in the kitchen.

Mrs. Nash wore a gown of gray lace over pink taffeta with pink accessories for her daughters wedding and Mrs. Tuttle wore a gown of gray figured lilac with lilac accessories.

Both mothers wore pink rose and white hyacinth corsages.

The bride wore a beige batiste dress with faille coat and accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet for their wedding trip for one week in southern Ohio. Upon their return they will make their home in North Adams.

The new Mrs. Tuttle is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and will graduate from Jackson Beauty School April 7.

Mr. Tuttle is a graduate of North Adams High School and is employed at the Goodyear Rubber and Tile Co. in Jackson.

Following the church reception some of the immediate families met at the Nash home for a light buffet supper featuring a decorated cake honoring the 19th birthday of the bride which occurred the same day.

The rehearsal dinner for 14 was also held at the Nash home on Thursday evening.

There'll Be Pony Rides at Mardi Gras

Pony rides will be featured at the Tipton school Mardi Gras April 18 from 3 to 11 p.m.

Mrs. Young's fourth grade will have charge of the Fish Pond, the Cake Walk and the Stanley Products Booth.

Mr. Shannon's fifth grade will have a game room and Mrs. Kime's sixth graders are going to conduct a dart game and white-elephant grab bag.

Parents in each room will have charge of the activities and refreshments will be sold in the gym so that patrons may plan to have the evening meal at the Mardi Gras.

More information will be printed in next weeks issue of The Herald.

3,600 Colored Eggs

At least 665 attended the Easter egg hunt Saturday at Recreation Field when over 3,600 colored eggs made the area gay for the participants and spectators.

Winners of the special eggs donated and, made by members of Girl Scout Troops 7 and 9, were Sherry Harper, Michele Anderson, Ruth Milosh, Linda Brazee and Karen Creger.

Winners of the Easter cakes, also made and donated by Troops 7 and 9, were Donald Shultis, Mary Jo Nykodym, Billy Whiting, Sharon McGeorge, Mary McShane, Shelia Beaty, Linda McGeorge and Jerry Sniffen.

Winners of the Easter baskets, awarded for finding the most eggs, were Janice Appel, Paul Randall, Jackie Work, Gary Fairbanks, Merl Eaton, David Beemer Tom Drake and Carolyn Purple.

The Scouts and members of the Tecumseh Girl Scout Association are grateful to the Kroger store for its donation of 24 dozen eggs for the hunt and to Cook's Electric Co. for the use of their PA system.

That Battle with Par Will Begin Saturday

Golfers will officially start their annual battle with par at Tecumseh Country Club Saturday.

Professional Leo Bishop states that all greens have been mowed, flags are flying at the holes, new benches and ball washers have been installed.

A grand opening "scramble" tournament is set for April 18. Men will play that morning and the women in the afternoon with a buffet topping off the day.

The course this year will have some interesting changes, reports Leo.

Featured is the new, greatly-enlarged sixth green. Many new trees and shrubs have been planted around the course, all products of the club's nursery.

No. 3 green is in the process of being enlarged to 8,000 square feet.

Lips of traps have been cut away and 160 tons of sand poured into the club's bunkers.

For the eighth straight year, mowing of the greens took place on Leo's birthday, March 25.

Lockers are being painted this week and probably won't be ready for another few days.

Relays Highlight Track Season

A highlight of this spring's high school track season will be the first annual Tecumseh Relays.

Twenty-two squads — 11 Class B and 11 Class C — will take part in the affair, which is going to be Saturday May 2, announces coach Don Brazee.

Tecumseh's season opened last Saturday when the Indians took part in the Huron Relays at Ypsilanti.

The squad, which has only been able to work out in school corridors after classes each afternoon, showed promise.

One local entry placed. Mike Walters got a fourth in the broad jump with a leap of 19'4".

☆

COACH BRAZEE praised his relay squads, which turned in good times.

The 880 quartet of Roger Mead, Jim Mangrum, Gary Elliott and Walters went 1:41.9. With outdoor competition and practice, the group should greatly improve, maybe even be a state — meet threat.

In the shuttle hurdle relay — with Mead, Walter, Bob French and Dick Solarski—the time was 33.2.

The mile foursome, which teamed for a 3:54, included Elliott, Mangrum, Jim Poley and Dave Weakley.

In the two-mile relay, Gerry Kruse turned in an outstanding 2:07 anchor leg as the quartet posted a 9:07.8 time. Others running with Gerry were Jack Sisson, Ron Johnson and Ted Harvey.

Kruse also looked good in the mile run.

The Relays were won by River Rouge with Marysville as runner-up.

Scout-o-rama Coming April 10

The 1959 Scout-o-rama of the Lenape District moves on with enthusiasm rising in the packs, troops and posts.

Neckerchief slides will be among about 40 awards to be presented Saturday evening.

They have an Indian profile on the slide, honoring Mickey Bailey who joined the U. S. Marines to fight for this country never to return.

Sherman Landman, Scoutmaster, and his "Thunderin Herd" of Troop 91 from Londonderry, O. are responsible for the slides and they have sent their best wishes to Scouts here enjoying the Scout-o-rama.

Explorer Post 87 has selected Sharon Gallant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gallant, as their candidate for the Queen contest. The girl selected will reign over the two day show.

Tickets may be obtained from Scouts in any of the five local units, all are participating in the big event.

Paralytic Polio Endangers Michigan Once More

Paralytic polio has state health commissioner, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, gravely concerned.

"Despite our discussions experience with this crippler and killer last year, many Michigan people still aren't immunized," he wrote The Herald.

And the polio season is drawing near.

Dr. Heustis brings out these facts:

INCIDENCE—1958

Nearly five times as much crippling polio occurred in Michigan last year as in 1957.

This reversed the trend toward elimination of this disease begun in 1954.

The record:

1958—550 crippling cases—50 deaths
1957—121 crippling cases—12 deaths
1956—308 crippling cases—22 deaths
1955—383 crippling cases—32 deaths
1954—1,060 crippling cases—89 deaths
1953—1,127 crippling cases—108 deaths

WHO HAD POLIO IN 1958?

Two age groups were particularly hard hit by polio in 1958. Pre-school children accounted for 61% of the cases of crippling polio.

Hardest hit were youngsters one and two years old.

Nine per cent of the paralytic polio cases were among young adults, 25-29. Nineteen per cent of the deaths from polio were in this group.

Adults generally have more severe cases of polio than children.

WHY DID POLIO INCREASE IN 1958?

Polio and particularly paralytic polio increased in 1958 because of public apathy toward immunization.

Beginning with the field trials of Salk vaccine in 1954, polio was on the run in Michigan.

By 1957, immunization reached its highest level. But, with fewer cases of polio, interest in vaccination declined.

The year 1958 was what is called aa "polio year"—a year when for some unexplained reason there are more cases of polio than could be expected.

This, combined with large numbers of unimmunized children and young adults, provided an opportunity for the polio viruses to do their worst.

Hardest hit was southeastern Michigan, but altogether, 31 counties reported cases of paralytic polio.

WHAT IS CURRENT IMMUNIZATION LEVEL IN MICHIGAN

This is the current estimate by age groups of persons who haven't had three shots of polio vaccine.

1-4 years of age 57% are unprotected.
5-14 years of age—25% are unprotected.
15-40 years of age—80% are unprotected.

WHAT CAN BE DONE TO AVOID ANOTHER EPEDIMIC LIKE 1958?

Get vaccine into the arms of the unimmunized just as soon as possible. Paralytic polio usually begins to increase each year in June. It reaches a peak sometime in the summer and lingers on into the fall.

WHO SHOULD BE VACCINATED?

Every youngster and young adult.

IS VACCINE AVAILABLE?

About 40,000 doses of vaccine are immediately available in Michigan.

There is now enough vaccine available in Michigan and from pharmaceutical warehouse in other states to immunize every Michigan person who still lacks protection.

WHO WILL GIVE THE SHOTS?

In Tecumseh, the shots can be gotten from every physician.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

Due to mid-term exams, the turn-out of Tecumseh kids at the Dale Young disk jockey show was less than would have been usual.

Exams ran from Tuesday through Thursday.

This meant returning to tests right after the brief Easter holidays. School will be held on Friday.

☆

To help us celebrate the end of exams, Mickey Shorr, the disk jockey of television fame, will be spinning records at the high school gym from nine until twelve. His appearance is sponsored by the Rotary Club.

This year, Tecumseh has again done very well in the Detroit News Writing Awards.

The Tecumseh kids won a total of 15 awards this spring, several more than last year. The winners were announced in the Detroit News last Sunday.

The only key award in the senior division went to Janet Graham, a junior, for her poetry.

Honorable mentions in the senior division went to Marlynn Halley, a junior for her short story, and Susie Day, a sophomore, for her familiar essay.

Commendations went to three juniors; Carole Kilburn and Roger Mead for their familiar essays and Mary Seager for her short story.

Cynthia Poley, a sophomore also received a commendation for her familiar essay.

Linda Dicks, a freshman, won the only Tecumseh key award in the junior division for her familiar essay.

Honorable mentions were received by Donna Cubberly — short story, Mary Leckta—familiar essay, Tom Simmons—autobiographical article, David Brock —letter, Robert Holmes—letter.

Commendations were awarded to Alice Shirley for her short story and Michael Rohrer for his familiar essay.

VOICE of THE HERALD

The Killer Returns

Several weeks ago the staff at Herrick Memorial Hospital issued a warning that persons who had not obtained the series of three anti-polio shots to do so immediately.

The doctors advised also that those who had taken their shots more than a year ago to obtain a booster inoculation.

In Tuesday morning's mail an important letter arrived from the state health commissioner, who underlined the importance of this protection against polio.

He warned that the season for this disease begins in June and continues through the summer months. Its victims can be of nearly any age, with the emphasis on youths and young adults under 30.

We human beings are sometimes pretty strange in our reactions.

For years, scientists sought a vaccine to combat polio. Finally, after hundreds of thousands of dollars had been spent and countless man hours used, it was discovered.

The Salk vaccine was hailed from coast to coast. "Now we'll have polio on the run—it's just a matter of getting three shots and we're pretty sure of complete protection."

There was an initial rush, then interest fell off. At last all but died.

Many never had a single shot. "Just too much trouble. Besides I'll never get polio."

Some started and stopped after one or two. "That should take care of me; I'm the rugged type, you know."

Parents were just "too busy" to take the youngsters to the doctor for their shots.

We cannot emphasize too much the importance of these shots. Call your family doctor if you or anyone in your clan has not had the series or the booster.

Highway Death Rate Drops

Final figures released by State Police in the annual report on the Michigan traffic record for 1958 showed a total of 1,375 deaths a saving of 173 lines.

This is compared with 1,548 fatalities in 1957.

Meanwhile, Michigan enjoyed the second month of the new year with another sharp reduction of 28 deaths, only 62 being killed compared to 90 in February a year ago.

It was the lowest death toll for February in the last 27 years, except in the war years of curtailed travel when 51 died in 1943 and 60 in 1945.

Much of the good record is attributed to the cold weather and bad driving conditions which have limited travel.

So far this year, 50 lives have been saved compared with the same period in 1958, when 184 persons died in highway accidents.

Editorial in Picture

AT LAST, it's spring . . . a time for sweet fresh air and beautiful sunset. No black-and-white picture can ever do this setting justice. This is something we must see in all its abundance of blues and reds and whites and greys. It's a gentling mobile, changing, changing, changing. Each second is an inspiring thrill.

Church Starts Tree Nursery

St. Elizabeth church will start a nursery—not for youngsters, but for young plants and shrubs.

Under the direction of Leo Bishop, half a dozen young men of the parish will stake out and care for an area in which trees, shrubbery and plants will be grown.

As they mature, they will be transplanted onto parish grounds.

To prepare his young charges, Mr. Bishop is holding a series of evening classes on the fundementals of nursery care.

Adults in the parish interested in learning about the science of turf care, shrubbery, lawns, trees and planting have been invited to attend by the Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Collins.

The meetings are Mondays and Fridays at 7:30 p.m.

Mobile Atomic Exhibition Coming

A mobile exhibit, "Town and Atom," presented by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, will be in Tecumseh all day April 11.

The visit is being sponsored by the Jaycees with Dwight Helms as chairman.

Purpose of the exhibit is to help the public obtain a more complete picture of the many peacetime uses the atom is put to by industry, medicine and agriculture.

Different parts, some of which may be operated by the spectators, help explain research and development in the atomic energy field. This runs from the mining of the radio-active ores to the final construction of nuclear reactors.

The exhibit is operated by the Museum Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

It is amazing that the atom, which has such destructive powers, can also be used to heal. For example cobalt ray treatments are helpful in treating cancers, too deeply embedded to be safely removed by surgery. Other radioactive elements are used extensively in diagnosis.

Another part of the exhibit shows with an animated panel how nuclear power can be utilized to make electricity. Atomic turbines of this sort are used in the new atomic submarines.

Agricultural research with atoms has produced many new strains of plants that are more productive and disease-resistant.

This same radiation can kill bacteria which causes the spoilage of foodstuffs.

All of these uses and many others will be demonstrafed in the exhibit. The admission is free, so why not go and learn more about this important force in modern life?

The students and adults shown above are viewing exhibits in the roomy interior of the free "Atoms for Peace" exhibit.

"Atoms for Peace", a free Mobile exhibit presented by the United States Atomic Energy Commission, is shown above. The exhibit, a walk-through type, deals with the peaceful uses of atomic energy. It will appear in Tecumseh April 11.

A visitor to the "Atoms for Peace" free Mobile exhibit checks his luminous-dial watch for radioactivity with a portable geiger counter which is included in the exhibit.

Ex-Tiger Chainman Coaching Baseball

Tecumseh high school will have two new coaches in spring sports.

Duncan Leckta, a one-time professional in the Detroit Tiger farm chain, will handle baseball.

Mike Rotunno has been named golf coach and, as usual, much help is expected from Leo Bishop, Country Club pro.

The South Holloway Extension Club was held March 23 at the home of Mrs. Lois Wagner. The lesson "Cooking in a Casserole" was given by the leader Mrs. Tom Mitchell. The next meeting will be held April 28 at the home of Mrs. Amel Wellnitz. The roll call will be "exchanging bulbs."

Farmers Switch to Red Clover

Farmers who have been growing mammoth clover seed or common medium red clover seed ought to switch over to Pennscott and Dollard red clover seed.

That's the recommendation of Leyton Nelson, extension farm crops specialist at Michigan State University.

Nelson points out that the market for mammoth clover seed in states to the south of Michigan is slipping away. It is being replaced by common alfalfa on account of lower cost. Most mammoth clover is used as a plow-down crop.

Sale of mammoth clover seed to these neighboring states has been a main source of income in seed sales here in Michigan.

Even if farmers are using mammoth for hay, Nelson suggests that they grow Pennscott red clover. This clover is a superior forage producer and is disease resistant.

Also, it helps raise the disease resistance of common red clovers through the intermingling of pollen when bees go from one clover to another.

The farm crops specialist recommends Pennscott for farmers south of the Bay City-Muskegon line.

Nelson urges farmers to give serious thought to changing to red clover production with this variety. He says that farmers who want to grow for seed can get foundation seed from the Michigan Crop Improvement Association at East Lansing. There is a good market for this variety.

How Does One Begin His Obedience?

1. How may one start in God's way of salvation? Or how may one begin his obedience to the Christ of the New Testament?

BY HAVING FAITH. Faith is absolutely necessary when it comes to pleasing God. The Epistle to the Hebrews states: "And without faith it is impossible to be well pleasing unto him" (Hebrews 11:6). The first step toward salvation is to have faith in God.

2. Does one need to have faith or to believe in Christ to be saved?

It is essential to believe in Christ if one believes in God. "If ye believe in God; believe also in me" are the words of Jesus (John 14:1). Jesus and God are one. To believe in God is to believe in Jesus. God so loved the world that he gave Jesus to die on the cross that whosoever believes on him would have ever? lasting life (John 3:16).

3. Does one need to believe in the Bible to be saved?

One must believe the Bible for it is from God and from Jesus. It is the implanted word which is able to save one's soul. (James 1:21).

Faith in God, in Jesus, and in the Bible will lead one to do with a trusting heart what these require for salvation from past sins. The essential conditions for the believer are repentance from past sins, the confession of one's faith in Christ, and burial in baptism for the remission of sins (Luke 13:5; Acts 8:37; Mark 16:16; Acts 2:38).

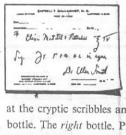
How do we read prescriptions?



According to some of our customers, prescriptions aren't written—they're doodles. Yet your pharmacist looks at the cryptic scribbles and calmly reaches for a bottle. The right bottle. Prescriptions are written in a special international language known to physicians and pharmacists . . . a kind of universal, standardized shorthand that's grammar- and penmanship-proof. It exists so any registered pharmacist anywhere can fill your prescription accurately. That's how we're always able to give you just the drug your physician prescribes, and why the directions are always correct. We are pleased to serve you whenever prescription medication is required.

THE BIG RED SCHOOLHOUSE
By Fred Hechinger
An objective analysis of the new Soviet educational machine and its challenge to our drifting public schools. An antidote to complacency a signpost pointing to the years ahead.

THE BLACK MARCH
By Peter Neumann
How do men become so debased as to commit the acts of wanton and deliberate cruelty performed by the SS and other Nazi organizations in World War II? This candid autobiography of a junior SS officer is a revealing answer to that question.

WHAT WE MUST KNOW ABOUT COMMUNISM
By Harry Overstreet
Communism is a force so powerful that no one of us can risk being in ignorance of it, or of only half understanding it. The author has long been observing, recording, reading widely, and working with a great variety of people to give us the facts, with perspective and balance, about Soviet theory and practice.

CATS IN THE BELFREY
By Doreen Tovey
Cats, it seems, beat up neighboring dogs, dig holes in gardens, demand their daily yeast tablets, and even blame each other for their misdeeds. Cats can also be riotously funny, fast-paced, and unashamedly sentimental.

THE SHOOK UP GENERATION
By Harrison Salisbury
This author seeks to relate the contemporary problem of disturbed American youth to similar outbreaks in the past and the equivalent phenomena in foreign countries, both in eastern and western Europe. Based on the best obtainable thought of leading sociologists, school men, church figures, and others concerned with the community's moral and social conduct, constructive programs are described whereby some communities and neighborhoods are meeting the menace which the Shook-Up Generation poses to the stability of our society.

"FOR FOOLS RUSH IN WHERE ANGELS FEAR TO TREAD"

Health officers are concerned about the extravagent claims some door-to-door salesmen are making about the food supplements they try to sell. They sometimes promise that certain diseases can be cured by their products.

These people, who have no medical training, do not realize the harm they do. That is why all vitamins and other health-aids should only be obtained from a pharmacist. Vitamins, that are potent enough to cure disease, should only be taken according to a physician's specifications, after his diagnosis has indicated their need.

GOP Candidate Will Speak at Dinner Here

Frank Merriman of Deckerville, a candidate for the state board of agriculture, will be guest speaker at a Republican dinner in Tecumseh Friday.

Sponsored by Lenawee County GOPs, it will be in the Baptist Youth House at 6:45, cost $1.75. Both roast beef and fish will be served.

Mrs. Yale Kerby is serving as chairman.

John Walper is ticket chairman and Mrs. Carl Thompson will be in charge of transportation. Anyone wanting a ride should phone 505-J.

Decorations are being planned by Mrs. Don Purkey. Mrs. John Hamilton is taking care of entertainment, which among other items will include songs by Sharon Muhn.

Tickets can be obtained at Easton's Friendly Service, Kerby's Lunch, The Herald, Whelan's Implements and Wagner Motor Sales.

The speaker is a graduate of Michigan State University and a Sanilac county dairy farmer.

He was chairman of the state agriculture Extension advisory council, a past-president of his county's Farm Bureau and a past-president of Michigan Future Farmers.

Active in 4-H Club work, he was once selected as Star Farmer by Michigan FFA.

Begin Summer Food Projects

From a back yard garden to a full course dinner will be just a step for scores of 4-H Club members this summer. And next winter, a trip to the freezer will produce summer-fresh meals for the entire family to enjoy.

The reason for this handy conversion, reports the county Extension office, is that club members are learning how to grow the best vegetables and fruits, and how to freeze, cook and serve them.

Specifically, these boys and girls are carrying on projects in three national 4-H award programs: garden, frozen foods, and food preparation.

Across the nation last year more than a million members were engaged in these projects.

Through demonstration, exhibits at fairs, and all-around 4-H achievement, club members will compete for awards ranging from county medals to $400 college scholarships.

Perhaps the most sought-after reward is the trip to the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago right after Thanksgiving.

It is the top state award, and is open to 4-H club members over 14-years-old who have satisfactorily completed three years of club work.

"That lunatic made me mad!"

When temper starts to drive your car, you're heading for an accident! Sure, the jerk who cuts you off, or passes on the right, or rides your tail is maddening! But when your temper takes over from your judgment, you can do something foolish, or deadly! Last year, nearly 37,000 were killed on our roads—many by good drivers who simply lost their heads. Don't lose yours—it could cost you your life!

Farmers Should Evaluate Costs of Fertilizers

Michigan corn plants aren't very choosy when it comes to the form of nitrogen they'll use. Their biggest concern is that they have all they'll need for growth.

Research at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station shows that nitrogen solutions produce yield increases equal to any other form of nitrogen.

L. S. Robertson, soil scientist at the station, states that both low pressure solutions and high pressure liquids should be injected into the soil for most efficient use.

Applying these materials to the surface of the soil usually results in some less to the atmosphere.

Losses from surface placement were proportional to rate of application. They were greatest immediately after application but decreased with time, Robertson reports.

Soil moisture levels, structure reaction or texture of the soil did not directly affect the amount of nitrogen lost.

The scientist urges farmers to evaluate the forms of nitrogen fertilizer materials on the base of ease and cost of application.

TV

TV EYE STRAIN

From questions asked at COOK ELECTRIC about the possibility of eye trouble from watching TV, it is obvious that many people worry about this. Particularly in connection with the children who are glued to TV sets now-a-days.

Eye specialists agree that TV does no harm to eyes. The worse that can happen is eye fatigue. However, TV will accentuate whatever eye defects you have. For example: a person having refractive errors or ocular muscle disturbances, which under ordinary circumstances would give no trouble, might suffer headaches or other symptoms. If this be the case, we certainly urged you to see a doctor.

However, if your TV picture isn't clear or if it's unsteady, then phone 692-J. We would like to service it and show you what a good picture is like on your screen. Maybe it'll save you some eye fatigue.

He was a student of Ken Soule's Floral Artistry in Detroit.

Street Repair May Require More Taxes

By JIM LINCOLN

Street improvements appear to be a major project for the city this spring and summer, according to a lengthy discussion by councilmen Monday night.

Although no action was taken, council and city manager Ed Nelson agreed that numerous streets in the city would need extensive work, possibly construction of some heavily traveled streets with bituminous concrete.

Mr. Nelson, in a pre-budget statement, said special projects not scheduled would acquire additional money. The city is operating on 10 mills, and council can raise it to 15 mills.

Mr. Nelson and councilmen debated raising the millage from 10 mills to 10½ or to 11½ mills to help cover costs for street improvements.

☆

THE CITY MANAGER informed a Tecumseh Acre school parent that the dangerous gravel pit hole at the school would be eliminated.

Several youngsters have fallen into the pit, one breaking his arm.

☆

CAL ZORN presented his assessor's statement showing city real estate evaluation at $12,892,700 and personal, $4,854,700.

This is an increase of over 4% for real estate, minus 1.8% for personal, and a 3.16% increase over all over 1958.

☆

COUNCIL proceeded with plans for curb and gutter on Ternes Rd. and approved a permit for the Friends church addition after the scheduled hearings provided no objections.

Allan Seager and other W. Chicago Blvd. residents were promised that no commercial stores would be allowed in their area.

The residents had a petition against commercial integration into the residential area.

Mr. Nelson told councilmen that Duncan Leckta would be recreation director this summer instead of Vic Lawson, who expects to attend school.

Solicitors Sell Magazines by Telephone

A magazine sales force, which solicits by telephone, is contacting every householder in the Tecumseh area.

Using the small office immediately west of Reidy Mobilgas on E. Chicago Blvd., three women started work Tuesday morning.

Taking pages from the local telephone directory, they were up to the D's by Wednesday noon

The enterprise was refused a solicitor's permit by the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

Householders, when called, are told they are dealing with a service representing Life and Look magazines.

They are informed that they are being given "entirely at our expense" subscriptions to three popular magazines for three years.

This is being done by Life and Look "in order to balance their circulation."

Then the potential customer is informed they have to pay 42c a week for 156 weeks for Life and Look and the three free subscriptions are theirs.

This is a total outlay of $65.52.

THE Long & Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

Ordinarily, I'm death on practical jokes.

But this one was too choice to pass up and everyone at The Herald who shared in the fiendish ruse hopes that nobody was too badly hurt.

As you'll recall April 1 was last Wednesday—that's our press day and sometimes we get a little light-headed going about our backshop chores.

One of our lead stories was the sale of Chuck Butler's Ford building to Don Martin.

The two-line head for the yarn read:

DON MARTIN BUYS BUTLER'S BUILDING

After getting the proper one all in order, I cast this headline:

BUTLER SCARED OUT OF CITY BY COUNCIL

Jim Spooner, Charley's right-hand man, was invited over.

When Jim got a look at the fake issue he doubled over with laughter. Would he play a part in the story? Of course, said Jim.

We handed him four of the half dozen copies we had run off with the bogus "Butler Scared Out" bit.

As Jim strolled back to the Ford garage, the fiendish gears in his head began to clatter and he decided to embellish a trifle on the gag—all on his own without telling us.

He stopped at Easton's Friendly Service, wearing a disgruntled look, slammed down a copy in front of Harold Easton, who doubles as a councilman, and chortled:

"That ought to show you!"

(Right here we'll inject that Mr. Butler and council had been trying to get together on the sale of a piece of city-owned property in back of his place.

(Charley wanted it for used cars. They couldn't arrive at a mutually-satisfactory price.

(The deal never materialized and Charley decided to move the agency to the west end, next door to Partridge Implements.

(So, Jim figured he could needle council a little, too.)

Harold looked the whole thing over carefully.

"The story sounds OK, but I sure don't think much of this headline. It makes Charley look bad and it makes council look bad."

Harold's temperature had started to rise.

"Are you going to phone The Herald?" the councilman asked.

"No," Jim growled.

"Well I will"

And he did. The things he had to say weren't too complimentary. His reply was a chuckle and suddenly Harold remembered what day it was.

Next phase:

Jim placed a copy of the bogus issue on Charley's desk, since by them he had left for the day.

Earlier when we chatted with Mr. Spooner we told him to stick close when Charley first saw the paper and be sure to zero him in after the first few minutes of viewing.

But good old Jim let us down. He wasn't within miles.

Charley saw it Thursday morning, blew his stack and was right on the horn, "Say, that wasn't very fair. I didn't like that headline at all."

I couldn't resist:

"Listen, Charley, your business is selling Fords, ours is peddling newspapers." Charley almost swallowed the phone.

Then I filled him in and he chortled, "Say that was a pretty good April Fools joke on me."

Now I'm beginning to wonder about next year and what delightful gag Mr. Butler will be tossing at us. Oh, why can't I grow up?

TRIP TO WILLIAMSBURG

Geneva Satterthwaite returned Saturday from a week's trip with Ann Arbor friends to Williamsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hartsell and Mrs. Fred Marsh were in Pontiac Sunday to visit Mrs. Harry Dernberger.

Helms Starts Remodeling

Work began bright and early Monday on a 1,600-square-foot addition to Helms Furniture.

This marks the third expansion program Claude Helms has made to his business. It's sort of a birthday present to the firm, since April 15 marks his 10th year in Tecumseh.

Bringing the front of the store out to the sidewalk, the new portion will be mainly used for special window display space.

Two large sections will be divided by a wall of black rope, strung from floor to ceiling, one inch apart. This idea has required 5,000 feet of cord.

One side will feature colonial items and have a full fireplace. The other is going to be for modern.

Outside, an aluminum awning will stretch out seven feet, completely covering the sidewalk. Offering cover to shoppers in rainy weather, it also protects merchandise in the window from the harsh afternoon sun.

Mr. Helms, assisted by his wife, started his furniture store in a former residence, which still is a part of it. Now, however, it is almost completely surrounded by additions which were made in 1952 and 1953.

The current re-modeling will make possible an increase in inventory of $20,000.

Son Dwight, since his return from army service three years ago, has been a part of the store team.

Mr. Helms has been a furniture man for 43 years, held various posts in stores at Richmond and Marion, Ind. and Kalamazoo and Lansing, Mich. before coming here in 1949.

Ex-Area Man Carl Brablec Speaks Here

Carl Brablec, superintendent of the Roseville, Mich. schools, will be the speaker at the Exchange Club meeting April 13.

His topic is entitled, "Question Marks in Higher Education."

Mr. Brablec is well-known in this area since he was born in Ogden township and attended the Macon township schools and Britton high school.

He received his BA from Eastern Michigan College and MA from the University of Michigan.

He has attended the Charles University at Prague, was an American Exchange Fellow at the Universities of Michigan and Chicago.

In April 1957, he was elected to the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan on the Democratic ticket.

How Radioactive Is Your Watch Dial?

Just how radioactive is the luminous dial on your watch?

You can check and find out when the "Atoms for Peace" mobile exhibition rolls into Tecumseh Saturday.

Being brought here by the Jaycees, the hugh exhibition trailer will be parked in front of the Consumers Power office from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m.

One part of the display will be a portable geiger counter which will tell you about that radioactivity of your watch dial.

There'll be dozens of other items of interest to young people and grown-ups alike.

The mobile unit has been prepared by the United States Atomic Energy Commission. It points out the many ways in which this new force can serve the well-being of man.

Everyone is familiar with the atom's destructive power, but it also has great healing characteristics.

This is shown in the display's medical section, explaining how cobalt rays can be used in treatment of cancers, how radioactive elements are used in diagnosis.

Agriculture also comes in for attention in the mobile display as the story of new strains of plants made possible by atomic power is shown.

An animated panel traces the path in production of nuclear power to make electricity, also power submarines using atomic turbines.

The display is free and Jaycees invite everyone in the area to make a trip through it.

Cancer Drive Is on April 14

Mrs. Herbert Simon and Mrs. Kenneth Hunter are co-chairing in Tecumseh for the annual American Cancer Society Crusade.

Business places donating individual table prizes are Bancroft Cleaners, United Savings Bank, Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association, Gamble Store, Cameron Drug Co., General Telephone Co. and the A & P Store.

Shower of Values

There'll be an April Shower of Values in Tecumseh stores next week, April 17 and 18.

Retail merchants, members of the Chamber of Commerce, will stage sales these two days.

At a gathering of the retail division board of directors Monday final plans were made.

Details will appear in next week's Herald.

Grass Roots Opera

"Monette", which is described as a grass roots opera, will be the Tecumseh Music Club production for April 19.

This year's program is being staged for the benefit of Sharon Muhn, who will tour Europe this summer with the Michigan Chorale.

Tickets are on sale for $1 each, at Wright's and Hodges, Hanna Insurance, Green's Clothing, Eggleston's Jewelry, The Herald and the high school.

Members hope they'll be able to raise between $300 and $400, which should give Sharon the $800 she'll need for transportation and incidental expenses.

Rehearsals start this week for the show. The performing cast includes:

Mrs. Arthur Schwartz, Mrs. Al Merz, Mrs. Leslie Bennett, Mrs. Fred Oberlin, Mrs. John Snyder, Mrs. Jim Baldwin, Mrs. Lee Prettyman, Mrs. Robert Mohr and Jacqueline Rucker.

Lutheran Women Packing Clothes for Missionary

A clothing drive has been gotten under way at the Grace Lutheran Evangelical Church.

Appeals received by the Ladies Aid for clothing from their "adopted" missionary in Japan and also from the General Relief Committee of the Wisconsin Synod prompted the effort.

Boxes were to be packed at the Ladies Aid meeting Wednesday.

Both organizations for boys at Grace Lutheran plan an outing on Saturday.

The Junior Pioneers will leave the church at 10 a.m. This group is made up of seven and eight-year-olds and was organized to prepare the boys for pioneers.

Library Week Calls for Special Events

From April 12 to April 18, Tecumseh will be one of thousands of communities throughout the United States celebrating National Library Week.

A local committee has been hard at work planning exhibits and special events to bring the importance of libraries to the attention of everyone.

A "better read, better informed America" is important. The printed word is the very basis of education.

Today in America every person should have complete library service. It is up to each person to know and use his public library.

Green's, Cal's Tog Shop and Bea Ring's Gift Shop will have library exhibits in their windows. There will also be special exhibits in all of the schools.

On April 17-18, the Book Fair will be held in the Methodist Church. New books will be on display, both adult and juvenile.

Both new and second-hand books will be sold. As part of the Book Fair, Russell Steinke and others will display some of their art work.

Mrs. Conrad Fasbender, local librarian says,

"As part of National Library Week find out how your public library can serve you in today's world.

"Help support it so it can give more and better service to more and more people.

"The public library is changing with the times, it is more and more an all-purpose, all-age Information Center for the entire community.

"Find out if your library meets the standard set up by the Michigan state board for libraries and the American Library Association.

"One of the first things you'll discover is that the Tecumseh library serves a population of about 12,000, but has only 13,500 books. The minimum number of volumes we should have is 36,000.

"But even with this limited number we circulated last year 72,999. Information unlimited should be and is your public library," she concluded.

A reading club and story hour for children are provided during the summer months, records are available for home enjoyment at a rental cost of 25c per week.

Pictures for home use including copies of works by well-known artists as well as magazines for home use and reference are available.

There is a local history section, telephone directories, college catalogs and inter-library loans are made available to the public.

I, Hugh H. Hanna, mayor of the City of Tecumseh, do hereby proclaim the week of April 12-18, 1959 to be Library Week and call on our citizens to join in an occasion which will recognize the vitality and strength of the printed word in today's world and the importance of libraries.

By DIANNE FULLER

Faith in America, God, and Country

Have you ever seen the wonderful, blind faith of a small boy as he speaks to God in church?

Do you know of the look of faith on the face of a little child as he says the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag?

In each case, wholehearted belief is in his eyes, heart, and voice. Most children do not question the rules of life; they do not question God and they worship him with shining eyes.

They should also have admiration and respect toward their country and be aware, a little at least, of the freedom and privileges they, as citizens, enjoy in America.

But do they? Are children of today reared to be devout and have a high esteem of their country? It seems to me that faith is now often misused or neglected.

When you read over some of the important documents written by great men of America's pioneering government, you see the true faith they must have had in God and their country in order to do such a tremendous job. Some people still follow this pattern, but not all.

Faith, defined simply, means having confidence or firm belief, often without proof. You should not even need proof to have faith in God and your country, but if you do, look around you.

See the wonders of God's handiwork: the mystical workings of the human body, the glorious sunsets, the sky above stretching to infinity, and the solid earth below.

With the awareness which the air age has brought us of the world situation, most people know how fortunate they are to live in a country where freedom is a right for all, not a privilege granted to few.

The local, state, and country governments bring rights and privileges to all and benefits to everyone. The Constitution, with its twenty-two amendments, state liberties which are bestowed upon everyone.

These are all reasons for having faith in America.

Faith is priceless, yet it is free and easily granted to all. If you live in a country which offers complete faith, why not take this great gift and use it to best advantage?

Faith is a tool to be used and, like all tools, it becomes worn out. But it can be renewed again and again. Faith is a wonderful gift to use in our private lives; it can be of great value in government as well.

By DIANE MALINOWSKI

"FAITH IN AMERICA GOD AND COUNTRY"

A breeze need only whisper the number, "Forty-nine," to cause a sudden, inner sensation, a sweet sensation which gently swells our souls.

Those souls—yours, mine, and all who are proud of America's expansion, by which rightful freedom has been offered to its deprived owners.

Yes, freedom is the core of America, the heart of our creed, although not, mind you, an unlimited or harmful freedom, but conserved, united independence.

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, and for the people, "Yes, this is our creed, in whose depths lies the power of our government to procure and insure the rights God intended for us, His subjects, whether we acknowledge Him or not.

But, as I see it, one must believe in God to be worthy of these treasures. For instance, one of our treasures is the freedom of worship, the right for which our fore-fathers fled to this country; the right for which even today, we find thousands from foreign countries, beseeching admittance into America.

How useless would become this freedom if one did not believe in God's existence!

Again, if we do not wish to exercise our free will in the way God desires, we would also be minus the freedom of speech and press. For, as we know, in America it is easy for us to express our personal opinions to the public.

We fear only inevitable opposition and occasionally, humiliating defeat, but never our lives! Therefore, because of free speech and press we, ourselves, have developed individuality, towns have become admiringly progressive, and our nation is now great.

How clear to see the results if our God-given rights are ever to be abused or condemned: America would cease to be America.

But following our fore-fathers, we shall always place our faith in God and country. Doing this we join hands to form an unbreakable chain of peace and freedom across America, God's land of brotherhood. Yes, this I believe.

"LIFO" or "FIFO" which is your friend?

How You Get Every Bit of Profit From Your "Working Money!"

Earnings on Savings Accounts here are determined by a system called "LIFO" . . . other financial institutions often use "FIFO." The difference can amount to 6 full months' profit.

HERE'S HOW "LIFO" WORKS:

"LI" means LAST IN or the last savings addition you make during any six months dividend period.

"FO" means FIRST OUT or the first withdrawal you make during that same period.

Together they mean your first withdrawal is charged against your last addition. For example:

On January 1 ..... you save $1,000
On June 11 ..... you add another $1,000 (This is your LI)
On June 15 ..... you withdraw $1,000 (This is your FO)
Your balance is $1000

Come dividend day, June 30th, "LIFO" figures your earnings this way — your June 15th withdrawal is charged against the June 11th addition. Thus on the $1000 saved in January, you receive full six months' profit at Adrian Federal Savings 3% current yearly rate.

Using the "FIFO" system, your first withdrawal (June 15th) would be charged against your first addition (of January 1st.) Thus on that $1000 saved in January you would receive no profits.

"LIFO" is just one of the many Adrian Federal policies that are planned to give maximum encouragement to savers. Come in, talk to our new accounts officer this week for sure.

Lends Weight in Fight

There's still time to develop protection against the crippler and killer—polio—which appears in late June or early July.

That was the word from Dr. John S. Wisely, Lenawee county health officer, who urged that all pre-school children get the vaccine if they haven't already been immunized.

"There's still time to get a lot of protection," Dr. Wisely said.

Ideally, the full series of three shots should be spaced so that the second is given one month after the first and the third is given six months later. But the important thing is to get the series started as soon as possible," Dr. Wisely added.

Pre-school children are the most susceptible group, he explained.

"They must depend on their parents for protection. I hope all parents of young children in this county will act promptly and take their youngsters to a physician.

"And while they're at it," Dr. Wisely said, "they might see to it that the whole family is immunized too."

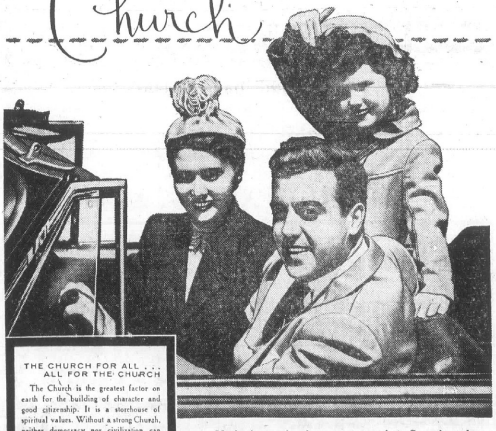
FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH !

DESTINATION: Church



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	42	1-4
Monday	Psalms	55	14
Tuesday	Psalms	84	1-12
Wednesday	John	21	1-14
Thursday	John	21	15-25
Friday	1 Corinthians	15	1-28
Saturday	Revelation	1	1-20

Mother's wearing her smart new hat, Susan's curls are brushed till they shine, and Dad's looking pretty sharp, himself, in that pale gray suit.

If the Browns look like a family starting out on a pleasure ride — well, that's exactly what they're about to do. They're going to church.

The Browns are regular churchgoers. But this is their secret. They go to church not only because they feel they should, but because they want to. Church, for them, is one of the most joyous occasions of the week.

No one ever said that going to church had to be a glum, long-faced affair. Going to church isn't a duty. It's a privilege.

Make church your destination this Sunday. And go joyfully.

Mr. House was born Aug. 4, 1900 in the same house that he lived in. He was 58-years old.

Mr. House married Margaret Ruth Hoisington of Clinton July 4, 1925. She preceded him in death in 1957. He was employed by the Clinton Woolen Mfg. Co. for 35 years before 1949.

Survivors include two sons, Harold James of Brooklyn and Ronald Arthur at home. He was preceded in death by a brother and two sisters.

Following Masonic services burial was in Riverside cemetery.

Last Look, Then Sealed Forever

Tecumseh Rotary and Exchange club members who visited the Enrico Fermi atomic plant near Monroe Tuesday had a peek at history in the making.

These men were the last outsiders to peer into the atomic reactor housing, in which the magical energy will be created.

Wednesday and Thursday, the inch-thick, steel housing was to be sealed forever.

The group made a tour of the plant, hosted by Dave Reed of Detroit Edison, a one-time Tecumsehite.

Following this, 66 men sat down for a roast beef dinner at a nearby restaurant.

The event took the place of this week's regular Rotary meeting. Several guests and members of Exchange also made the junket.

For dinner, the Tecumseh group was joined by Mr. Reed and other Edisonites.

Driver Is Thrown from Car Sunday, Seriously Hurt

Carl Hawkins of rural Tecumseh is a patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital following an auto accident Sunday in which his car turned over three times.

His body was thrown out of the car and with such force that it damaged the fender of an auto parked nearby.

The auto finally came to rest on the law at the home of Ed Kanous in Britton.

Mr. Hawkins' condition was fair Wednesday morning.

The accident happened in the afternoon at 5:45 on M-50 in Britton.

The Hawkins' car was traveling east when another car driven by Ollie Judy of Milan attempted to pass and was forced to return behind the Hawkins car because of an approaching westbound vehicle.

As the Judy car turned back, it struck the rear of the Hawkins car throwing it out of control.

Mr. Hawkins received cuts on the head, a crushed arm, a broken nose and shoulder when he was violently thrown from the car.

Youths Write Own Show

Girl Scouts of Troop 3 presented a three-act, 45-minute play for about 60 members of the Herrick Park PTA Thursday evening.

The play was an original idea of Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Jr. and Mrs. Steve Maples, with the children composing their own dialogue.

Music was composed by Mrs. Maples for the production about a chimney sweep.

In the cast were Linda George, Pam Brooks, Katy Maples, Sharon Dicks, Donna Glascock, Cheryl Haughn, Josephine Abshire, Kathy Brown, Vickie Brees and Dawn Kruse.

Gene Plummer of Adrian spoke to the parents on special education for handicapped children.

Mrs. Ernest Lamkin reported on the traveling baskets. Four out of seven have been completed with $72.35 received. Further report will be given when the remaining baskets have been returned.

Mrs. Lamkin was elected chairman of the nominating committee with Mrs. William Frownfelder and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Jr. committee members.

Baseball Will Open for THS at Blissfield

Weather permitting, Coach Duncan Leckta sends his Tecumseh high school baseball squad against Blissfield Friday afternoon on the Purple's diamond.

The home opener will be with Hillsdale Monday, April 20.

This spring's squad will be slightly thin in the pitching ranks, but then what high school squad isn't?

Coach Leckta has Bob Wilkins as his number one hurler. He'll also use shortstop Steve Kruger and first baseman Bob O'Neill for mound stints.

One freshman, catcher Tim Whitney, has broken into the strating lineup.

Remainder of the starters are third baseman Larry Yoakum, second baseman Jon Cook and outfielders Jim Curth, Lynn Frost and Ron Hathaway.

Others who'll be in and out of the fineup are outer gardeners Bob Dicks and Richard Socha; infielders Tom Barton and Dave Brooks.

Remainder of the schedule:
April 27—Bedford.
April 30—Monroe CC.
May 4—Airport.
May 7—at Hillsdale.
May 8—Milan.
May 11—Blissfield.
May 14—at Bedford.
May 21—at Monroe CC.
May 26—at Airport.

One Letterman Greets Coach

Only one letterman, Gordon Greiman, from last spring's top-flight Tecumseh high school golf team, greeted coach Mike Rotunno when the call went out for candidates last week.

Graduation claimed the three other star stickers.

Current candidates include Dave Champanois, Dave Hohenstein, LeRoy King, Ted Kempf, Mike Tucker and Kim Dabe.

Several of these lads have scored in the high 80's and should work into good high school linksmen.

Judy Reporting

"Klickety-Klack Maidens hold meeting, called to order by president Pat Green. We had the 4-H pledge and club song.

"Susan Kennel brought the treat. Pat Green had the songs. Virginia Smock and Judy Hicks had the games.

"We had Girl Scout cookies for the treat. The game was baseball.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

There was a well-attended Teen Club dance last Friday night from nine until twelve.

☆

Unfortunately for the Rotary Club, Mickey Shorr did not show up as promised for the disk jockey dance Saturday night.

Because of this and the second-string that arrived in Shorr's place, the dance did not go off as well as had been expected.

Two performers and numerous contests were introduced, but they failed to perk up the dance.

A Queen of the Hop, Janet Murphy, and a King of the Hop, Mike Fero, were chosen.

Refreshments could be bought from Rotary members. All proceeds went to the Rotary's teen fund.

☆

The mid-term grades were issued Monday, given out individually in each class. The cards will have to be returned Monday.

☆

James Beardsley, a Tecumseh lawyer, presented the last speech of the assembly series at the high school Tuesday morning during fourth hour.

He stressed the importance of organization, dedication, and imagination in application to a teen-ager's life's work.

☆

The first and second hour office practice classes made a field trip to the Tecumseh Products offices.

☆

The annual FHA banquet was held at Wednesday evening in the cafeteria.

☆

Tecumseh's first track meet of the season will be held Friday with a baseball game at Blissfield the same afternoon.

☆

The seniors will leave on their senior trip to Washington Saturday at 7:30 p.m. on a train from Toledo.

☆

The Junior Prom, "Fascination", will be held April 25 from nine to twelve. More later.

☆

The fourteenth of April, there will be a track meet here and a golf match at Monroe high school.

There was a staff meeting of the school paper Wednesday after school. The paper was also sold on Wednesday.

☆

The national Merit scholarship qualifying test have arrived and have passed out among the juniors who signed up for the test. The test itself will be given either April 28 or May 2.

☆

Don't forget the all-school play, "Mrs. McThing", which will be produced at the Strand Theatre on April 21. There will be a matinee and an evening performance.

M & M Show Opens April 17 at Union Hall

Plans are nearly complete for the annual Merchants and Manufacturers Show sponsored by Tecumseh VFW.

It will be held April 17, 18 and 19 at the United Products Workers Union Hall.

A few booth spaces are still available and anyone desiring one may contact Gaza Kish at 7136-J, Harley Slick at Britton phone 2823 and Roy Beasley at 193-M.

The latest in building materials, appliances and sporting goods will be shown along with many other interesting items.

Door prizes given will be portable TV's, Hi-Fi's, Bar-B-Ques, etc. More and improved parking space will be available.

Simple Questions Sound Ridiculous

Sermon for the second Sunday after Easter at the Methodist Church will be on the theme, "Where Is Christ?"

The Rev. James D. Nixon, pastor, says that he is aware that such simple questions may sound almost ridiculous.

Purpose of the series is to help people look beyond the traditional words used to answer these questions, to discover for themselves the living reality which they represent.

These Kids Can Write

There's an abundance of literary talent among the young people of this community and this fact should make all of us proud.

Being able to express oneself in writing is no little feat and our young people seem to have a real knack of doing just that.

Two major writing contests have just been concluded and area youngsters did exceptionally well in both.

Most important and far-reaching was the annual Detroit News competition.

How did Tecumseh high school students do in this?

Eleven were cited, including two—Janet Graham and Linda Hicks—who won Key awards, highest honor given by the News.

Entries from all over Michigan totaled more than 5,000. This helps give you an idea how successful Tecumseh efforts really were.

The other contest was sponsored locally by the Legion Auxiliary—its annual Americanism essay competition.

Total entries increased this year and with it the quality. The judges admitted it was most difficult to choose between the various essays.

The Herald is printing—and we're proud to do so—the top choices, the two News Key winners and the junior and senior Auxiliary front runners.

We congratulate all these young people who took part. Even those who did not win gained considerable reward for just entering —and maybe next year they'll finish on top.

Teachers and members of the Auxiliary who have encouraged the students to take part also deserve praise. We would especially like to single out Mrs. Rose Service of the high school who has done so much to promote the News competition here and throughout Lenawee county.

What about Your Driving

Michigan's estimated economic loss from automobile fatal accidents during 1958 amounted to approximately $160 million.

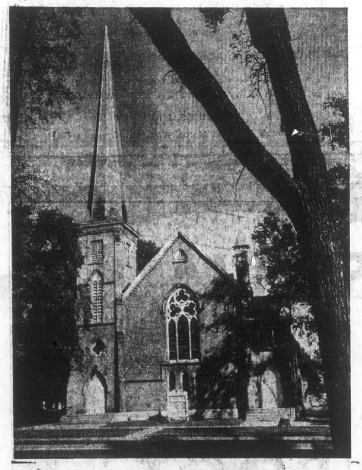
So reports Michigan Inter-Industry Highway safety committee and Michigan Regional manager of the Allstate Insurance company.

If this loss had been averted, the same amount of money could have financed 6,000 new school rooms, or provided new hospital facilities accomodating 8,000 patients, or built 16,000 new family homes.

What kind of a driver are you?

Birthday No. 131

Easter marked the 131st anniversary of the First Presbyterian Church in Tecumseh.



It was on Easter Sunday, April 6, 1828, that The First Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh was incorporated with ten charter members.

The Rev. Alanson Darwin was pastor.

John Huyck, Mary Huyck, William T. Finch, Rachael Finch, Mella Ann Ketcham, Euphemia Hillock, Emilia Holbrook, Maria Hixon, Mary Darwin and Mary Metcalf became the initial members.

On the same day George Atwood Metcalf became the first child to be baptised in the church.

Services were held at first in a small school house located where city hall now stands.

At the end of 25 years, the membership had grown to 398, a tribute to the zeal and enthusiasm of those ten charter members.

The present church building was started on July 16, 1866, and was dedicated, "To the Lord's Worship free of all indebtedness" on March 31, 1869.

During the year 1879 it was decided to remodel the "lecture room".

A parlor was made upstairs and a dining room and kitchen on the first floor. It is reported that, "they began serving church suppers at ten cents a plate to help finance the work and social life of the church."

The Fellowship Center only other major construction project undertaken by the church; was dedicated on October 13, 1949.

FOLLOW THE LINES

Follow the lines of the wall when you arrange large pieces of furniture in your home. Michigan State University home furnishing specialists advise that sofas and upright pianos look better if placed parallel to the wall or at right angles to it. Reserve other angle arrangement, such as across the corner of a room, for smaller things like chairs and end tables.

The People's Choice!

The trucks you see operating over the streets and highways of Michigan are there because the people want the swift, dependable transportation service they provide. People who operate factories, run farms, own retail businesses — they rely on trucks to stock their enterprises and to ship their finished products. And the people who buy these products—their needs, too, are served for the most part by trucks. It's a service they've grown used to, a service which has become a vital part of the American way of life . . . Yes, motor transport is the people's choice, a service and convenience that serves them night and day!

Tips on Grooming

Mrs. Laurence Reese welcomed 500 members, leaders and parents to the first 4-H Fashion Feature at Adrian College.

The program was planned to show how good grooming and wise dress develops attractive girls.

Stitch 'n Rip personal improvement members presented grooming for each day of the week as Mrs. Robert Cory narrated. Clean skin, use of deodorant, nail and hair care prepared the girls for everyday or a Saturday night party.

Jo Ann Frost talked about accessories as the Holloway Homemakers were right and wrong choices.

The short, stout girl seemed quite cut into with a contrasting belt; but a matching belt was slenderizing. The audience saw the transformation of a girl heavily dressed in jewelry and many colors to a smartly dressed girl with simple accessories.

LEGS APPEARED behind a sheet, but one by one each girl became visible with appropriate foot dress for sport, school and church.

Jo Ann asked the young members to switch hats and purses with their older sisters to show the importance of correct sized accessories.

Members will be following Fashion Feature ideas in selecting accessories that most compliment garments sewn in the clothing project this year.

The Riga Junior Homemakers and Carolyn Karl presented modeling cues for members. Walking, head carriage and detailing were shown by the girls wearing aprons, slacks, dresses, skirts and blouses and formals.

Clubs will be having practice sessions as they prepare for the two county dress revues, April 24th and June 19th.

Registration Down, But Tax Revenue is Up

Motor vehicle tax collections in Lenawee county increased from $687,470 in 1957 to $701,172 in 1958.

Total registrations of all motor vehicles in county decreased from 41,165 in 1957 to 40,841 in 1958.

A Lenawee county breakdown by types of vehicles registered in 1958 shows 28,117 passenger cars, 4,539 commercial, 1,259 farm vehicles, 5,646 trailers 274 trailer coaches, 563 motorcycles, and 443 municipal or local government owned cars.

The total number of registrations of all types of vehicles in the 83 counties fell 83,485 below that of last year. A drop of only 3%.

Phone Company Awarded Citation for Safety Record

The National Safety Council recently presented the General Telephone Company of Michigan with the Award of Merit for the organization's excellent safety record in 1958.

The Safety Council conducts safety contests each year in which the nation's leading public utilities take part.

The safety awards given by the council are based on the lowest number of injuries per million man-hours worked.

In computing General Telephone's accident frequency and severity rates, the utility lacked only four points from receiving the Safety Council's highest award, the Award of Honor.

Milk Fever Can Be Prevented with Vitamin D

Milk fever in dairy cows can be prevented to a considerable extent through the feeding of Vitamin D just before calving, according to tests reported by Ohio and Maine dairy scientists.

In discussing the tests, Don Hillman, extension dairy specialist at Michigan State University, says that good breeding records and experience at judging when the cow is near calving is necessary for best results.

The tests showed that the Vitamin D must be fed two or three days before calving. In Ohio milk fever cases were reduced by about two-thirds.

In Maine, there was 62 per cent reduction in cows that had previously had milk fever and 71 per cent reduction in cows that had not previously had milk fever.

Hillman points out the total amount of Vitamin D fed is important. It should not be less than 60 million units and not over 100 million units.

He suggests starting feeding two to three days before the estimated calving date and feed at the rate of 30 million units per day until 60-100 million units of the vitamin have been fed. Feeding more gives poorer results and may be harmful.

The product is sold under various trade names. Feed dealers will likely be able to supply it, says Hillman. He points out that irradiated yeast is not effective because it is unpalatable. But there are several more palatable forms such as ergosterol that are available.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield Offer More-Flexible, Lower-Cost Coverages

Variety of hospital-surgical plans helps a group tailor protection to its needs.

Throughout Michigan, employers are now offered a broad range of new Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans, remarkably flexible in benefits and cost.

Now companies can select a "package" of hospital and medical care geared to the coverage and cost the specific group desires.

To go with the new basic Blue Shield M-75 medical-surgical coverage, which provides realistic benefits for surgery, obstetrics, doctor's hospital visits and other medical services, the group can choose ANY of the following Blue Cross hospital care plans:

COMPREHENSIVE CONTRACT. This, the most extensive of Blue Cross plans, will pay the full cost of semi-private or ward accommodations, meals, general nursing, and virtually all other costly hospital services for 120 days.

$50 DEDUCTIBLE CONTRACT. This is a lower-cost Blue Cross plan which provides exactly the same benefits as the Comprehensive Contract, except the patient agrees to pay the first $50 for each hospital visit.

ECONOMY CONTRACT. This costs the least of any Blue Cross plan offered. It pays $14 a day for 30 days toward room, meals, and general nursing care, plus coverage of virtually all other costly hospital services without dollar limit.

SPECIAL FEATURES ALSO AVAILABLE

1. You can increase days of care from 120 to 365 for as little as 10 cents a month extra.

2. Employees may continue coverage under direct-payment contracts after retirement. Moreover, if the firm has a formal retirement program, and agrees to make deductions from retirement checks, the employee can continue group benefits at group rates.

3. Once a year, individuals can join Blue Cross-Blue Shield without belonging to a group. Non-group contracts pay for 30 days of care and up to $14 a day, plus "extra" services without dollar limit.

4. Any child who reaches his 19th birthday while his family is covered by a Blue Cross-Blue Shield plan may convert to his own contract immediately. No examination. No delay.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield offer flexible, realistic health care plans designed to meet the needs of the constantly changing practices of medical science. Remember, no health care plan in Michigan returns more money in the form of hospital-medical services to its members than Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Through My Window

LITTLE RED

Although he has a shockingly bad reputation, I am sure that at least until we have had first-hand experience with his reputed malicious destructiveness, we will continue to enjoy the antics of Little Red.

Always on the go, Little Red is an animated bit of energy, a dynamo of action, a red squirrel. I am sure he is Mother Nature's answer to perpetual motion.

As Little Red flies through the trees he will scarcely be seen by the casual observer. So fast are his movements that he is often more an impression than an actual sight.

Somewhere I read the description of a red squirrel running through the trees "so rapidly that he resembled a red streak more than a little beast." How true!

☆

AS HE RACES from one branch to another, he always seems intently bent on the pursuit of some important mission. To him life is a serious business and apparently on his little grayish-red shoulders rests the weight of the squirrel world.

Our post and rail fence is a great favorite with squirrels, mourning doves, robins and little boys.

The birds sit on it; the boys and squirrels play on, over, under and through it. Little Red especially puts on quite a show when he dines on the corn which we have fastened to the fence.

He is such a little fellow that he is completely dwarfed by the ears of corn and it takes much stretching and reaching, much twisting and turning for him to wrench loose the little kernels which he so dearly loves.

If standing as tall on tiny hind legs as he can and reaching as high as possible with dextrous front paws does not bring the prize within reach, resourceful Little Red is undaunted.

He merely scrambles up and sometimes even over the ear of corn itself. A robust appetite will find a way no matter what acrobatics are necessary to get at one, better than the other, kernel.

☆

OUR LITTLE perpetual motion machine, this bundle of nervous energy, seldom slows down even when eating.

His big squirrel cousins, when they partake of our free corn buffet, give the impression of gourmet dining; finding an especially tasty ear, they settle back on fat haunches and devote themselves to the joy of food.

Often we have watched a squirrel start with a full ear and only leave when the cob had been completely stripped. Not Little Red. Seldom if ever does he "sit down" to a meal.

His usual grab, run and then eat tactics go something like this — barreling down out of a tree, he will scoot across the yard, leap on the fence post and scramble up to the top rail.

Flying along this way, he stops at the corn only long enough to pull off a kernel and holding it in his mouth, he dashes back along the fence, back down the post, across the yard and up a tree.

IN ALL HIS frantic rushing about, Little Red has almost completely overlooked the easiest source of food in the neighborhood, our two bird feeders.

His visits to them are most infrequent and on the unusual occasions when we have noticed him on the trays he has appeared most uncomfortable and ill at ease.

I suppose they are too open and too near a window, behind which people are frequently gawking, for his high-strung nervous system.

Although he has not been happy or satisfied with these trips, we have enjoyed them immensely because they have afforded us a thrilling close-up look at this little mite.

Oh, what a lovely, soft looking, little bit of fur he is—just the right size to hold and cuddle. He would never be a party to such goings on however.

☆

REALLY, Little Red is very pretty!

Because of his lightning fast movements and, also I fear because of his bad name, his sleek dapper appearance is seldom appreciated. His oh-so-soft and spotlessly-white tummy is outlined and accentuated by a clear, sharp, black line which is drawn down each side and almost divides him in half.

His back is a grayish-red with a noticeable russet band running down the middle—it being the same red as his head and tail.

Instead of a luxuriously thick and long tail which can be waved and flipped in a grand manner, Little Red's is proportionately shorter than his bigger cousin's and has almost a brush-like texture.

Often, as he scurries across the yard, this blunt, evenly furred-out tail is held up stiff and straight—a fast-flying red streak from whose erected flag pole no banner waves.

☆

THE OTHER DAY the sight of a second little red squirrel was noted with decidedly mixed emotions.

Two Little Reds—good or bad?

If the newcomer brings destructive habits, nest robbing etc., we shall be most unhappy.

If, however, our own Little Red can be an effective example of good manners, we could be in for an exciting time.

Imagine the fun of watching two little-red streaks chase and play through the trees.

Then too there is the possibility of the squirrels mating and raising a family. Wouldn't a baby red squirrel be cute?

Thunderstorm Season Points Up Some Needs

With the thunderstorm season just around the corner, Lenawee countains may want to check their electrical systems for protection against electrical damage.

These surge, caused by the static electricity that power lines pick up in the county, can blow out water heaters, clocks, television sets and other appliances.

The surges may be from 200 to 600 volts in size and will last for only a small portion of a second. They come in so fast that they literally sneak past the fuses.

Arrestors for the secondary electrical surges are available to cut chances of loss, according to the power companies. Two types are generally used — gap type and capacitor type. The capacitor type offers more complete protection but is also more expensive.

It is suggested that it's a good idea to check the ground for your electrical system. Chances for damage through electrical surges are cut if the ground system is good.

But, points out Richard Pfister, Agricultural Engineering Specialists, these arrestors are not a substitute for a good lighting protection system. A lightning rod system is needed to protect against direct lightning hits or primary surges. The arrestors can help avoid appliance damage, however, from the secondary surges.

Dundee Will Soon Get Dial Phones, Company Reports

General Telephone has recently completed negotiations for the purchase of property in Dundee as the first step in bringing dial phone service there announced D. W. Clark, District Manager for General Telephone.

The Van Nest property will be the site for the new dial exchange office in Dundee, requiring an investment of over $43,000.

The new "step by step" automatic dial switching equipment to be installed will require close to $110,000. Over $25,000 will be expended for outside telephone equipment.

Clark said that construction of the building should begin July 1 and be completed by the end of the year.

Cape Canaveral? Nope, just the start of a tower for Boysville's new 50,000 gallon water tank, reports Brother John Lavelle. He adds that Brothers of Holy Cross, who operate the school,are able to make such capital improvements with private donations and allocations made by the Archdiocesan Fund, which is now in its annual drive for funds.

Monthly News

A message from Ralph Hodges, "Your Pharmacist"

"DOOR-TO-DOOR PEDDLING OF DRUGS, VITAMINS AND OTHER MEDICINES will be outlawed by the New York City Board of Health" said D. Roscoe P. Kandle, Commissioner of the Department of Health.

DR. KANDLE SAID: "Many door-to-door peddlers make wild, irresponsible and fraudulent claims about the diseases their products will prevent or cure. The courts have forbidden such claims, but the individual peddlers make such claims orally."

ANOTHER SOURCE OF GREAT DANGER IS THEIR SALE OF FOOD SUPPLEMENTS, most of which have little value. Because potent vitamins, which can accomplish much good, are regulated by law for sale in a pharmacy under professional supervision, many opportunists skirt the law by calling them foods. To do this the strength is so reduced that results are negligible. Yet, the prices they charge are usually much higher.

THERE IS NO REASON FOR ANYONE TO GAMBLE WITH THEIR HEALTH. Our desire to protect and keep our good professional reputation is your assurance that your health will always be our foremost consideration. The products we supply will always be dependable and fairly priced. In this competitive age, no one can sell for less and give equal value or quality.

When he wants to speed up or slow down, he feels the quick answers of the smoothest transmissions of all . . . (only Buick combines Twin Turbine* or Triple Turbine* transmission smoothness with Wildcat getaway).

But why not find out for yourself? This car's quietness of motion. Its comfort of roominess and ride. Its willingness to do exactly what you wish of it.

Michigan Week Success Depends on Planning

Success of Michigan Week, May 17-23, will depend on how well planning is carried out by local committees in every community and county of the state.

The first job to do, is completion of committees by county and community chairmen, then formulation of programs for every day of Michigan Week, followed by proper supervision of committees by their chairmen to see that programs are carried through successfully.

Many programs of varied nature can be carried on to observe these days and call attention to Michigan Products — theme of Michigan Week this year.

Main objectives of Michigan Week:

1. To advance the economic and social progress of Michigan through every practical means;

2. To promote among Michigan residents and people of the United States a better understanding of the advantages Michigan offers as a place for living, working, recreation and carrying on a business or industry, and

3. To get all Michigan people working together to make Michigan a better place to provide these advantages of living and working.

4. Michigan Week is a time to focus attention on Michigan's resources, its heritage, its culture, its many opportunities, and for its citizens to increase their knowledge and appreciation of the great state in which they live.

Sow Alfalfa After Wheat Is Harvested

Michigan farmers will be further ahead to hold off planting alfalfa on wheat land until the grain is harvested.

That's the opinion of M. B. Tesar, farm crops scientist at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

Tesar explains that good farmers use 30 to 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre to get high yields of wheat. But the shade produced by the heavy growth of wheat usually kills the alfalfa.

Rather than cutting down on the nitrogen, the Experiment Station scientist recommends seeding the alfalfa in late summer.

Plow or disk the wheat stubble right after combining and prepare the soil for seeding as soon as possible in late July or early August.

With band seeding and the use of a cultipacker or press wheels, alfalfa seedings made up to the last of August will usually be better than seedings made in the spring in the wheat.

Earlier seedings made in late July will go through the winter better and will turn in a bigger crop the following year, Tesar's research shows.

IS REPENTANCE NECESSARY?

"And the times of this ignorance God Winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent" (Acts 17:30).

If one thought is stressed above another in both the Old and New Testaments, it is the need for repentance. "Therefore turn thou to thy God . . . " (Hosea 12:6) is the burden of the message of God's prophets in the Old Testament; "Repent or perish . . . " (Luke 13:3) is the cry of God's Son in the New. Yet it is difficult to get men to see the necessity of repentance.

This difficulty stems in part from man's reluctance to admit that he is a sinner. He had rather justify himself for his sinful acts than repent and seek forgiveness. Recnogition of the fact that one has sinned is a very important part of repentance. One great difference between a Christian and a sinner is th fact that the Christian realizes that he is a sinner. It was only after Peter confssed, "I am a sinful man," that the Lord promised to make him a fisher of men (Luke 5:8-10).

Repentance may be divided into three parts:

1. Intellectual aspect: We must recognize that we are sinners (1 John 1:8-10).

2. Emotional aspect: We must be sorry for sin (2 Corinthians 7:10).

3. Velitional aspect: We must want to do something about it (Luke 15:18).

"One-stop banking is so convenient!"

More and more families are saving time by taking care of all their financial matters at one place — our bank. For example, the lady of the house stops at one window to deposit her husband's salary check in their joint checking account and to cash a check for the week's household expenses. At another window, she makes a deposit in her savings account; and, a few steps away, she pays the monthly instalment on a personal loan. Then she goes to a safe deposit box and stores away the U. S. Savings Bond her husband received under the payroll deduction plan. 5 financial transactions have been taken care of under one roof, all with a minimum of time and effort.

There are dozens of ways our bank can help you with your money matters, any one of which is your passport to all the others. We most cordially invite you to do all your banking business with us.

SAVE EXTRA CALLS

At COOK ELECTRIC we have noticed that some people will have just that particular worn-out tube replaced which is causing the immediate trouble. They feel that at a later date when something else goes wrong, they can call you back for further service. Naturally, at the moment this is the least costly. However, it has been shown by national statistics on many thousands of sets, that if a complete preventive maintenance were made at once, the future calls would be prevented, and the total cost would be considerably less.

Electronic parts wear out. They don't wear out at the same time, but you can be sure that they will follow each other very consistently. A smart driver of an automobile will replace four tires on a car at once. He knows that the trouble he's having with one will be followed soon with the others. In the long run you save time and the extra expense of additional service calls.

Phone 692-J next time and let us explain this further to your complete satisfaction.

THE Long & Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

Looks as though the Little Minds of Richmond, Mich. have won another round.

Richmond is a community of 2,400 in northern Macomb county.

It popped into the news recently when the Little Minds got all hot and bothered because the superintendent of schools there had invited Walter Reuther to address the graduation class this spring.

The hubbub grew so loudly about the possibility of Mr. Reuther coming that he finally said he would decline the invitation.

We all know Walter. My thoughts about the man would not catapult him into any hall of fame.

But the point of the matter is he is a world-famous figure, whether we like what he advocates or not.

His thoughts affect the lives of almost every American.

To hear him speak in person, no matter what he says, would be a rare opportunity.

This is America where we daily hear great variances of thought. It's our job — starting from a foundation of honesty and obedience to God's Laws — to evaluate opinions of others.

We have to regard them objectively, weigh the good and bad.

When we can't come up with a firm mental evaluation, we should turn for aid to someone whom we both respect and know is a clear thinker.

But the Little Minds in Richmond aren't buying this.

Just as they have refused, over the years, to buy better schools for their children. They didn't buy for one reason — anything that meant spending money should be avoided at all costs.

I know Richmond pretty well. I've met and visited on several occasions with Alex Nelson, the superintendents of schools, who intially invited Reuther as the commencement speaker.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Alex Nelson is a capable administrator. His greatest burden is the antiquated building used for the district's high school pupils.

This structure is nothing short of a crime.

Over the years, the superintendent and school board have tried to float bond issues for a new school. They have sought consolidation with nearby districts so that the combined property valuation would spread out individual school assessments and be a hardship to none.

But always the Little Minds organized and broke the back of these efforts.

Last fall, the new school was voted on again, but in a most unusual manner: Richmond would get a building, but there would be no increase in the 13 mills total school taxation!

This freak was made possible because a five-mill bond will have run its course by next spring. An exact replacement was put up and OKed. This will be used for the new construction and will not up present school taxes.

The school is supposed to take care of 600 children, cost $950,000, including furnishings — which may or may not be a pipe dream.

But the point is this: only by showing the Little Minds they wouldn't have to spend another red cent, would they consider OKing a new high school.

I've been all through the present Richmond building and it is truly a pitiful sight — but the Little Minds could have gone on for years without the hint of a change.

It's a stark tragedy, this attitude of the Little Minds.

Now some other things have been happening in Richmond of late and I'm not saying that it definitely is a result of this type of thinking, but it darn well could have been.

Within the past 60 days, Richmond has seen two industries, which together employed almost 200, close their doors.

Maybe the Little Minds played no part in helping ease these plants out of Richmond, but I'll wager that their lousy attitude towards everything progressive had its deadly effect on people responsible for the firms operating in that town.

Pessimistic, small, picayune, sore-headed, penny-pinching people, like the Little Minds, will poison the whole atmosphere about a community.

All of this should help you draw some definite conclusions.

Our city isn't perfect, but the folks in it are working toward that goal.

We have a zest for life in Tecumseh, we know the joy of improvement, of growth, of getting better each day, each week, each month.

Let us never lose that.

Let us never become a city of Little Minds.

33-Year-Old Father of Two Dies in Wreck

Excessive speed resulted in the fatal auto accident that claimed the life of Gerald L. Andrews, 33-year-old, of 4151 Haviland Drive Saturday at 2:25 a.m.

He was traveling south on Occidental Highway when his car went out of control.

It left the highway on the left side and rolled both endwise and sidewise before striking a tree.

Mr. Andrews was thrown from the auto and received fatal head injuries.

The accident occurred three-tenths of a mile south of Gady Rd, state Blissfield state police who made the investigation.

He was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital where he was found dead on arrival.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Andrews was born March 6, 1926, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Andrews.

He was employed as an inspection foreman by the Tecumseh Products Co.

Mr. Andrews is survived by his wife, Clara Belle; his father, Harry Andrews; two sons, Ronald and Michael at home; a brother, Harold and a sister, Mrs. Betty Butler.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home and burial was in Pleasant View cemetery at Blissfield.

CONALRAD Radio Test Is Friday

A full-scale test of Civil Defense CONALRAD radio communications will be made Friday.

From 11:30 a.m. until noon, all radio and television will be off the air.

In their place, the two CONALRAD stations at 640 and 1240 on the AM band will be broadcasting.

Another phase of CD tests will take place May 11 and 12 when five Michigan cities will receive simulated bombings. Other communities, including Tecumseh, will be serving as reception areas.

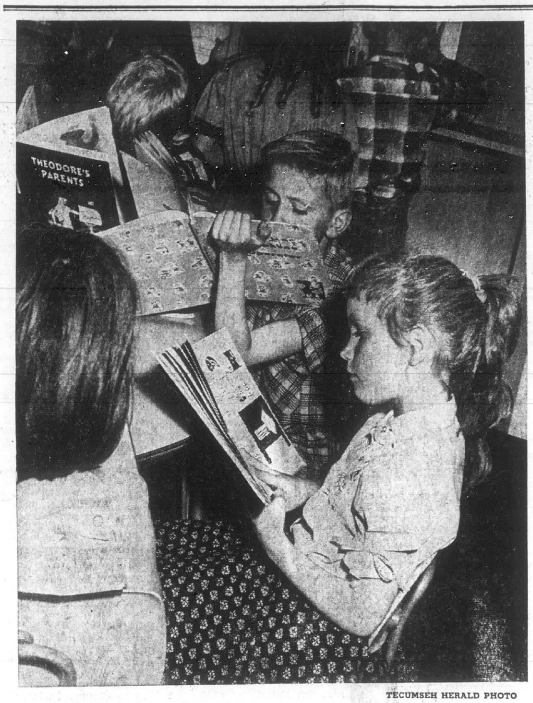
JUST LOOK, exclaims Linda Tilton to Tipton school classmate Dianne Piercy as they view door prizes for Saturday's Mardi Gras. Student selling most tickets wins a transistor radio. Fun starts at 3 p.m., concludes with a dance until 11.



TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

FREE READING time at Tipton school library is enjoyed by a trio of first graders, John Ruttofsky (hidden behind "Theodore's Parents"), Tim Stratton and Martha Osburn. We had planned to run a complete story of library facilities in district schools, but lack of space has altered this schedule. The article and pictures will appear next week.

Benefit Is Sunday

This Sunday the Tecumseh Music Club is sponsoring a Benefit Musicale for Sharron Muhn in the Baptist Youth House at 4 p.m.

Receipts will help pay for her travel expenses when she tours with the Michigan Chorale this coming summer through Ireland, the British Isles, Germany, Holland, Belgium, Denmark and Finland.

Tickets for the program will be on sale at the door for $1 person.

The group leaves June 24 by air for Shannon, Ireland. There they will remain four days to do final rehearsal polishing for seven hours each day.

The Chorale will have a concert repertoire of 40 choral works, each of which must be memorized perfectly.

Sharron says that as of now she has about 20 memorized and is well acquainted with the other 20.

To accomplish this difficult memory task, Chorale members are required to learn their part in an assigned number of choruses each week on their own, in addition to the rehearsal time every Saturday night in Ann Arbor.

While in Wales, the Chorale will compete in a world-wide vocal festival.

Members of the group will live with families wherever they stay a few days.

Among the many concerts which will be performed in the Michigan area this spring to raise funds for the trip, is an unprecedented concert from the Burton Memorial Carillon Tower on the University of Michigan campus Sunday morning, April 26, at 8:15 a.m.

The 100 Chorale members will be arranged in two levels about 12 feet apart vertically, surrounding the bells in the top of the tower.

From this ten-story high stage, they will sing, accompanied by carillon bells.

Displays in Stores Tell Library Story

As part of National Library Week a poster contest was held in the junior high school art classes.

Books were awarded as prizes to Michael Rice, first prize and Nelson Renner, second prize. Mrs. Laine Holden and Mrs. Richard Preston acted as judges.

Featured downtown for the week are exhibits from the Public Library.

Green's Men's and Boys' Wear window contains books, record's, pictures and magazines as a sample of things that can be borrowed from the Public Library.

Bea Rings Gift Shop has a display of handiwork from Mexico and books suggesting the idea of traveling with books.

Our heritage is featured in Cal's Tog Shop. Included in the display are many interesting historical items of Tecumseh.

The first edition of the first newspaper in Tecumseh; records of the Town Meetings of 1828; the roster of men who served in the Black Hawk War in 1832; and the minutes of the meeting of the lyceum of 1836 are shown.

The Book Fair and Art Show will climax the week. Both new and second-hand books will be sold at the Methodist Church on Friday and Saturday.

Russell Steinke and other local artists will display their work.

Another feature of the week will be two fine-free days on April 17 and 18.

No person will be charged for an over-due book on either of those two dates,

Britton Registers Kindergarteners for Coming Year

Britton-Macon school will hold kindergarten pre-registration, Wednesday, April 29 from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The children that are ready for kindergarten must have reached the age of five years by December 1, 1959.

Parents should consider seriously of children whose birthdays are later than September 1, 1959. Many children that are three months younger are slow to adjust to school.

It is better if they have reached the age of five by September 1.

Parents must bring the child's birth certificate.

"We wish to extend an invitation to the parents to bring your child in to pre-registration with you", states superintendent Russ Spaulding. "Feel free to contact the school for further details."

This registration is important at this time because of scheduling problems, transportation problems and organizing the kindergarten program for the coming year.

State Changing License Bureau Manager in City

A new manager for Tecumseh's license plate bureau will be named in two or three weeks, a state official told The Herald Wednesday noon.

James M. Artman, who has handled the job in Tecumseh since January 1959, was notified by mail last week that he was being relieved.

A secretary of state auditor checked out his books Tuesday morning and reported everything in order.

John F. Dodge, assistant secretary of state in charge of branch offices, explained in a telephone interview that within the past nine months management in 25 branch offices has been changed.

This has been done in an effort to increase economy to taxpayers and the efficiency of operation, Mr. Dodge explained.

Mr. Dodge emphasized that at no time was Mr. Artman's honesty or handling of funds questioned.

At least three persons are being considered for the manager post here. When one is seelcted, the office in Tecumseh will be re-opened.

Between selling car tags, collecting sales tax on used and new auto transactions and transferring titles, about $100,000 passes through the Tecumseh bureau.

The manager works on a fee basis and last year, reports Mr. Dodge, the gross profit here was $3,200.

Teens Go Broadway

By MARY SEAGER

This year's Tecumseh high school play embodies several firsts in its production.

"Mrs. McThing", a comedy, will be produced on the Strand Theater stage making this the first "legitimate" theater production put on by Tecumseh high school students.

This also is the first time that the roles in the cast were opened to the whole school.

It is directed by John Babcock. "Mrs. McThing" was a successful Broadway stage play with Helen Hayes in the title role.

High school students who are able to present tickets to their fifth-hour teachers will be allowed to go to the matinee.

For adults, tickets may be obtained either at the door or from a junior class member. Prices are 50c for students and 75c for adults.

Tecumseh police arrested Jay Campbell, 50, of Tecumseh, Friday and booked him in the county jail on a drunk and disorderly charge. He pleaded guilty before Justice Paul Betz and was ordered to pay a $20 fine and $4.90 costs.

Kenneth Evatt of Michigan Center, was arrested by Tecumseh police and turned over to military authorities. He was AWOL from the Army.

Summons issued the past week for violations are:

Nancy Ann Anderson, Clarks Lake, driving with expired operators license.

Gilbert Sanchez, Blissfield, exceeding 60 miles per hour in a 25 mph zone.

Regina Moror, 3542 Murray Dr., stop sign violation.

One minor accident occurred this week when Mrs. Wilhelmin Oswald, 135 Brown St., backed out of her driveway into a city truck. Damage to the rear right fender of the Oswald car was minor.

Sweet Tooth Time at Western Auto

Youth of the Methodist Church decided upon a money-making project last week that should please all Tecumseh residents, young and old.

They will hold a candy sale in the Western Auto Store Saturday at 10 a.m. when all kinds of fudge including chocolate, peanut butter, million dollar, penuche and divinity will be available.

Brownies will be the speciality of the sale.

President Margaret Harris said Tuesday that the group would like to realize enough money from the project to fill a "paint can" with which they hope to winterize the Methodist Judson Collins camp at Wamplers Lake.

School Board Delays Action on Annexation

Tecumseh school board delayed taking any action Monday night on informal requests by Raisin Center to be annexed to the school district.

Supt. James McDowell reported that he had been approached and in turn had suggested that the representatives contact the Adrian board.

Local members discussed the additional transportation cost in handling school children from that area. The township has a state equalized tax evaluation of less than $500,000.

☆

THE CITY'S request to turn over six acres near the Patterson school into a park was approved, providing the city maintain it. The school is not using the land at the present.

Welfare labor will be used to clean up the land, according to Supt. McDowell, and tables and grills installed.

In other action, the school board approved paying the Tecumseh bank $50,000 on a debt accumulated when state aid was not received.

Door prizes for Tecumseh Acres "Fun Night" April 25, are viewed by Gary Hall, a fifth grader. The Little Injun Kit was donated by Clinton Engines Corp. and includes a 2½ horse power motor. Other prizes were accumulated by students collecting Top Value stamps. They acquired a desk lamp, utility table, one gallon picnic jug and several smaller prizes. "Fun Night" was planned for all the family with pre-kindergarten children admitted free.

Lots of Chairmen

Tecumseh's Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up campaign should reach into every home, business, street, factory, school church and vacant lot.

Merchants are being asked to feature the theme in their advertising, to offer some special bargains in paint and garden tools during Clean-Up day, May 17-18.

At a luncheon meeting last week Chamber of Commerce secretary Don Murphy outlined the program for community betterment.

"We have a beautiful town," he said, "but every one of us knows of hundreds of ways in which we could make it better." Chairman Bill Sage will be assisted by chairmen in such varied aspects of the campaign as merchants, industrial, churches, contest, service stations, gardens, schools, service clubs and publicity.

Special attention will be given to the improvement and appearance to the rear entrances of places of business.

A speakers bureau will be established to provide information to community groups concerning the program. Arrangements may be made by phoning 694.

Mayor H. H. Hanna is honorary chairman of the campaign.

Someone overheard him say recently, "Our city is alive and growing, a good city and we are proud of it. That's why all of our citizens will be eager to lend a hand in the Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Campaign May 17-28."

Wins at Bridge

Mrs. Clarence Champanois won top award at the Country Club bridge luncheon Wednesday and Mrs. Lynn Hubbard took second.

Table prizes were awarded to Mrs. Frank Rice, Mrs. Fred C. Dickinson, Mrs. C. F. Sage, Mrs. Ed Boss, Mrs. Donald Nixon and Mrs. William Allen.

Leo Bishop presented color movies for the luncheon, April 15, when Mrs. P. G. Colgrove and Mrs. Nixon were hostesses.

Britton Schools Seek Two Mills

Voters in the Britton-Macon school district will be asked to add two mills to operating expenses at the July 13 election.

The measure was decided upon at the school board meeting last week.

"This amount of increase meets the minimum requirements of the school program we now have in operation," according to superintendent Russell Spaulding.

The board adopted a budget for next year of $104,269.60.

Further action was taken to assist the cafeteria financially with the purchase of a new food mixer.

The board also expected George and Albert Wielfaert's offer to purchase the Prairie school site and transactions for this sale are now in progress.

He was born in Ridgeway township on May 5, 1864, the son of Wesley and Eliza Davidson Sanford. He was engaged in farming all of his life.

On June 16, 1910, Mr. Sanford married Mabel Mills, who preceded him in death in 1936.

He also was preceded in death by a son, two sisters and two grandchildren.

Members of the Clean-Up Week publicity committee meet for breakfast at Don's Grill Friday to discuss potential promotion for the event, announces Chairman the Rev. Jim Nixon.

Firemen Follow People

The Father and Son Banquet last Wednesday night at the Methodist Church saw a fresh twist on an old problem.

The firemen followed the people where they were going.

Toastmaster Aden Mead presented Tecumseh volunteer firemen John Hamilton and Ivan Maynard to the roomful of men and boys who had been served dinner by the Woman's Society ff Christian Service.

Mr. Hamilton told of the beginnings of the local department in 1878. In those days the men pulled the carts.

Their pay was 25c for the first hour and 15c per hour thereafter, "with no pay for false alarms" said Mr. Hamilton.

He also related how at the turn of the Century the department was almost disbanded over a conflict with the city council. This drew a chuckle for Mr. Hamilton is a councilman, too.

☆

PARKED OUTSIDE the church was the newest and finest of our fire trucks, and the emergency station wagon.

The portable generator was demonstrated, flooding the room with 1,500-watts of light at the same time that an exhaust fan and a power saw were being operated from their emergency power source.

Other equipment displayed included inhalator, fire extinguishers, gas main equipment, and a special metal-cutting saw.

The new power jack for prying open doors and smashed autos was explained. Ivan Maynard related some interesting experiences as relief driver.

It is obvious that Tecumseh has the finest equipment and personnel that could be asked for.

☆

GIVING THE toast to the fathers and toast to the sons was the team of Gerry and Earl Greene.

Gerald Janousek led group singing. Robert Wood, president of Methodist Men, presented the toastmaster, Mr. Mead, and the pastor, the Rev. Jim Nixon, who pronounced the invocation and benediction.

—o—

Plans were completed for the rummage srale for Friday and Saturday at the meeting of the Josephine H. Hall Temple, Pythian Sisters last Wednesday when 20 members were present.

MUST I CONFESS CHRIST?

About nineteen hundred years ago two men were riding along discussing a certain passage of Scripture. One of the men was a Christian, and the other was a man from Ethiopia who had been to Jerusalem to worship. As they rode the Christian preached Jesus Christ to the Ethiopian. Soon they came to a certain water and the Ethiopian asked to be baptized. The Christian replied: "If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest." It was then that the man made the grand confession that Jesus Christ is the Son of God." (Acts 8:37).

Paul tells everyone what part confession plays in salvation when he says, "That if thou confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation" (Romans 10:9-10).

Christ tells us why confession is important when he says, "Every one therefore who shall confess me before men, him will I also confess before my Father who is in heaven" (Matthew 10:32).

Won't you believe in Jesus (John 14:1), repent of past sins (Acts 2:38), confess Jesus before men (Romans 10:9-10), and be baptized into Christ for the remission of sins (Acts 2:38). If you will you have The Lord's promise of adding you to his church (Acts 2:47).

"DX-ERS"

The next time you see an antenna system that spreads out over a roof top like the frame work of a giant umbrella, you'll know that the occupant is a 'dx-er'. It's the new sport of trying to receive as many TV stations as your patience can stand. One Dx-er has a record of 259 and over 200 is not unusual.

You need a good TV set and enough antenna to pick-up every TV signal, no matter how faint. These distant signals, some are from four to five thousand miles away, are dependent on being received as they bounce off electronic hazards such as sun spots, ionized areas caused by storms, mountain tops and even high flying airplanes. So, you need plenty of patience for this indoor sport.

However, if you just want continuous, good reception from our several area TV stations, phone 692-J. The COOK ELECTRIC will assure you the kind of service that is not one of chance. We guarantee our results as your neighbor knows. Ask him, today.

SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE HERALD!

Don't Jump at 'Bargains'

Don't be too quick to jump at "bargains" offered by transient peddlers — no matter how good the deal may at first sound.

In just a few days time, complaints about two different out-of-town sales efforts have reached The Herald. Maybe it's the spring weather which prompts re-newed activity on this front.

Actually, this is a serious matter and we really shouldn't react with levity.

Last week, we reported in a news story the telephone deal being operated by some magazine people, who tell householders they're with a service representing Life and Look magazines.

The Chamber of Commerce refused the group a permit to solicit here, but it went into operation anyway.

According to the women doing the phoning, gifts subscriptions for three magazines over a three-year period are being "given away."

Then they add, just sign up for Life and Look for 42c a week for 156 weeks and you'll receive the gifts.

This comes to a total of $65.52 and the part about giving subscriptions "entirely at our expense" is obviously phoney.

In checking, we find a perfectly legitimate magazine subscription outlet in Tecumseh will send you the identical setup for exactly $48.65 a difference of almost $17!

The other out-of-town enterprise is a well-known brush company, whose representative starts his campaign by passing out catalogs of his firm's merchandise.

Three days later he returns and asks the housewife for her order. If she buys, fine. If she says she doesn't need anything, he says, "Would you please give me back my catalog?"

In eight out of 10 cases, should she be uninterested, she'll have tossed the advertising piece out.

Human nature being what it is, the housewife suddenly is embarrased — and that's exactly what the salesman wants. If he can't close his effort with a customer wanting to buy, he'll settle for this latter method.

Although she is perfectly free to do whatever she likes with the catalog, since after all it had been given to her, many women will feel they should order something because the booklet was ditched.

And you wonder why the Chamber of Commerce and your hometown newspaper continually caution citizens about dealing with outsiders.

You know yourself that no Tecumseh merchant would dare use such questionable techniques. He wouldn't be in business long.

It pays — in more ways than one — to do your shopping where you know the merchant. We can recommend without question the folks operating stores in Tecumseh.

Tips for Dress Care

Along with newer manmade fibers, you'll find many spring dresses made from rayons and acetates.

Though these fibers have been around for some time, clothing specialists at Michigan State University point out that manufacturers have improved them.

Finishes now make them wrinkle-resistant and easier to care for.

Cleaning methods for rayons and acetates depend upon fabric weave and garment construction. Rayon broadcloth, for instance, may wash well. But a rayon crepe may need drycleaning.

Some sturdy, well-constructed rayon and acetate fabrics can be machine washed. Use plenty of water and a short wash time. Long soaking and washing weaken the fibers.

☆

SHEERS AND loosely-woven or knitted garments deserve hand washing in warm—not hot—water. It's best to keep white and colored things separate.

If washing leaves a rayon dress limp, maype plain granulated gelatin can help. Add two tablespoons of gelatin (first soften and dissolve in water) to the rinse water.

Sturdy fabrics can be dried in the drier at low heat, but they should be damp-dried only. Other garments can be rolled in a turkish towel to knead out excess moisture.

Unroll at once, since colored fabrics, especially prints, may streak.

Rayons and acetates should be ironed right after washing, if possible. Warm iron is the rule for acetates. Rayons can take a higher temperature.

Press first on the wrong side. Then use a press cloth to prevent shine as you touch up pockets and collars from the right side.

Election of officers will be held at the May meeting.

Trio from Area Spend Two Days at College

KANKAKEE, Illinois — Carol Hamann, of Britton, Sharon Lawhead, 515 E. Russell Rd., Tecumseh and Richard Vaughn, rural Tecumseh were members of a motorcade that visited the Olivet Nazarene College last week.

They were among approximately 100 high school juniors and seniors.

The guests of the college attended a Thursday evening outing and an evening of devotion and entertainment.

Friday morning was spent on a campus tour and in conferences with college officials regarding the academic program.

Olivet Nazarene College is one of six liberal arts colleges in the United States owned and operated by the Church of the Nazarene. Its student body of approximately 1,000 comes from 26 states and six foreign countries.

The college has recently launched a ten-year development campaign to add facilities for an additional 500 students.

It plans to add two dormitories, a science building, a fine arts building, and a student union building at an approximate cost of $3,000,000.

Dog Training Through July 15

Dog owners are reminded that the annual "closed season" on dog training is in effect throughout Michigan from now until July 15.

This restriction is designed to protect newly-born game animals and nesting birds.

From July 15 to April 15, dogs may be trained between the hours of sunrise and sunset on birds and animals that may be lawfully hunted with dogs.

Dogs may be trained at any time from August 15 to the opening of raccoon season in October.

Owners may use only pistols or revolvers with blank cartridges while taking their dogs on these outings.

Some light on a dark subject

Ever wonder why some pills come in clear, transparent bottles, while others hide behind brown or dark-green glass? It's no accident, but by design. Why . . . ? Simple daylight can reduce the potency of some medications. Consider how sunshine fades a rayon print, for instance. Thus, where needed, we use dark bottles, not to hide anything, but to preserve the medical effectiveness of the drug your physician prescribed for you. This is but one of many precautionary measures that are taken to provide you with the best in pharmaceutical service.

Hog Price Picture Looks Bright for '59

The hog price picture looks other than bright.

That's the opinion of John Ferris, extension farm economist at Michigan State University.

By next October slaughter prices on 200-220 pound barrows and gilts will be around the $14 level, the economist predicts.

The reason behind the expected decline is hogs, hogs and more hogs, Ferris explains.

About 10% more sows are to farrow this spring over last spring and 9% more are expected to farrow in June through August, according to pig crop reports.

Add these increases to the large pig crop of last fall and you come out with the reason for the downward pressure on hog prices. Ferris expects the pressure to continue through much of April with some upward movement to a mid-year peak in June.

The increase in the early spring pig crop will likely bring prices down some in August and September with further decline in fall months, the economist thinks. Generally, prices this fall will average about $4 under a year ago, Ferris says.

Profits will still be about average this year. But continued increases in pig numbers could spell real price trouble for 1960, the economist adds.

DESERTION

Such ingrates. All winter long we worried and fretted about their well being. No matter how adverse the weather was, we tried to keep the bird feeding stations well stocked.

Each day usually facing a biting cold north wind, Mom, Dad or Gramps made their way through deep snow drifts or across dangerously slippery ice, through heavy snow falls, cold wet rain or even needle-sharp sleet storms to the trays with fresh supplies.

We thought the birds appreciated it—at least all winter our feeders were busy, busy, busy.

Oh, how we enjoyed all the activity.

Short blunt Nuthatches, came head first down the suet post and used their long narrow bills to pry loose bite-size bits of waxy white suet.

Dignified Cardinals, never quite so oblivious to their beauty as they pretend to be, deliberately picked the biggest and fattest sunflower seeds to dine upon.

Big, bold Blue-jays greedily gobbled everything in sight and then flew away with their mouths stuffed full.

Pert little Tufted Titmice, stylishly garbed in gray and always looking as neat as could be, systematically divided their time between suet and sunflower seeds.

☆

THE HAPPY-GO-LUCKY Black Capped Chick-a-dees cheered us with their contemptuous disregard of winter's worst.

Fat and peaceful Mourning Doves gratefully ate the corn which the big, furry squirrel left for them.

The gorgeous black, yellow and white Evening Grosbeaks afforded the thrill of the year and the amusing black-and-white Downy Woodpeckers provided the comedy.

The list could go on but you can see by this capsule version why I call it a busy winter.

Well, at last the bad weather broke and no one was happier than I when the snow and ice were gone.

With the ground once again showing, my thoughts rapidly flew to warm sunshine, green grass, shrubs and flowers in bloom and all the other things that happen when our second season comes into full glory.

However, such things take time to happen and during that in between spell, after the snow has gone, but before flowers and grass begin to appear, there was one thing which we had counted upon to brighten up the otherwise dreary window scene.

The birds.

☆

OUR COLORFUL free loaders with their bright cheeriness would see us through the dullest and drabbest days and just think, now, with the snow and ice gone, setting the bird buffet would be no trouble at all.

Suddenly however, we had no birds to provide a feast for. The snow and ice were gone but so were the birds.

For several weeks our well stocked feeding stations had hardly a "taker". Just when we were counting on them, they were gone; such ungratefulness, a fine way to repay a winter of faithful service.

Oh, the birds were still in the neighborhood; we saw them at a distance, a great distance.

Brilliant flashes of red and blue flitted through high tree tops; Nuthatches and Woodpeckers re-explored interesting tree trunks and the Juncos and Sparrows re-discovered the joys of scratching and searching on the ground.

☆

IT WAS AN exasperating time for us. The winter had spoiled us, we were in the habit of being able to look out almost anytime during the day and seeing our stations full of feathered diners.

We were simply not prepared for such a complete desertion and without birds close at hand, the view from my window was uninteresting and lifeless.

Day after day we looked out upon well-stocked feeding stations and not a bird came close enough to give us the life we had so counted upon.

Well, finally the boycott has ended; most of the birds are back and accepting our hospitality as of old.

As soon as the excitement of being able to secure food "on their own" began to fade, they drifted back to us.

Actually I suppose, after being dependent on feeding stations for so long, it was quite exciting and probably a great relief for them to fend for themselves.

AFTER a winter-long diet of feeder fare, undoubtedly Mother Nature's menu of wild and natural food seemed most tempting.

While they were away we had harsh thoughts about birds who accepted our offerings when nothing better was attainable but who, the minute something else was available, completely forgot their old stand-bys.

Today however, looking out on one feeder hosting two little Tufted Titmice and another at which Mrs. Downy Woodpecker is eating lunch, all is forgiven.

There are still gloomy days which they can cheer us through and after all, even though their desertion was complete, it was understandable and happy to say, it was short.

Show Yesterday's Styles

Pictured here is just a sample of the fascinating styles of yesteryear that will be shown April 22 at the American Legion Home when the Hospital Auxiliary will stage another top entertainment program for Tecumseh Area residents.

Mrs. Robert Onweller, whose husband is the mayor of Hudson, will bring her remarkable collection of old garments, hats, shoes, kerchiefs and handbags, as well as baby clothes, buttons and toys for the fashion showing.

Modeling the by-gone fashions will be members of the Future Nurses Club stepping out at 7:30 p.m.

This hobby of Mrs. Onweller's was inspired when her husband purchased a 1916 Studebaker about two years ago.

She became interested in the kind of clothing that went with the car and today her basement and garage are stacked with unusual items from the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

Tickets are available at Sluyters Gambles and the Chamber of Commerce.

Conservation Group Welcomes Tree Requests

Private land owners planning to order young trees for the spring planting season are urged to do so now by the Conservation Department.

Ordinarily stock is shipped from the Department's three state nurseries during the April 20-May 30 period.

However, winter's prolonged stay is expected to delay the shipping season by 8-10 days this year which, in turn, will shorten the planting season.

Shipments are made on a "first come, first serve" basis; approximately 9,000,000 young stock have already been ordered from more than 15,000,0000 placed on sale in late January.

A good supply of red pine seedlings and transplants and jack pine seedlings remain. White spruce transplants are no longer available for sale.

All applications must be submitted to the Department's forestry division, Lansing 26, on the regular stock order form. Order blanks may be obtained from the forestry division.

Chemicals Take Over on Flies

Chemicals have taken over much of the job of keeping flies down on the farm. But the key to good effective control is still preventing flies from breeding.

Entomologists at Michigan State University say to keep manure spread on the land or piled and treated during the summer when flies can breed in it.

They also recommend draining or filling low areas in yards and barns that can become excellent breeding spots for flies when filled with water.

When breeding is kept at a minimum, the insect control authorities say chemicals can do a good job of keeping the remaining flies in check. They say to use residual sprays along with baits and fly cords and space

Family Day, the time of year when The Toledo Museum of Art invites the public to see all of its activities in one visit, will be held Sunday.

About 3,000 persons from northwestern Ohio and southern Michigan are expected to see demonstrations of every activity in which the Museum engages.

It will be a sort of seven-ring cultural circus consisting of adult's and children's art classes in session; guided tours through the Museum's art collection, which ranks seventh in the nation; a special display of art recently acquired.

The Walt Disney art exhibition, The Art of Animation and a movie called "Behind the Scenes in Walt Disney's studios" will also be featured.

The University of Toledo's Rocket Choristers and the Eurydice Club will present concerts.

Colored paper hats will be given to the children.

Every activity will be open free of charge beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing until 5 p.m. The program has been arranged to permit a person to go freely from one demonstration to another at any time.

Organist Misses Injury When Limb Pierces Roof

Mrs. Stephan Illeck, organist for Gloria dei United Lutheran Church, narrowly escaped injury Thursday afternoon about 3:15 when high winds sent a huge Maple tree crashing to the ground on the west side of the church.

One limb pierced the roof and swung near the organ where Mrs. Illeck was practicing for the Sunday service.

The damage of an estimated $421 is covered by insurance. The chimney was demolished and the rear door pushed in.

Stanley Rentschler, property committee chairman for the church, enlisted the aid of council members Harry Farrell, Kenneth Hooten, Don Nettleman, Burton Wright and James Tonneberger and the group immediately cleaned up the limbs and debris, including extracting the limb which came through the roof.

Thomas Kampmueller helped to cut up the big limbs and Mrs. Kampmueller, Mr. and Mrs. Farrell and Mrs. Dennis Gollar cleaned the inside of the church.

Council Ups Tax Bite for Street Repairs

By JIM LINCOLN

Residents clamoring for street repairs undoubtedly will soon have their wish.

Council Monday night advocated an increase in millage from 10 to 11, four mills short of the 15 allowed, with the additional mill raising upwards of $17,000 for street improvements.

A hearing for the one mill is scheduled at the next council meeting, May 4.

Streets tentatively scheduled are S. Evans from Chicago Blvd. to Patterson with bituminous concrete, Maumee and Union streets, and others.

The street program will be one of the biggest undertaken here in recent years.

☆

A REQUEST to help finance maintenance of the local airstrip was made by Al Meyers, owner of the Meyers Aircraft Co. and Tecumseh airport.

Mr. Meyers stated that the community was benefiting through use of the field by business and industrial representatives calling on clients here.

Although no figures were offered as to maintenance costs, council requested that such figures be presented to city attorney James Beardsley and cleared through him and the Chamber of Commerce.

Councilmen voiced opinions favoring financial help.

☆

THE 1959-60 budget presented by city manager Ed Nelson listed anticipated income at $407,105.72 and expenditures at $401,845.

Other council action included:

Appointment of councilman Donald Purkey to serve on a committee to review trailer ordinances of other cities; acceptance of an agreement from Robert and Florence Fuller of an easement for a turn-around on Seminole St.

Making Patterson St. a one-way street, west to east, from Adrian St. to Union St.; approval of final plat of Indian Village subdivision No. 2 for contractor Wes Haeussler.

Approved tentative plat of Kerby Heights and zoning in this area from Residential A to Residential B; and the ordinance regarding permitted uses in Business A Districts was given its second reading.

Long AND Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

My wife says I'm a frustrated school teacher. And I guess she's right.

There are few things I enjoy better than getting up before a group of students and chatting — all about the weekly newspaper business.

Every so often an invitation arrives, asking if I'll meet with a journalism class.

I find myself eager to accept, even when it means I must juggle my regular work by putting in some odd hours that week.

Last Friday I was treading on Cloud 9. My entire day was spent at Wayne University, where I was a guest at three journalism classes and then afterwards visited the college daily office.

In the nearly two and one-half hours of class time I spoke about the life of a weekly newsman, the varied existance, spanning writing, editing, picture taking, ad selling, backshop toil.

There were plenty of questions, mainly I think, because these Wayne students are mostly native Detroiters and haven't the slightest idea of what small town newspapering really is.

Of course, I spoke of the joys in this field and when it came those small, but inevitable frustrating situations, I tried to pull the humor out of these unhappy occasions.

Maybe I did too well. After it was all over, Sprague Holden, head of Wayne's journalism department and a long-time Detroit Free Press and Akron Beacon-Journal staffman, confessed:

"Up until now I never had any desire to go out and get my own small weekly, but you have got me thinking."

One pretty co-ed asked how much money a journalist could expect to earn working for a weekly.

I quoted a range — which would touch the really small operations and go to the bigger weeklies. Most important, I replied, was how much they could do and how well they could do it.

"Your initiative is the greatest asset you have," I philosophized. "Using it constantly will bring financial return in direct proportion to your efforts."

Journalism students at Wayne are studying with an outstanding faculty. Only two members are full-time on the University payroll. The balance are Detroit newspaper, radio and TV folks— all of whom teach the subject which they work with every day.

Advisor to the student daily is Frank Gill, music critic for The Detroit Times.

"How do you advise a student paper?" I asked Frank.

"By not advising," he responded.

There is no censorship of The Daily Collegian and Mr. Gill only reads those stories which are voluntarily brought to him .

This technique throws almost full responsibility onto the student journalists and makes them think for themselves, which, after all, is something they'll have to do in later years as staffers on various publications.

Steinke Enters 2 Oil Paintings

Russell Steinke, 31 Red Pond South, has submitted two oil paintings in the 41st annual Toledo Area Artists Exhibition, to be held May 3 through 24, in The Toledo Museum of Art.

Judging will be Saturday and Sunday, April 17 and 18, and awards will be announced at a special preview Saturday evening, May 2.

Program Nets $103 for Sharron

A check for $103 was presented to Sharron Muhn by the Tecumseh Music Club this week.

This represented receipts from their Sunday musical program, attended by about 100 at the Baptist Youth House.

The well-rounded presentation offered considerable entertainment.

The club's "Monette", a demi-opera, was excellent, as were selections sung by its chorus.

Miss Muhn also did three numbers, displaying a talent which has won her the opportunity to tour Europe with the Michigan Chorale this summer.

Her need for expense money had prompted the Music Club to stage this benefit.

Also featured was a piano solo by Mrs. Paul Brantingham, who possesses exceptional skill.

A cellist, Lenna Uguccioni, and violinist, Frank Martinus, both of Onsted, also were on the program and played delightfully.

Les Bennett directed the chorus and helped plan the affair.

Wrong Time Causes Concern

Misinformation about the time of an accident for a story in last week's paper brought concern from several quarters.

A report on a tree slicing through the roof of the Gloria Dei Lutheran church timed the mishap at 3:15. This was the hour given The Herald.

Actually, it took place at 4:45. Why the fuss?

As you might recall, Mrs. Steve Illeck was in the church when the tree collapsed, practicing at the organ. She narrowly missed being hit by the limb.

Mrs. Illeck is the fourth grade teacher at Herrick Park school and at 3:15 is busy with her students.

Mothers and school officials wondered how come she was in the church in mid-afternoon. The answer: She wasn't.

New Eyes Will See Tecumseh

Somthing strange will happen in Tecumseh in the next few weeks as several thousand pairs of eyes will see our town for the first time.

They will carefully examine the retail business area, front and back approaches to shops and stores and restaurants.

They will look at homes, yards, garages.

They will examine the buildings which house the institutions of the community. They will look at the vacant lots and ask who owns them if they are uncared for.

☆

THE OWNERS of these eyes will not be official delegates from another community or state.

These will be the eyes of your neighbors, and your eyes. They will be the eyes of people who see their community as though for the first time.

We will be looking at ourselves in a fresh new way.

The reason: Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week will be May 17-28 in Tecumseh. As each looks at his own yard or home or place of business, he will also look again at the whole city to see the need for improvement.

We will see Tecumseh as though we had not seen her before, and we will see much to do. What will these eyes see when they look your way?

IT'S THIS SATURDAY

This Princess Is 'For Real'

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"To be a princess" is the dream of many teen-age girls.

For Sharon Burleson, an 18-year-old senior at Tecumseh high school, this wish has become a reality.

Sharon was chosen Lenawee County Dairy Princess last week, topping a field of 26 candidates. She'll now compete for State Princess honors in May.

It should be added that Sharon is a "for real" dairy princess, owning and caring for five Guernsey cattle, three of them registered.

PRINCESS Sharon with plaque she was given.

Connie Kahle of rural Britton and Anne Schroeder, rural Tecumseh, were close seconds and will serve as alternates.

From the group of 26 lovely young ladies, Miss Burleson was judged outstanding in appearance, personality, dairy background and intelligence.

Though tired from the excitement of the annual senior trip to Washington, she showed exceptional public-speaking ability in an after-dinner talk, an important part of the contest.

Sharon has lived on her parents' 88-acre farm on Pennington Rd. all of her life, has been a member of the Macon-Hurired Helpers 4-H Club for almost eight years.

This club with the Lenawee Farm Bureau sponsored her in the contest.

Besides taking her cows to the State 4-H show five times where they won champion honors, she has studied food preparation, clothing, vegetable gardening and participated in the state dairy judging eliminations twice.

These all-important animals in Sharon's life are named Beauty, Beutina, Cider, Sunbeam ("that's my baby") and Bozo, the bull. The last two have not yet been registered.

They have also taken honors at the Southeastern Parish Show, at Detroit and Lenawee County Fairs.

Miss Burleson is a busy young lady caring for the home since her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burleson, both work, helping her brother, LeRoy, with the chores and participating in many outside activities.

She is a member of the Girls Athletic Association, has been a member of the Future Homemakers and Future Nurses Clubs.

She was president of her Sunday School class and served two years as vice-president of the MYF of the Macon Methodist Church.

Last year she was chosen Homecoming Queen of her class. She maintains better than a B average in her studies and plans to enter Michigan State, University in the fall.

Besides the 86 acres they live on, the Burleson family work an additional 234 acres and LeRoy is assisted herdsman at the adjoining Broadview farm.

Leo Bishop Shows Spring Bulb Film

Leo Bishop presented a film on spring bulbs for members of the Tecumseh Garden Club and their guests, the DAR, the Little Garden Club, the Monday Club, Girl Scout Troop and the Junior Garden Club.

The meeting was held at the Episcopal Parish House with Mrs. Thomas O'Hara, Mrs. Waldo Mohr, Mrs. Paul Maves, Mrs. Hoyt Whelan and Mrs. Jean Tressler as hostesses.

George Tatar spoke on conservation and showed slides taken during his stay at Higgins Lake last year.

Mrs. Hugh Walters and Mrs. Herbert Newman will be delegates to the State Federated Garden Club convention held in St. Joseph, Mich. in May.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with spring flowers.

'Ice Age' Changed Birthday Celebration to Warmer Weather

A May Day party is planned to honor Edith Ingersoll, who celebrated birthday No. 85 in February.

Because of the "ice age" Tecumseh "enjoyed" this winter, the open house previously planned to honor the former librarian had to be cancelled.

Surely May 1 will provide pleasant weather for the many friends of Miss Ingersoll to gather at Aebersold Hostess House next Friday at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Lynn Harris, Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, Sr., Mrs. John Lott and Mrs. E. J. Aebersold are hostessing the event.

Miss Ingersoll has asked that gifts be omitted.

Gary Is Again Airman of Month

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hizer have received word that their son A/2c Gary M. Hizer has been named "Airman of the Month" for the month of March.

As a reward he got a three-day pass.

This is the second time within a year that Gary has been so honored. The first time was last May.

He is stationed in Frankfurt, Germany.

THS Thespians Score with 'Mrs. McThing'

By MARY SEAGER

"Mrs. McThing" was presented by Tecumseh high school thespians in two performances at the Strand Theater Tuesday.

A difficult play, due to the abrupt changes from comedy to seriousness, two complete changes of scenery are necessary.

The Tecumseh group did it capably. There were no tilting flats and no glaring mistakes in interpretation.

Judy Truesdale, a junior, did a good job with the difficult lead role, Mrs. LaRue. She seemed completely at home with the society matron's mannerisms.

Donna Parrett as the eldest old maid, Eva Lewis, had her characterization clearly in mind and handled her wayward sisters, Donna Nixon and Jane Crawford, with authority.

Mike Cook, an eighth grader, was alternately a perfect gentleman and a spoiled brat. He did well with a difficult part.

The hilarious cook, Jean Wagner, was believeable as a hash-slinger who played the piano.

Dick Solarski as Stincker and Carol Spangler as Mrs. Shellenbach stole the show when they were on stage. Their interpretations of a gangster and an overbearing mother were perfect.

Mary Alice Stutesman, a freshman, gave a convincing portrayal of Mimi, Mrs. McThing's daughter.

Well-organized committees and able direction on John Babcock's part made the show run smoothly.A vote of thanks should go to these people and especially to Walt Nichols, manager of the Strand Theater, for his cooperation.

German Shepherd 'Lance of Myers' Wins at Show

Lance of Myers, a black-and-tan German Shepherd, totaled 195 out of a possible 200 points to take first place in his field at the Midwest K-9 Club Obedience Dog Show in Detroit April 9.

Owned by Cap W. Orr of 212 N. Union St., the canine topped a field of 35 dogs. He was handled by a professional, Harry Hunt, of Flat Rock.

Templeton Now Incorporated

Templeton Construction is now a corporation.

Necessary filing was completed recently, changing it over from a proprietorship.

Ted Templeton, its owner, has been building in Tecumseh for two years. His work includes the Indian Hills subdivision.

Fence-Moving Time

Tecumseh FFA boys are taking part in the community clean-up program by cooperating with the high school in the spring clean-up activities.

Each year the boys try to do at least one activity along this line and it is a part of their program of work.

The one just completed was tearing down the fence on the south side of the school and setting it up again on the east side.

All of the agriculture classes took part in the activity which took a day to complete.

At one time during the work some of the boys were tearing down the fence, others were putting it up in the new location, and still more had already begun to paint.

The boys used a portable motor generator to operate a saw to level up the top of the fence after it was assembled.

In the near future, shrubs will be planted along the fence to help beautify the school grounds.

Paul Burns, the agriculture instructor, said he received many compliments for their business like manner in which the youths worked on the project.

By LILLIAN LUCE

The Methodist Church at Macon was the scene of a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening when Phyllis Jean Robison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Robison of Saline, became the bride of Ronald Roe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roe of Tipton.

The church organist presented a prelude of nuptial selections as the guests were seated by Charles Robison, brother of the bride and Richard Roe, brother of the groom.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She chose a ballerina length dress of pink chiffon over net styled with embroidered bodice and accented with a low neckline and puffed sleeves.

She wore a pink pearl necklace and pink leaf clip hat scattered with white seed pearls. Her corsage was white orchids tipped with pink.

Sandra Smith, the brides only attendant, wore an off white fitted dress and a corsage of pink rosettes.

The grooms attendant was Thomas Harrison.

There was a great bustle of activity in the city this weekend with the M & M Show, the junior high band concert, the Herrick Park card party, Mardi Gras, at Tipton, the Music Club concert on Sunday and the Mother-Daughter banquet Monday evening.

All were successful events contributing to happy living in the "biggest little town on earth."

Parents and friends were amazed with the progress of seventh and eighth grade students when they played under Don Johnson's direction Friday evening.

One father said, "These are our kids? Why, they aren't kids anymore. They will make a music lover of me yet."

The seventh grade's rendition of "Junior Jumps" coaxed foot taping from the audience and the eighth grade created reminiscence with the strains of "Deep Purple."

Students and director are to be congratulated for a well-rounded program, ably presented.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editors:

As you know, April is Cancer Control Month — and Lenawee County's quota is $12,500.00.

Funds raised during the Cancer Crusade are used to carry on the program of EDUCATION, SERVICE AND RESEARCH, to find what caused Cancer, to find new ways to cure it, to find ways to prevent it and to alleviate pain and suffering. Each year the number of lives saved has been raised from only one in seven before the war to one out of every three saved in 1958. Physicians agree that early diagnosis and prompt treatment could cut the figure to one in every two.

Guard your family—Fight Cancer with a check-up and a check.

Mail your organization contribution now, to the Lenawee County Unit. Make your check payable to "Cancer". We thank you in advance for your generous contribution.

Dear Editors:

Thank you so much for sending me the paper I asked for. I thoroughly enjoyed reading it but there were so few names I recognized, not surprising after 27 years' absence.

I was amazed though at the growth of Tecumseh in that time, I don't suppose we would recognize the place at all.

With every good wish,
Sincerely,

P.S. I still have a few books of poetry left if anyone should inquire. The Birth of Scouting at $1.25—or if a group would take 5 or more copies (thus saving the exchange on several small cheques) I'd sell them for a dollar each. The title is misleading —there are 77 poems on every kind of subject but as the proceeds are for the Scouts I wrote a theme poem to give the book its title.

78 Attend Monday Club

Mrs. John Dawson, wife of Dr. John Dawson, president of Adrian College, was speaker at the spring luncheon of the Monday Club last week.

She was introduced by Mrs. R. W. Herrick and used as her topic, "Pie a La Mode."

Seventy-eight members and guests were served a three-course luncheon by ladies of the First Baptist church, where the meeting was held in the Youth House.

Potted daffodils and candles were used for table decorations by Mary McWilliams and Mrs. Herbert Murphy.

A large basket of sweet peas, a gift of the officers to their president, Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, centered the speakers table.

Mrs. Waldron presented each retiring officer with a small token.

☆

DURING THE business session Mrs. Roland Mohr was welcomed to the membership. Mrs. Waldron gave a report of the State Federation meeting that she attended, also of her trip to Girls Town.

She announced the benefit breakfast May 6, to be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Bonner.

Yearly reports were given by the officers and Mrs. Bonner, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Westgate and Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney, gave a tribute to three members who passed away the last year, Mrs. Percy Hand, Ethel Keyser and Bess Pulver.

Mrs. Paul Brantingham played two selections for piano, "Kammenoi-Ostrow" by Rubenstein and "Votcik" by J. Mohrejs.

This was the last meeting of the club before the summer recess. Meetings will resume in October with the following officers in charge:

President — Mrs. W. J. Waldron.

1st Vice-President—Mrs. Ralph Westgate.

2nd Vice-President—Mrs. Clifford Knudson.

Treasurer—Mrs. A. J. Todd.

Recording Secretary — Mrs. Frank Mills.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Lee Purkey.

'Atoms for Peace'

At the monthly dinner meeting of Tecumseh's Junior Chamber of Commerce held recently Dwight Helms, first vice-president, made several reports to the group.

Mr. Helms told of the "Atoms for Peace" trailer and announced the names of the Jaycees who assisted as guides through the exhibit.

They were Malcolm Campbell, Ralph Mohr, Calvin Zorn and Bob Wallace.

Jaycee participation in Inter-Service Club Council activities was explained to the men by the vice-president. They agreed to help pay for a sign giving information about service groups that the club will erect at the city limits.

Mr. Helms will paint the trash cans now on Tecumseh streets, as part of a forthcoming clean-up effort.

Other reports were submitted by Jaycee committeemen.

Jack Rehkopf announced that Jaycees would support the Auto Safety Check being held next month.

Mr. Wallace reported on the "Outstanding Young Farmer" awards dinner held recently in Owosso. Attending the dinner with Mr. Wallace were Jerry Miller and Oliver Mueller, Tecumseh's "Outstanding Young Farmer."

Indians Still Search for Win

A scoreless deadlock broke wide open in the sixth inning when winning Hillsdale crossed home plate with five runs.

The Dales eventually trimmed the Tecumseh nine, 7-2, aided by loose play by the Indians.

Six errors were committed by the local team, and one mishap paved the way for five runs with two outs in the fatal fifth inning.

Jon Cook banged out the only hit for Tecumseh, but it failed to figure in the Indians' scoring. Walks and fielders choices gave Tecumseh its only runs.

The Indians meet Monroe CC here Thursday.

Book Fair Draws Good Attendance

Mrs. Conrad Fosbender, librarian, was pleased with the attendance at the Book Fair held last week.

Every half hour for two days a different group of students from fourth, fifth or sixth grades were ushered through the exhibits of books and art, displayed by local artists.

The National Library Week committee worked since January on the 15 exhibits for the schools and downtown section that were used during the week.

Much of the success of the promotion was due to its efforts.

Indian Trackmen Nip Monroe CC; Face Bedford Friday

Other Tecumseh winners:

Choirs Sing as Highlight of Service

The Luther Choir will sing the Introit this Sunday, and the Asbury Choir will sing the responses and an anthem at the Methodist church.

The day will be observed as Music Appreciation Sunday in the service of worship at ten o'clock.

The words, "O sing unto the Lord", in Latin, "cantate domino", will be a part of the anthem by the Asbury Choir according to Leslie M. Bennett, director.

The Rev. James D. Nixon will lead the congregation in an expression of thanksgiving for those who give their services in the musical parts of the service. The sermon will deal with "Joyful and Discordant Notes" in the church.

The second in the final spring series of adult and youth membership classes will be at 11:15 Sunday in the sanctuary.

The Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship leaves the church at 1:30 p.m. Sunday to attend the district rally at First Methodist church in Lincoln Park.

TAKE YOUR TIME

Take your time when you operate the vacuum cleaner. Use slow, rhythmic motions, advise home management specialists at Michigan State University. You might even push the cleaner the entire length of the room before turning. It's easier on your energy than using quick push-and-pull motions in a small area.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Stopper for Socialism

George Meader, a member of the House of Representatives in Washington from our district, is fighting a move to place the Rural Electrification Administration outside the secretary of agriculture's jurisdiction.

Such a move could prompt other governmental agencies to strike out on their own, Mr. Meader believes.

There is merit to his thinking, but we'd like to see him turn his attention as well to another governmental group which makes and sells electricity — namely the TVA.

The rural co-op was organized in 1936 when many areas did not have electrical service. It has done a fine job in this respect.

Both REA and TVA had important functions to perform when they were organized. They helped bring power to many areas which never had it.

They accomplished something else, too.

The large electric utilities were stimulated to dig deeply into planning whereby they might expand their territories and provide more and more homes and farms with power.

In Michigan, between Detroit Edison, Consumers Power and REA Co-ops almost 99% of all residences can have electricity should they want it. Well over 90% do.

In the case of TVA, its primary assignment was to undertake large projects concerning flood control. It was to manufacture power from water through the daming of rivers while doing the former.

This was a costly operation and could only be handled by the government. Now the job is pretty well completed, but TVA is still "hot to go" in manufacturing electric power. It has constructed steam generating plants, something far afield from the original idea.

TVA tells folks it can produce power cheaper—actually these low prices are subsidized by you and I in taxes.

REA has been contained in specific territories. It seems a trifle ridiculous to have REA for example in Lenawee county and one county in Ohio, completely surrounded by large, tax-paying, private utilities like Consumers and Toledo Edison which could service everyone.

As you probably will gather, we favor the private enterprise approach to producing electricity. Then we're certain there is no danger of taxpayers "making up any deficiencies."

Then, too, this is the best stopper we know against creeping socialism in our government.

First of Its Kind

Nearly 300 attended the Mother-Daughter banquet of Lenawee County Farm Bureau Women Saturday evening at Tecumseh high school.

It was the first affair of this kind to be held in the state.

There are 41 groups in Lenawee County.

Fourteen ministers of all denominations attended with the Rev. Blair Bashore giving the invocation and Dr. Howard Emerick of Adrian College, the benediction.

Through My Window

THE LONG WAIT WAS WORTHWHILE

In the past, winter has always been our muskrat-seeing time. Two years ago one spent many hours tobogganing down the creek bank; we would watch him scramble up the bank and then slide down — so often did he indulge in this favorite sport that he had several slides worn and packed into perfect, lightning-fast runs.

Last year our muskrat was more serious minded and the only activity we saw him undertake was an almost daily trip to the spot where several wheelbarrow loads of old aples had been dumped—apples, no matter how old, apparently made tasty winter nibbling.

This year however, look as hard as we might, we went through the entire winter without once seeing any of the little, brown-furred animals.

Others' saw them!

Some people down the creek saw them all winter long and late one afternoon when the creek, choked with ice, was running high and furiously fast, Mom, Dad and Gertrude stood looking out my window, amazed that such a quiet little creek could so soon turn itself into a raging torrent. Suddenly they saw a muskrat.

Holding a full ear of corn in his mouth, down the creek he came swimming, completely unconcerned with the strong, fast current and apparently undisturbed by the huge cakes of ice he had to avoid.

Swimming as fast as he was there was absolutely no chance of getting my bed to the window in time to see him.

So it was, that the snow came and went, the creek frozen and then thawed, winter finally passed and I had not seen a muskrat.

☆

ON ONE OF the first warm days of spring however, a day when muskrats were the furthest thing from my mind, Mother Nature did the unexpected.

As if warm sunshine and the faint tinge of green in the lawns weren't enough, she gave a bonus.

Far up the creek, nibbling at the pile of corn which Gertrude keeps at the foot of her sloping creek bank for her ducks, was a big fat muskrat.

Surprise, and what a thrill.

After finishing his meal he ran to the creek's edge and, with a grace peculiar to his kind, slide into the water and was off.

Since that exciting day, although his visits cannot be actually predicted by the calendar, the muskrat spends oh, maybe three or four afternoons a week dining on corn.

☆

HIS ACTIONS are always the same; scampering out of the creek, he runs to the corn, eats a few minutes then scurries back to the water, dives in and glides away.

Apparently his home is further up stream because he always heads in the same direction — his head just visible above the water, he rounds the bend and is all too soon out of sight.

The distance makes it difficult to see all that goes on but one afternoon, after carefully observing several "comings and goings", we decided there were two muskrats dining.

They were politely taking turns, but with some eye-straining on our part, a difference in size, one being a bit smaller than the other, could be noticed.

All went well until the small one's curiosity got the best of her. After eating her fill, instead of going directly back to the creek, she wandered around the bank and then went over to investigate the duck's house.

☆

AFTER INSPECTING the little gray house, she headed at a leisurely pace, back to the water and just as she was to dive in — trouble. The bigger muskrat was coming out of the creek and was apparently not in the best frame of mind.

Was he merely quarrelsome or was this his mate who perchance had left him baby-sitting at home and was gone so long he come to investigate?

We like to believe the latter but whatever the case, he hopped onto the bank, flew at the smaller muskrat and, not being content with just chasing her into the water, followed after and with much splashing and thrashing, sent her on her way.

No doubt who was boss in that family.

☆

LATER OCCURRED the event which supported our hope that perhaps we have been given an inside look at the domestic affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Muskrat.

The afternoon was progressing as usual and the muskrat had made seven or eight trips to the corn pile. All of a sudden however, there was someone else up there.

As the big muskrat walked away from the pile of food, there was something little tagging along behind. Little tiny — it was almost mouse size and as it followed "papa" into the water we were thrilled to realize we had seen a baby muskrat.

Since that day, although the youngster hasn't put in another appearance, the old ones, whenever they have finished their snack, always appear to take a mouthful of corn with them.

Distance is the bug-a-boo again, but as those sleek, brown heads glide across the creek and up around the bend, it does look as if they carry a mouth full of corn. Could there be hungry mouths at home?

So goes our spring adventure with the muskrats. We had to wait a long time to see them this year but certainly, the wait was well worthwhile.

"Come in and see us often, Nancy"

We at the bank like to make new friends; and we like to keep the friends we have by serving them well. The bank can be a friend to all the family. By strict definition, a banker is a person who works in a bank; but, like doctor and lawyer, butcher and baker, he can be defined in human terms, too. Like them—like you—he has a genuine interest in the welfare of his neighbors and their families; a genuine desire to extend a helping hand with their problems, whenever it's wanted. And unlike other friends, he can share with his neighbors the fruits of specialized experience with money matters.

No depositor is too young, no account too small, to enjoy the benefit of our sincere friendly interest. Come in and see us often, Nancy—and Junior, Mother, and Dad. Let us be a family friend.

Vertical Integration

Vertical integration in the egg business probably won't be as complete and as fast as in broilers.

That's the report made by Hugh Johnson, extension poultryman at Michigan State University.

Johnson cites two major reasons why he believes this trend will hold true. Most broiler growers are not able to do their own processing and marketing. Egg producers can do this.

Many egg producers in Michigan have excellent local markets and won't lose them overnight. Broiler growers have to look for big markets where large numbers of boilers can be sold.

"What can I do about this pain?"

Customers often ask questions like this. And every year we sell perhaps a ton of pain relievers. Relievers. That's the point. We can sell simple analgesics, but we can't prescribe drugs to eliminate the cause of pain. Diagnosing and prescribing are in your physician's province. We, as professional pharmacists, work with doctors, providing the drugs they order. So, if you have any kind of a persistent pain, see your physician. We shall be pleased to provide any medication which may be prescribed.

Their Writing Rates Coveted Awards

(Editor's note: Eleven Tecumseh high school students won honors in the recent Detroit News writing contest. Two of our scholars rated Key Awards, highest given in the competition. This week, we are printing Linda Dick's essay and one of the three poems entered by Janet Graham.)

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE TEENAGERS OF TODAY?
By LINDA DICKS

What's wrong with the teenagers of today? This is a question asked very often by the adults of the world. In my opinion, nothing is wrong with us. We are the same as our parents and grandparents before us, we still like to go out and have a good time just as they did, we enjoy practically the same things as they did in their day.

The adults say we are a group of Wild and irresponsible young hoodlums. Because a few young people have proven themselves to be this type of individual, our whole generation has been given a bad name. The word "teenager" is now used to represent a group of young wildcats rather than a group of adolescents ranging in age from thirteen through nineteen. I think that the adults of today should realize that a whole generation shouldn't be judged by the improper deeds of a few individuals. Adults tend to play up acts of teenagers that don't reflect good on us rather than the ones that do. Thus every teenager has to suffer from the reputation that a few young people have earned.

Everyday you read in huge headlines of the newspapers about teenage gang leaders and gang fights, about teen-age vandals breaking into a place of business or about a murder committed by a "teen". Then in some obscure corner on the last page, if you look very hard, you will find an article about a teenager who has saved nine children from a burning building, or about one who has done a good deed by helping a fellow citizen in a time of need.

Parents tell one another that they just don't know what to do with their little Jack or Joe, they just can't handle him and they're afraid he's headed for serious trouble if something isn't done soon. The chances are he is headed for trouble all right, but his parents never stop to realize that the reason that they can't handle him is that they're never home to try. He is more or less left to do what he likes; he walks the streets looking for trouble while they sit in taverns until all hours of the night.

I don't mean to say that this is what always causes juvenile delinquency, but I do think it is one of the major factors. I know that the parents aren't responsible for every case, and that the parents of some young people who get into trouble try very hard to straighten them out and make good citizens of them.

Adults condemn the way we dance and the songs we like without stopping to think about the Charleston and some of the songs that were popular when they were young. What possible harm can rock'n'roll do us? If our parents survived the Charleston and dances such as that, I'm sure we can recuperate from rock'n'roll.

Parents tell of how hard they have to push their teenage sons and daughters to get them to do any work at all, but they don't seem to remember the schemes which they themselves devised to get out of doing their chores.

I'm not trying to give the impression that the whole wicked world of adults is down on the poor little group of defenseless teenagers. I think we'll survive the vicious beating that we're taking now. Each generation before us has been criticized, each generation has said that the next was due for the worst imaginable fate, and so far they've all turned out pretty well. I believe that if our parents and grandparents could survive that terrible time in a person's life when he must be known as a teenager, and still turn out to be as fine and upright citizens as they are now, we will some how follow in their footsteps, and undoubtedly someday will look at the next generation and wonder what the world's coming to.

What's wrong with the teenagers of today? We're the same as every generation was before us and the same as each one will be after us.

KEY AWARD winners in recent Detroit News writing competition from Tecumseh were Janet Graham (at left) and Linda Dicks.

HERMIT
By JANET GRAHAM

The sunbeams shining through the crowded trees
Are casting freckles on the forest's face,
And, in the crooked grin the clearing forms,
Are seen the forest's teeth, a row of stones.

The arms of all the mammoth forms, that wave
Across the leaden sky and beckon me,
Reach out to fold me to the forest's heart
And hide me from unsympathetic man.

In silence walk the only friend I have,
Infrequently to show a glowing eye
Or bobbing tail, or shadow of their grace,
Before they flee and vanish in the depths.

I walk among the lives that know no pain
Save short, infrequent tugs of loved ones lost,
Nor, often does a gleeful, bounding joy
Disrupt the peace of life in solitude.

Alone I worship God and think of good,
And meditate upon the purity
Of all before me, yet untouched by man,
And growing in good Nature's gentle care.

BOOK SHELVES

TECUMSEH PUBLIC LIBRARY

THE GENTLE TAMERS
Dee Brown

All aspects of western feminine life, which include a good deal about the Western male, are covered more completely and authentically here than in any other single work. This book is a lively, informal but soundly factual account of the women who built the West.

ROBOTS
Nigel Calder

In the twentieth century robots are with us in their thousands; they are becoming as much a part of our daily lives as the typewriter and the motor-car. Yet still for many people the word "robot" conjures up a picture of Frankenstein's monster. This account is written especially to tell what robots really are, how they work and what they can do.

BIRD WATCHER'S ANTHOLOGY
R. T. Peterson

Roger Tory Peterson, often called the Twentieth-Century Audubon, is the world's most famous bird watcher, and is also one of the world's foremost ornithologists. And a distinguished explorer, artist, writer, lecturer, and photographer as well. This gifted scientist has prepared a new volume of bird watchers, naturalists and arm chair adventurers which is fascinatingly different and interesting.

MINE ENEMY GROWS OLDER
Alexander King

This is the autobiography of the last unself-conscious nonconformist. Mr. King has done everything and knows everybody and he tells us about it flavored with pepper, cinnamon, and tabasco.

AUTIOBIOGRAPHY OF MARK TWAIN

Here is one of the great autobiographies of the English language; exuberant, wonderfully contemporary in spirit, by a man twice as large as life who—he said so himself—had no trouble remembering everything that had ever happened to him, and a lot of things besides.

Starting Pig Chain

Joe Lewis entertained members of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club recently when Dean Kirkland was elected to replace Vickie McVay as reporter.

Members voted to have one meeting a month to include project reports and demonstrations.

Reports were given on archery, a new project this year.

Ronnie Oliver and Kenneth Yeutter of Adrian spoke on the work being done in the Adrian Club and it was decided that the two clubs will work together under the leadership of Ernest Hammack of Tecumseh.

Jean Starkey presented a demonstration on a hot bed for garden flowers. Plans for the pig chain have been completed with George Blanchard providing two registered weanling pigs for the members to begin with.

Karen Helwig and Linda Lou Starkey, members with the most years in the club, will start the chain, caring for the pigs which will be shown at the Fair this fall as gifts.

Mrs. C. J. Lewis accepted the leadership of photography and wild flower members.

A tour of woods and fields has been planned as well as several tours for the summer.

Cooking lessons were begun at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Reeves April 9.

They will be held each Thursday at 4 P.M.

Nancy Randall demonstrated the peanut butter milk shake.

On April 19 Sandra Petrouish made corn meal muffins and Linda Starkey made a prune loaf hot bread.

Recorded music was furnished by Karen Helwig as refreshments were served by Mrs. Ernest Helwig. Mrs. Lewis furnished a centerpiece of crocuses and green fern.

Colored slides were presented by Mrs. Lewis of the 1958 chicken barbecue at the County Fair, Fair projects of the club and a vacation trip.

Dean Kirkland will be host for the meeting May 2 at 7:30 when feed card reports are due for examination.

Is Baptism Really Essential?

Baptism is important because it is commanded by Christ. "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned" (Mark 16:15, 16). Peter commanded the Jews who asked about salvation to "Repeat and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:38). At th home of Cornelius, Peter "commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord" (Acts 10:48).

Baptism is important because it is to be administered "in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit" (Matthew 28:19).

Baptism is important because it is into the death of Jesus Christ were baptized into his death?" (Romans 6:3).

Baptism is important because it puts us into Christ who is the way of salvation (John 14:6). Paul said, "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ" (Galatians 3:27).

Baptism is important because it is connected with salvation. Peter wrote, "The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us, (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh but the answer of a good conscience toward God) by the ressurection of Jesus Christ" (1 Peter 3:21). Ananias told Saul to "Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord" (Acts 22:16).

Baptism is important because it is commanded by Christ, administered in the name of the sacred three, into Christ and his death, and connected with salvation.

YES, BAPTISM IS REALLY ESSENTIAL!

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Doc Didn't Pull His Punch

The other day Doc Williams got to talking about one of his patients.

"This fellow had a bad tooth," he explained, "but I told him I could save it with a few prompt treatments. Then, after that one visit it was six months before he came back.

"This time," Doc said, 'his cheek was all swollen up. 'It's that same tooth,' he said. 'Think we can save it?' Sure, I said, after I take it out you can put it in your pocket and take it home with you."

From where I sit, trouble gets worse with neglect. That's why we should never ignore "intolerance" in any form. Sometimes it crops up in little things like begrudging a man his right to a glass of beer, or telling him what kind of television programs he should watch. Let's all respect our neighbor's preferences and opinions. That way we won't "pull" at each other's freedom.

Future Farmers Name Officers, Plan Contest

Richard Williams was elected president of the Tecumseh Future Farmers at a recent meeting.

Others elected for the coming year were:

Vice-President—Paul Schafer.
Treasurer—Dan Wiemer.
Secretary—Edsel Brooks.
Reporter—Don Linden.
Sentinel—Arnold Neuman.

John Dewey and Richard Williams gave reports of the state convention. The chapter honored Jerry Munger and Jack Allen for receiving state farmers degrees at the convention.

Harvey Spreeman was selected to raise the next batch of 150 broilers.

A discussion was held concerning the purchase of a sprayer for the group projects and it was decided to investigate prices before making a definite decision.

Plans were made to have a corn-growing contest, operated in the same manner as the adult farmers contest.

Any member of the chapter may enter if he plan sto grow corn.

DAR Members Hear Life Study of James Monroe

Mrs. Herbert Munger entertained members of the Abi-Evans Chapter of the DAR recently when Mrs. Herbert Newman gave the report of the State Conference.

Mrs. Newman said that the Michigan Chapter is adding a cottage for little boys to the Tamassee School in South Carolina.

This project was made possible through money gifts from members.

She also said that the state regent's project for the year will be to furnish the cottage.

"THESE ARE THE TIMES THAT TRY MEN'S SOULS"

Pharamists sincerely believe, that the practice of medicine requires much knowledge, continuous study and a sincere desire to benefit the patient. Therefore, no one should attempt to advise people who are sick except a physician.

Unfortunately, we have laymen, with no medical training, wearing white jacket to simulate a physician, who by means of television, and other advertising, presume to tell you what to take when you are sick. Some of the remedies they promote offer only temporary relief. Be wise. Depend on your physician and the specific medicine he will prescribe for you particular condition.

Lifelong 'Love Affair' with Books

REFERENCE WORK—At Patterson's library, older students utilize facilities for reference. Nancy Mead (right), a sixth grader, serves as a student librarian and assists classmates when they seek special volumes. Ron Anderson (seated) and Carl Waynick pursue special work.

Students at the six elementary schools in the Tecumseh district are rapidly learning the value of a library.

There's now one at buildings in Tipton, Ridgeway and Macon, as well as Patterson, Tecumseh Acres and Herrick Park schools.

At each regular classes are held for all grades.

Supervising them is Mrs. Robert Blanks, who travels as much as a popular circulating library novel.

Mrs. Blanks holds a Library of Science degree from the University of Michigan and has spent 10 years in the field.

She begins with first graders with an aim "to develop interest that will start a lifelong 'love affair' with books."

She states that a good school library depends on three basic ingredients:

1. Collection (books, pictures, records, pamphlets and a variety of other materials of learning.)
2. Place.
3. Librarian who selects the materials and makes them alive for the children.

Her library program is closely interrelated with aims of the school. It includes free reading, reading guidance, teaching library skills and supervised reference work.

In communities starting from scratch, as Tecumseh is, is usually takes three to five years to obtain necessary volumes for adequate service.

Authorities recommend five volumes per pupil as a minimum, say 10 are adequate and 20 makes possible rendering of superior service.

At present, the six libraries in the schools average about three books per student.

"Of upmost importance is the quality of the books and materials included," Mrs. Blanks states. "We have a good start in this direction."

When it comes to purchasing books by parents for their youngsters, Mrs. Blanks makes this suggestion:

Obtain the ones that "are worth re-reading."

OLD MOVIES

Local folks often call COOK ELECTRIC and ask information about why their TV screen only shows part of a full movie scene. The outer edges of the picture is missing and sometimes this hides important characters of the story.

This trouble comes from the transmission of (old movies) and your set is not at fault. Broadcasters are solving this problem in a greater number of film runnings but occasionally you'll notice it; especially when action of the scene goes to the extreme sides top or bottom. Some day, maybe, there won't be anymore old movies.

Keep calling that number 692-J for any kind of electronic problem you might have. We'll do our best to give you an answer.

VOL. 108 — ONE HUNDRED NINTH YEAR — NUMBER 28 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1959 | 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long AND Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

"How could you?" a member of the Farm Bureau asked us.

She was calling soon after last week's paper had been issued—her subject: the story about a recent Farm Bureau event which we had badly garbled.

"It was a father-son banquet and not mother-daughter."

We gulped.

"The Bush Trio — and not Brush—entertained.

Was there more?

Yes.

"Melvin Rodesiler is president of the Lenawee County Farm Bureau, not just the board of directors."

Oh, the agony of it all.

☆

Our telephone rang, with that same ring, the very next day.

This one was about our review of the school play, "Mrs. Mc-Thing."

"I'd like to register a complaint," the lady said.

She felt it wasn't fair to single out certain members of the cast in our story. At least two youngsters, the caller reported, were hurt.

Here was a tough one to explain. High school students, whether performing in a play or competing on the football field, are pure-bred amateurs.

They can never be criticized in print.

Some youngsters are offended —and we were, too, as a youth— by the omission of their name in a review or game report.

But it's impossible to include everyone and keep the story interesting. This would end up as a list of names.

So the paper is left sitting on the horns of a dilemma. When someone comes up with a pat solution, we'd like to hear about it.

☆

Don't doubt me, the man really said it:

"I think the most important thing that anybody should have who's going to be president next time is a sense of purpose — ability to lead the American people back to their true heritage so that we can feel that we're going some place, that we're going to serve our people and fulfill our historic mission in the world."

Who? A leading stateman? Some giant of industry who vaulted into the political arena by sheer patroitism?

No, none of these.

Just our Soapy, who produced this gem on a recent TV interview.

And where will Soapy lead the folks of America. Why the same place he led the citizens of Michigan—right to the abyss of bankruptcy.

Keep talking, Soapy. Without you life would be drab and meaningless.

Lightning Strikes Man While Plowing

Leslie Mueller of rural Deerfield is in critical condition in University Hospital with fourth-degree burns over 25% of his body received when he was struck by lightning Saturday before noon.

Mr. Mueller, who is 32, was plowing a field at the corner of Sutton and Rixom Highway with his brother, Robert and Oliver, who felt the shock of the lightning but were not injured.

He was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital by his wife, Corrinne, and his brother, Robert, where oxygen was administered.

Later he was transferred to St. Joseph Hospital and then to the University where his condition was more stabilized on Monday.

The Muellers have two daughters, Marie 4, Janet 3 and a son, Henry 1½ years old.

School Census Time Arrives

It's school census time again and the ladies with the "big green books" will start their doorbell ringing about May 1.

Mrs. Don Brazee and Mrs. Victor Lawson are not selling a thing, they only want to determine the number of school-age children there are living in the city.

They would appreciate a courteous welcome the first time they call so to eliminate some of the many call-backs.

VOICE of THE HERALD

He Sold 10,000 Fords

CHARLIE BUTLER, the man who sold 10,000 Fords.

A colorful figure along the city's business row for the past 29 years is "retiring."

Chuck Butler has sold his Ford agency.

We use quote marks around retiring because he's really too young-in-heart to think of retirement as such and we'll wager one of these days he will be bouncing back in some other enterprise.

Chuck started selling model T Fords back in 1920 for an agency in Battle Creek. He has been moving Ford cars ever since.

In 1930 he came to Tecumseh to buy out the Gerald Greenwood dealership, which at the time was reeling under the effects of the depression.

Charlie's ready wit and consideration to potential buyers got him off to a fast start. His service policy of standing firmly behind every sale soon established him here as a solid businessman.

When Charlie broke into the car game it was not uncommon to make only $3 or $4 a sale. That's why he aimed at a deal-a-day — something the modern-day car salesman finds hard to believe.

In 1925, Charlie established some sort of a record, closing 412 sales on new model T's. That was two years before the T era ended and the first A was introduced.

Anyone in the selling line can profit by Charlie's philosophy: "Service and a satisfied customer are the two most important things. Be friendly and jolly with people and remember that the customer is always right."

Charlie, of course, takes for granted you realize your product simply is among the best—as he has over the years with Ford cars.

"When the going gets tough in a deal, tell a joke and take the frown off their face," Charlie explains of a sticky negotation.

During his 30 years in the game, Mr. Butler moved more than 10,000 new Fords and about 15,000 used cars. That is a lot of successful selling!

Charlie was an avid advocate of dealer groups and long served state and county organizations. He was twice named president of the Michigan Auto Dealers Association, in 1956 and again in '57.

He has been a booster of Tecumseh's Chamber of Commerce. was its president three times and is currently serving on the board of directors.

A long-time vestryman at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, he has been actively associated with numerous other groups in Tecumseh, including Rotary, the Tecumseh Club and the Country Club. With each, he is a past president.

Sports have always been high on Charlie's list.

Having spent most of his young life in Olivet, he decided to go to college there. He was on campus two years. During each, he won varsity letters in football, basketball, track and tennis. His 120-yard low hurdle mark was an MIAA record until 1949.

He transferred to Michigan State as a junior, played football there two years. He still treasures the memory of a 24-0 win over Michigan in 1917. which in those days was an almost unheard of feat.

He left school in 1917 to go into service and was in uniform for two years. After World War I he tried the insurance field and automotive engineering, finally getting into sales in 1920.

That was Charlie's nitch.

Mr. Butler bows out with this comment:

"I'd like to say a gracious thank you to all the people we have dealt with over the years."

Ford Agency Sold May 1 to Tipton Men

Tecumseh's Ford agency has changed hands.

Charlie Butler, after 29 years here, sold the business to E. L. "Speck" Simmons and his son-in-law Bob Karle, both of Tipton.

The new owners, who formerly operated a Buick dealership in Milan, officially take over here May 1.

As soon as the former International Harvester building at the west end, next door to Partridge Implements, is ready, the Ford agency will be moved there.

Mr. Butler had previously disposed of his downtown building, selling it to Don Martin, owner of the Gamble store.

A west-end location for the Ford agency had been "in the works" for some time.

All of the Butler sales and service personnel are expected to remain with the new owners.

Mr. Simmons has been a lifetime resident of Lenawee county, having been educated in Tecumseh and Adrian. In 1946 he obtained the Milan Buick sales and operated it with Mr. Karle.

Another of Mr. Simmons' sons-in-law is Joseph Gregory, who is a barber in Tecumseh at Ben's shop.

MR. SIMMONS belonged to the Milan Rotary club, was its president in 1958 and helped a member of that club become elected district governor of the service group.

He enjoys deer hunting and this sport is about the only thing which steals him away from his first love—selling cars.

His partner is a one-time Cincinnati high school football star, who had offers of five college grid scholarships when he graduated. Instead, he joined the army and served in occupied Germany.

He joined his father-in-law 10 years ago in Milan, first as mechanic and later sales manager.

His gridiron days behind him, Mr. Karle now concentrates on fishing (mainly trout) in off-hours.

The Karles have two youngsters, Kathy, 5½ and Jim, 2½.

"We will always welcome any suggestions that you have which will help us do a better job as your Ford dealers in Tecumseh," state Messers Simmons and Karle

Bob French Is Fined $104.30

Bob French, Tecumseh attorney and former justice of peace, was fined $104.30 for driving under the influence of intoxicants last March.

His driver's license was suspended for 90 days.

Action was taken in the justice court of L. J. VanDeusen of Clinton last week.

Mr. French, who had pleaded not guilty at his arraingment March 6, reversed himself on one of the two counts he faced.

The other offense—leaving the scene of a property damage accident—was dismissed by Mr. VanDeusen.

He has petitioned circuit court for an order restoring his license. Hearing has been scheduled for May 15.

Britton Considers Rovolving Fund of $50,000

A general discussion meeting for property owners was set for May 19 by the Britton council last Monday night for the $50,000 Revolving Fund question on the June 1 ballot.

James Beardsley, of Tecumseh, Britton's village attorney, is expected to conduct the question-answer meeting and explain the advantages of the fund.

In other action, the Britton council approved a contract for having the village's water tower cleaned and coated on the inside, and approved the retirement of two $1,000 water bonds.

Mardi Gras Nets Tipton PTA $850

A profit of $850 was netted from the Tipton Mardi Gras, making the affair a success for the PTA as well as a day of fun for the young people.

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

CLAUDIA VOLLMER enjoys a pony ride at Tipton Mardi Gras. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Vollmer.

This first annual affair sponsored by Tipton school drew a large crowd, netted $850.

Admission tickets sales amounted to $430 with Michael Murphy winning the transistor radio for the sale of 23 books of tickets.

Marilyn Solarski and Janet Bourns were each given two silver dollars as second prize for selling 16 books.

Third prize of one silver dollar went to Robert Platt for selling 15 books of tickets.

Lupe Saenz won the stuffed panda.

Committees have been appointed to obtain price lists for a movie projector, record player, paper cutter and dictionaries.

The PTA earned money earlier in the year to pay for dark curtains to be used in the all purpose room.

Songs from ' South Pacific'

The 96-voice Tecumseh high school chorus will present a concert, "Let There Be Music," on Wednesday, May 6, at 8 p.m. in the Strand Theatre.

Admission is 50c for students and 75c for adults.

Tickets may be purchased at the Strand Theatre box office or from chorus members.

The coming program is the culmination of almost a complete school year of study and rehearsal. Popular selections from both the district and state festivals will be performed.

One of the features will be a medley of seven songs from the Broadway musical comedy "South Pacific".

A large, 16 x 30 foot background mural, designed and built by chorus members with some professional help, will provide a lush South Sea Island setting for these songs.

The mural is translucent so that it can be lighted from behind or in front with vari-color lighting. Four student soloists will be heard during the medley. The chorus will be accompanied by piano and harp.

Also included will be familiar favorites "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes", "Greensleeves", and "When The Saints Go Marching In" with soloists.

During some of the lighter tunes, chorus members will don costume and dramatize the lyrics, as in the zany "circus routine" created by chorus members for the "Children's Marching Song", and "Take Two", (a musical play on words).

Special rhythmic sound effects are a part of "This Old Man" and another novelty "The Little Red Caboose".

An instrumental highlight will be a two-piano duet on the theme of "Mountain Tunes Gone Modern".

Les Bennett will direct.

Safe Driving Road-e-o Real Test of Skill

The annual teen-age safe driving Road-e-o, sponsored by Tecumseh's Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. in front of the junior high.

Awards and scholarships are being offered in this educational community program.

For the winner, who is selected from entrants in the state JC finals to be held June 6 in Midland, there is a $500 scholarship and an all-expense trip to the national finals in Washington, D. C.

National awards to the top three winners will include $2,000, $1,500 and $1,000 scholarships and engraved plaques.

The event is open to motorists under 19 years of age with a driver's license or permit.

It will provide an opportunity for Tecumseh's teenagers to prove and improve their carmanship through good driving habits, knowledge and attitudes.

Tecumseh Jaycees urge local motorists to enter the safe driving Road-e-o which will include a written examination on road rules, a personal interview with each participant and a road check test for actual driving skills.

Application blanks may be obtained at Tecumseh high school or from Merlyn Downing, co-chairman of the Road-e-o.

Jaycees on the committee are Carl Powers, co-chairman, assisted by Dwight Helms, Allan Barrett, Jerry Miller, Pete Dermyer, Herb Simon, Malcolm Campbell and Bruce Corley.

Last year 320,000 youngsters participated nationally in the Road-e-o.

The Michigan Secondary School association approves of the Jaycees running the program in cooperation with local high schools.

Cars for the road tests are being provided by three local car firms — Butler Motor Sales, Schneider Bros Garage, Inc. and Wilson Motor Sales.

Judges will include George Kilbourn, Tecumseh chief of police, and state troopers from Clinton and Blissfield.

Charles Gross, Tecumseh high school industrial arts instructor, has been giving the written tests to qualified student motorists.

An odd array of costumes were worn by lady bowlers for Fun Day at the Airport Bowl Thursday when the Tecumseh Club Ladies League ended its season.

'Tecumseh Gold' Is Newest Iris

"Tecumseh Gold", an aristocrat among Iris, is introduced in the current bulletin of the American Iris Society.

The introduction reads as follows:

"Tecumseh Gold is the finest new yellow we have seen in years. It is pure yellow, between Empire Yellow and Canary Yellow.

"It is as fine a flower as Ola Kal, but it is pure yellow even to the beard, with clean hafts and no hint of orange or egg yolk in its color. Tecumseh Gold is 38" tall, with an excellent stalk that never needs staking; flaring, ruffled and a good increaser.

"It was produced by our lamented friend Neil Pearson, of Tecumseh, Mich. and is probably from Berkley Gold X (Gold Hind and Happy Days.) $20."

Mrs. Pearson tells us that the "debutante" will be on display here in bloom in the Pearson garden this summer. It was registered three years ago before Mr. Pearson's death.

Roll call was answered by the favorite tree of each member.

Leo Bishop presented two films, one of the formal and specialty gardens of Europe and the other displayed planting and growth of fuchsia plants and tuberous begonias.

Mr. Bishop concluded with a question and answer period on gardening problems with special emphasis on shrubs and moles.

Dessert was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Richard Colson and Mrs. Ira Montague.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

The gym on April 25 was the scene of the most beautiful Junior Prom in years. (I may be prejudiced because I'm a junior, but I thing most people will agree.)

Pink-and-white streamers stretched from the ceiling to form a canopy over the dance floor.

Wrought-iron lampposts were placed at intervals along the edge of the floor, with laurel shrubs in buckets next to them. The shrubs were also set at the corners of the bandstand and at the sides of the doors.

Tables decorated in a pink and white motif were scattered around the floor in cabaret-style.

The focal point of the decorations, however, was the oasis in the middle of the floor. There was a small plot of grass around a pool with a fountain spouting bubbles in the center.

There were live goldfish swimming in the pool. At the four corners of the grass were birdbaths with pink flowers floating in them. Flowers were floating in the pool, too.

At 10:30, the Prom King and Queen were crowned by Mike Fero, a representative of the Junior class. The sophomore candidates were chosen in a popular election held during study halls on Friday.

They were Janet Murphy and Mike Green.

Other candidates were Susie Owen and Carl Wilt, freshmen; Mary Colgrove and Tom Walters, juniors; and Marylou McConnell and Jerry Munger, seniors.

Refreshments of grape or orange punch and home-made cookies were served immediately after the coronation, which took place in front of the fountain. A pink satin carpet was rolled out before the royal couple.

Programs, with the title "Fascination" printed on the front, were handed out to the girls as souvenirs.

Bob Elliott's Band from Ann Arbor supplied the music. The dance was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. George Tatar, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rotundo and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Murdoch.

The dance was ably directed by Jane Crawford and Mike Fero.

IS IT NECESSARY THAT I BE BAPTIZED FOR THE RIGHT PURPOSE?

There is a specific purpose in every command of the New Testament. The New Testament teaches clearly the reasons for which we should be baptized. We should study to learn these purposes and be baptized for the right and scriptural design.

The New Testament teaches that baptism is for salvation from sin, for Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mark 16:16). Salvation is found only in Jesus Christ (2 Timothy 2:10), and baptism puts one into Christ (Galatians 3:27).

The New Testament also teaches that baptism is "for the remission of sins." On Pentecost in reply to the question, "Men and brethren, what shall we do?" Peter said to his auditors, "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sin" (Acts 2:38). Ananias said to Saul of Tarsus, "And now why tarriest thou? arise and be baptized, and wash away thy sins" (Acts 22:16). There is nothing in baptism within itself that can wash away sins. Peter declared, "Baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God)" (1 Peter 3:21). ....

It is the blood of Christ that washes away our sins. John said,

"Unto him that loved us and washed us from our sins in his own blood" (Revelation 1:5). Jesus shed his blood in his death. No wonder Paul teaches that we are "baptized into his death" (Romans 6:3). Hence, it is in baptism that we come in contact with the cleansing blood of "the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world."

Bowlers Collect Booty on Monday at 1959 Banquet

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the Men's House League Bowling Banquet Monday night at 6:30 at the VFW.

It is hoped that the number of teams participating in the league next season will be known at that time.

Gale Hooton has been in charge of arrangements and drawing for door prizes will be held. Money and trophies for first prizes will be awarded.

Easton's Friendly Service won out over Wilson's Cities Service in team play this season.

Darwin Creger won the most "200" games award, Walter Morden the three-game series with 718 and highest single game honors went to Eddie Hunt with 276.

Jim Lawson Sells 106 Tickets, Wins 'Fun Night' Award

Jim Lawson, a pupil in Marjorie Wickwire's room, was awarded the $2 gift for selling the most tickets to Fun Night at Tecumseh Acres School.

Jim marketed 106.

Honorable mention was given to Larry Chase for selling, 82; Connie Robinette, 27; Mario Sanchez, 23; Susan Auito, 18; David Radant, 16; Gussie Bishop, 15 and Benny Alvarez, 14.

Prizes not claimed are being held at the school office and may be obtained by presenting the stubs with numbers 11825 — for the Clinton Engine; 11951—for the thermos jug; 12344—magazine rack; 11897 for the lamp.

Soil Stewardship Week

Farmer cooperators of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District are uniting with the farmers and ranchers of the 2,806 soil conservation districts of the United States in the observance of Soil Stewardship Week, May 3-10.

For the fifth year ministers in the county are planning dedicatory services of man's dependence on God for the things which sustain life, "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof, the world and all that dwell therein."

Although Rogation Sunday or Rural Life Sunday, the fifth Sunday after Easter began in the year 470, many churches in rural and urban communities are just discovering that all citizens need to be reminded that soil and water resources demand christian stewardship.

Rapid urban development and super highways have used up some of our best farm land. Increased use of water by agriculture and industry demands a water management program to protect the economic security of the family.

Floods, muddy rivers, gullies and drifting sands have awakened the American farmer and rancher to his need for conservation practices in many areas.

It was Theodore Roosevelt who 50 years ago warned the nation of the eventual cost of neglect of its soil, already so rapidly being lost in the process of erosion.

As president of the United States his zeal for conservation ignited the spark that has become such a forceful influence in our way of life.

Through My Window

SO GOOD TO HAVE THEM BACK AGAIN!

It hardly seems possible but, already it is the 30th of April. Spring is a marvelously exciting time and the days seem to slip by so fast that before we know it another month has come and gone.

The sights and smells and sounds of spring are everywhere and to us the best of all indication of the season is the return of so many birds. One of the delights of this our favorite time of year is the expectancy of seeing something new; we awake each morning wondering who will be the next to come home.

March usually starts the parade but this year we had Robins the last of February. The first one showed up on an afternoon which unfortunately, was common winter weather-bright sunshine one minute and a cold blowing blizzard the next.

If our first Robin was just up from the south, I'm sure he wondered what was going on; however, there is a strong possibility that he was a member of that ever increasing number of Redbreasts who winter in southern Michigan.

From our window the first birds we saw that for certain were just back from their southern vacations were the Grackles.

Even though we become disgusted with them later, we thrilled at the first few to arrive.

They were sure signs of Spring and as such, most welcomed.

☆

ACCORDING TO a check list, compiled several years ago by Cranbrook School, of migrant and summer birds seen in southeastern Michigan, the Cowbirds were due the 23rd of March; Red-eyed Towhees the 24th, Whistling Swans the 29th; and Wood Ducks the 29th.

The Cowbirds made it, only a day or two late, but as yet, we have not seen any Towhees. Apparently the Whistling Swans bypassed us again but, thrill of thrills although they were almost three weeks late, a pair of Wood Ducks was spotted in the neighborhood. Oh, if only they could have been induced to stay with us!

April is always a tremendous month for birds. The Chipping Sparrows were due the 4th; Thee Swallows the 6th; Purple Martins the 11th; Brown Thrashers the 12th; House Wrens the 18th.

The birds, of course, don't adhere to strict calendar dates, they are apt to be a little earlier or a little later than the list says and actually it is seldom that even we see the first returnees; our restricted looking area is responsible for this I suppose.

The Red-winged Blackbirds are a good example of how late we sometimes are; due the first part of March, we didn't see any for almost a month. Since the first of April, however, they have been quite numerous.

We see them bathing in the creek, having a wonderful time in the shallow pools at the water's edge.

☆

A WEEK AGO we noticed a tiny bird flitting through the trees. In quick nervous movements he moved from branch to branch but never, to our exasperation, did he come close enough for us to get a really good look.

Perhaps it was a Kinglet; the size was about right and the time coincided with their listed date of arrival. Another little speck of a bird scheduled to return about the middle of the month—the House Wren.

These happy singers are one of the joys of spring and summer and isn't it good when they are finally back home.

Another April bird, which we always enjoy, was early this year. Listed as returning on the 28th, we saw and heard our first Catbird several weeks before that.

Having to write this a week in advance so as to meet a publishing deadline, I don't know whether they will be back on time or not but yesterday (the 29th) the Black and White Warblers and the Baltimore Orioles should have made an appearance.

A year ago we were fortunate in seeing both of these handsome birds; hope we are lucky again this year.

☆

OTHER BIRDS we can hope to see the first part of May include; Kingbirds, the 1st; Verries the 2nd; Rose-breasted Grosbecks the 2nd; American Red-starts the Scarlet Tanagers the 8th; Ruby-throated Hummingbirds the 11th; Orchard Orioles the 11th; Indigo Buntings the 12th.

All month long Vireos and Warblers will be flying through but most of us will not have a chance to see and enjoy them.

Their names, however, tickle the tongue — for instance Bay-breasted Warbler, Yellow-throated Vireo and Golden-winged Warbler—and the miracle of migration is exciting to think about and wonder over.

I call the fact that year after year birds move thousands of miles, from one place to another, a miracle and truly it is.

Questions about migration, it's hows and whys cannot be completely answered; there are still, it seems, a good many things about Mother Nature which we do not understand.

On warm spring days, however, the thrill of having the wanderers back again is almost sufficient in itself.

That some people wonder about the whys and hows is fine, but we are happy to merely heave a deep sigh of contentment and think how nice it is to have them home again.

Boysville Holding Open House May 10

Boysville of Michigan, proud of its spot in Michigan's achievements, invites all of Michigan to visit and inspect its campus and school facilities on Sunday afternoon, May 10, states Brother John Lavelle, C.S.C., director.

Originally planned for May 17, the opening day of the state-wide "Michigan Week" ceremonies, Boysville moved its exercises up a week in deference to ceremonies planned for the same occasion and timing by the Knights of Columbus of Michigan in honor of Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit.

Boysville is entering the final quarter of its eleventh year as a University of Michigan accredited high school for Catholic boys with a serious home problem, not of their own fault.

It is not, in any sense, a correctional institution as is some times erroneously supposed.

The school, six miles east of Tecumseh was officially dedicated on October 24, 1948 by the late Cardinal Mooney, assisted by the Bishops of the other four Michigan Catholic dioceses — Lansing, Marquette, Grand Rapids and Saginaw.

The day's program will start at 1 p.m. with small-group tours of the campus, personally conducted by members of the student body.

At 1:30 p.m., the Boysville school band will present a concert, assisted by the school's glee and choral club.

At 2:30 p.m., there will be a baseball game between Boysville and Catholic Central of Monroe, on the school's excellent "Carlisle" field.

At 5 p.m. the day's schedule will be closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the campus chapel.

At 1 p.m. sandwiches, softdrinks, ice-cream, etc., will be available; the proceeds from the sale of which will go to the Boysville Mission Club.

Charlton Heston Opens Drama Season at U. of Michigan

ANN ARBOR — Charlton Heston, known for his screen portrayal of Moses in "The Ten Commandments," will inaugurate the 1959 University of Michigan Drama Season.

Also slated to appear in the annual five-week series are Conrad Nagel, Charles Hohman, Paul Hartman, Earle Hyman, Jacqueline Brookes and Ernest Graves.

Getting underway the week of May 11, the festival will present stage and screen star Charlton Heston in the title role of Shakespeare's drama of political and personal ambition, "Macbeth." Playing opposite Heston will be Jacqueline Brookes and Ernest Graves.

Each of the five plays will run for one week in the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre playing Monday through Saturday evenings at 8:30 p.m. with matinees on Thursday and Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

The theatre box office will open for the sale of season tickets on Monday, May 4. Mail orders are now being accepted.

"You might say we're partners in progress!"

The close and harmonious business relationship between depositor and banker is a long-standing one. It's a mighty widespread one, too. Take the matter of farm credit: America's banks, as a group, furnish more farm credit than any other institutional lenders — and at low cost. That's just part of the picture, of course. The bank provides a wide range of services to help the farmer, the merchant, the manufacturer and their families with money matters of many kinds, and offers experienced financial counsel whenever it's wanted. Traditionally, the banker takes a lifelong interest in the progress of all his customers, from the youngster opening a first savings account on up. He's proud to be a partner in progress to all, every step of the way.

Whatever your field of endeavor, it is our pleasure, as well as our business, to work hand in hand with you and yours in the achievement of worth-while goals. Come in!

Young Musicians Present Concerts at Siena Heights

Two outstanding music students will present concerts at Siena Heights College in Adrian. Valerie Rose Apel, a Siena graduate, returns in piano recital, Wednesday evening, May 6, at 8 in Walsh Hall.

Besides a heavy teaching schedule at two East Detroit schools where she meets 1,500 students in a two week term, Miss Apel prepares seasonal and assembly programs.

A Chopin repertoire has been prepared by the young pianist for her program.

Clarence Byrd will appear in a concert Sunday evening at 8 in Walsh Hall.

A 1956 graduate of Adrian high school, Mr. Byrd studied piano with Sister Denise at Siena Heights until his matriculation at the University of Michigan.

He is presently studying with John Kollen, piano professor at Michigan's School of Music.

The young pianist's program is a pretentious one as he prepares to perform classic favorites of Bach, Mozart, Chopin and Brahms.

The public is invited to attend both concerts.

Fire Fighters Contain Blaze at Macon Farm

A poultry house on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Robinson at 12364 Ford Highway was struck by lightning and set afire Saturday about noon.

The Tecumseh fire department was summoned and radioed for the Clinton department.

The fire was confined to the 20 x 60 foot poultry building, even though other structures were dangerously close.

Mrs. Robinson said certainly the farm house would have burned too if the wind direction had changed.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

'Factories' Producing Today's Poultry Meat

Americans are taking quite a liking to commercially produced poultry meat.

In 1934, more than 90% of the chickens eaten came from farm flocks that produced eggs. Now, about three-fourths of the chicken meat comes from commercial broiler flocks.

Consumption of commercial broilers and frying chickens has increased from nearly zero to an estimated 20 pounds per person a year, reports Jim Davidson, extension poultryman at Michigan State University.

Murph Reports

By DON MURPHY
Executive Secretary

Clean-up Paint-up, Fix-up is a promotion that in order to be successful must have the cooperation of every person living in Tecumseh.

This is a year-around promotion, but we have selected May 17 through May 23 as the 10 special days to really go all out and give Tecumseh a face lifting.

Our city is not a dirty city, but one that we should be proud of.

Our new building average is 20% above national average — our residential sections wouldn't have to take a back seat from any city—our business district, although small, is fairly well kept — our schools, churches, civic buildings, etc. are something of which we all should be proud.

But . . . even so we could stand some cleaning up here and there.

To the Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up goals of good health protection, safety protection, prevention of fire, building good citizenship and improving property is added the vital aim of Civil Defense.

In an unusual film recently released by the National Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Bureau in cooperation with the Civil Defense Administration, it shows an actual atomic blast and its effect on three houses, each in a different condition.

One house is unpainted and in disrepair, one well-kept and recently painted, and one ill-kept with a littered yard.

Only the house in good repair survives the blast and atomic heat wave. The film demonstrates what could happen anywhere and the application to every community is obvious.

The film vividly illustrates that Clean Up activities are a concrete way of supporting Civil Defense and protecting life and property.

I am not predicting any atomic blast for Tecumseh, but I am saying that besides good health protection, safety prevention of fire, building good citizenship and imtection property is added protection against storms and atomic blasts.

For this year's promotion, Bill Sage is the general chairman and is working to get plans synchronized so that the dates of the promotion will be plainly marked in each persons mind.

Plans have been completed and will be published in the near future, so watch. The Herald for further developments.

And in the meantime, remember that a clean city is a must if we are to be attractive to additional business and payrolls for Tecumseh.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Magic— Easy Does It

Little Pinky Roberts was so fond of her two baby rabbits Easy didn't have the heart to tell her they had run away.

"Just had to replace those rabbits before Pinky came home from school," Easy said. "Trouble was the only two available were full grown.

"I figured they'd have to do," he went on, "so I just hoped for the best. Then, when Pinky saw the rabbits she ran into the house, yelling, 'Wait'll you see my rabbits! Those vitamins made them twice as big!'"

From where I sit, children see things as they'd "like them to be," but adults ought to see things as they are. For instance, we can't close our eyes to intolerance and call ourselves "good neighbors." If I don't respect your choice of tea or coffee and you don't respect mine for beer, that's intolerance and no excuses. On the other hand, tolerance makes good friends "multiply."

Nicest wagon that ever joined your family!

Chevy's station wagons should really be called family wagons. You can choose from five models, including the four-door nine-passenger Kingswood, with its rear-facing rear seat.

Here's a brisk and breezy wagon that'll take on any chore you name, from a trip to the beach to a journey home from the lumberyard. There's room, you see, for a whole half-ton of cargo—a space ten feet long, with the rear seat and tailgate down.

These wagons are easy to load, too—you just roll the rear window into the tailgate and flip it down flat. No liftgate to wrestle with.

Chevrolet's so easy to handle it's a natural for the lady of the house. Big, safer brakes, too. Chevy's even got bigger tires—they come as standard equipment on every one of our wagons. But why not fall in love with a Chevy firsthand—at your Chevrolet dealer's!

Should Work Perfectly for Spring Cleaning

Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up — then call Tecumseh 868 for a Goodwill truck to pick up your usable discards.

Discards can be used by Goodwill Industries and are a burden to government collection agencies.

Householders will find their spring cleaning is made easier if they separate clothing, household furnishings, toys, small appliances and other repairable items from their rubbish.

Clean-Up Week in Tecumseh is May 17-28.

Corn Production Should Rise 12%

About 12% more corn is to be grown this year, according to planting intentions reports.

This will put the total U. S. acreage at 83,921,000. Michigan farmers plan to plant 2,255,000 acres to corn—18% more than last year.

The change in support rates had a lot to do with the shift to corn from soybeans, oats, grain sorghum and hay.

Also some land that was in the Soil Bank acreage reserve last year is apparently going into corn this year.

This year all corn producers will be eligible for support rates averaging nationally $1.12. This is 6c higher than non-complying producers received last year. Also, support rates on other crops were sharply reduced.

Another thing Ferris thinks may have helped to induce farmers to go to more corn was the fact that support rates on corn were announced before planting time.

Last year, the support on non-compliance corn wasn't announced until just before harvest.

This year's support of $1.12 is 24c below what complying producers received last year. However, only 12% of the corn grown last year was within acreage allotments.

"50¢ a tablet can be cheap!"

No one likes to pay 50c for a single tablet —including us. Nevertheless, some of the newer drugs cost that much. They seem expensive —yes, only seem. Consider this: Pneumonia used to mean 4 to 6 bedridden weeks. Loss of pay. Often hospitalization. Often death. Now, a few dollars' worth of one antibiotic will generally cure pneumonia in days. And this is only one example . . . there are many others. When you consider what a few 50c pills will do for you, they seem downright cheap.

"EVIL STILL WORSE HAVE WE KNOWN"

Each new year begins with a goal we hope to accomplish before its end. All members of the health team, research scientists, physicians pharmacists, dentists, nurses and chemists are united in a great effort to cure and prevent every disease.

We still have much to accomplish, but the past few years have enabled us to overcome many evils. No longer do we fear Maleria, pneumonia, mastoids, venerial diseases, infections from child-birth or surgical operations. We now have specific drugs physicians prescribe that can be depended upon. Even the few remaining diseases, for which we still have no known cure, can be lived with if their diagnosis is early.

Pick up your prescription if shopping near us, or let us deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Rexall Druggists Sponsor TV Show To Hawk 1c Sale

Cameron Rexall Drug Store, along with some 10,000 Rexall druggists across the country, will sponsor a one-hour show on NBC-TV Sunday, called "At the Movies."

The spectacular stars Sid Ceasar and Art Carney, Jayne P. Morgan and the Morgan Brothers, Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander, and Cliff Norton, with special guest star Audrey Meadows.

Viewers and listeners, according to Mr. Cameron, will learn what purchase power the penny still has. During Rexall 1c Sale days, Monday, through Saturday, May 9, customers can buy two identical Rexall items for the price of one plus 1c.

These sales began many years ago when the Rexall Drug Company used them as a means of introducing merchandise to new customers.

The original sale proved so popular that it has been repeated annually since 1913 achieving national prominence. It has become an American family event.

LESLIE H. AEBERSOLD

Assignment: Chile for Les Aebersold

Leslie H. Aebersold has gone to Chile for the federal government.

He is a representative for the State Department's Point Four program.

This is an activity that assists people of other nations in attaining self sufficiency.

Mr. Aebersold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aebersold, 316 S. Evans St. He graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1932.

He is vice-president and general manager of the Opekasit Farm Management Corporation in Albany, Ga. and has obtained a year's leave of absence from his duties there.

His work in Chile will be to aid the Chilean department of agriculture in improving farm production and setting up a program of farm management.

While he will be paid by the State Department, he will be accountable to the Chilean government.

Mr. Aebersold says the program is not a "give-away" and the Chilean government will participate in the expense.

Mrs. Aebersold and the children, Bob and Joanne, are also looking forward to the new assignment. They will remain in Albany until the end of the school year before joining him in Santiago, Chile.

Farm Census Will Be Started During October

Nationwide census of agrieulture starts in late October and in early November of this year, according to the U. S. Bureau of the Census.

This is the 17th such census.

Thirty thousand census takers are scheduled to visit each of the nation's 4,600,000 farms, ranches and other places where livestock and poultry are kept or crops produced.

Census questions will call for three kinds of information:

1. A count of farm resources such as total farms, area of farms, acres of cropland, acres for pasture, etc.,

2. Farm products produced and sold in 1959.

3. How many days the farmer worked off the farm, how much fertilizer and lime was used this year, how much was spent for farm labor, etc.

Bureau of the Census officials are suggesting that farmers keep a few simple records to assist the census takers.

Records of harvest, products sold and major expenses would be valuable to both the farmer and the census taker.

Information gathered by the agricultural census is used by agricultural researchers, agricultural industries, farm organizations and by farmers themselves in making operating decisions.

Spring Increases Child Molesting

Arrival of spring signals the increase in child molestation cases, Sgt. Carl Anderson, commander of the Clinton State Police warns.

He advises parents to caution their children about the danger of contacts with strangers and offering several suggestions for their protection.

Sex offenses against children reach their peak during the months when schools are dismissed for the summer vacation.

Child molesting is actually a much bigger menace than the figures indicate. A large percentage of incidents are never reported to the police by parents for fear of publicity or the possibility of harm coming to their children.

Names, however, are never used by the press, radio and television except in cases of murder, and if all incidents were reported, police would have a much better opportunity to apprehend offenders and offenses would be greatly reduced.

'It will pay parents to take the time to explain to their children the advice they should follow to prevent such crimes taking place," said Sgt. Anderson.

☆

FOLLOWING IS A list of "don'ts" for parents to tell their children:

1. Don't accept rides or go for walks with strangers. Always know the person you are with.

2. Whenever you are offered money, candy, ice cream or any other gifts by strangers, don't accept them.

3. When you meet strangers walking or in cars, don't stop and talk with them.

4. Don't play or walk close to roads or streets. Use sidewalks whenever they are available. Stay a safe distance from strangers at all times to avoid being touched or grabbed.

5. Whenever a stranger offers you employment, don't accept the job or go along with him until you thave had a talk with your parents and they have given their approval.

6. Don't permit strangers to join you during play hours at school or home.

7. Don't permit strangers sitting next to you in a movie theater to touch your clothes or body. If possible, take a pal along.

8. If necessary for you to use a public toilet, don't wait or loiter around afterwards.

9. Don't walk or play alone in alleys, deserted buildings and other places. Always have some pals along.

10. If any strangers or pals ask you to disobey these rules, don't Remember the rules are for your welfare and protection.

☆

HERE ARE some good "do's" to recommend:

1. Whenever possible keep together in a group during outside activities at school or away from your home and parents.

2. Report to your parents, teachers or police as soon as possible when a stranger or suspicious acting person is hanging around a school, playground or any other place where children assemble at work or play.

3. Always try to obtain the license number of the car the stranger may be driving or riding in. Write it down in pencil, or scratch it with a stick or some other object in the dirt, or use a stone to scratch it on the cement. The license plate identification is very important and so far as possible should include the letters, numerals, color and state.

4. Write down or memorize the name, year, color and body style of the car.

5. Write down or memorize the stranger's race, approximate age, height, weight and color of hair and eyes. Special attention should be given to marks, such as a mustache or blemishes or scars on the face, arms and hands, and physical handicaps and peculiarities.

6. Write down or memorize the color, type and style of clothing the stranger was wearing.

BLANK TV PICTURE

We often get excited phone callers asking: "My TV picture went black; how much is a new picture tube?"

I'd say that only in about one case in fifty calls like this is the picture tube at fault. Because the picture tube depends upon so many parts of the set to receive its voltage for operation, just one small part can cause it to go black.

At COOK ELECTRIC we have the necessary electronic meters to find the trouble in minutes and replace or repair the part right in your living room in about 90% of the cases. Phone 692-J for this kind of television service.

LENAWEE COUNTY'S LARGEST WEEKLY

VOL. 108 — ONE HUNDRED NINTH YEAR — NUMBER 29 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1959 | 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long AND Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

Mostly short this week. Weather has been too nice to concentrate on long essays.

☆

Tecumseh was the "tangle town" in current Free Press contest last week, only the clue left me wondering:

"This place was named for a great Indian chief who was a brigadier-general for the British in the War of 1812. It is a trade center for celery-growing area. Refrigeration equipment is made here."

That celery bit stops me. Any info you might have?

☆

Sharron Muhn paid her $500 transportation fee at Ann Arbor the other day.

She is most grateful to folks from the area who helped.

Sharron, singing with the Michigan Choral, leaves by plane June 24 for a European tour.

Still to be collected is pocket money for incidental expenses and she's working on that now.

Sharron says four days in Paris and 10 in Berlin have been added to the group's agenda.

I'm no music critic, but would venture that Sharron has considerable ability after hearing her at the recent Music Club program.

☆

Don't forget, Sunday is Mother's Day. Let's not neglect telling those wonderful gals how swell we think they are.

☆

Our town's expert with the oils, Russell Steinke, is certainly happy these days what with scoring so highly at the Toledo art show.

Congratulations, Russ.

☆

Praise also is due Don Brazee, Tecumseh high school track coach, and athletic director Vic Lawson for the fine Tecumseh Relays track event they staged Saturday.

Class C and B schools from the area spent the day here and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Nothing like a big meet to bring out the best times from these hustling youngsters.

There are some few who would like to curtail athletic competition, keep it on an intramural level.

They're nuts. Fortunately, there aren't too many.

American schoolboy sports reflects our nation's whole tradition of free enterprise and a desire to excell when matched against the toughest foe.

Here's to more and bigger athletic events.

☆

While on sports, plans are now being set for the annual high school banquet.

It will be held Thursday, May 21 to honor football, basketball, track, baseball and golf squads.

The general public is invited.

At present, Vic is getting the speaker, who promises to be big-time.

☆

A 16-year-old Tecumseh youth was knifed in Adrian last week.

Makes you feel a little sick ... sick at the thought that kids will get themselves in such a predicament—both the one who did the stabbing and the one cut.

A close friend in Adrian said he heard a teen-age rumble was being planned, but law officers neatly headed it off.

As parents, we should do some checking up on our own youngsters and make sure they stay clear of such trouble.

Punishment for these actions should be quick and severe. At the same time some wholesome recreation should be given to substitute for this hoodlumism.

☆

While such things as a knife-ings make headlines, this very fact means they're unusual, out of the ordinary.

And that's our closing point.

Thousands of others of our Tecumseh area youths are leading useful, happy, Christian lives — doing nothing for which they can be ashamed.

To them, we say, keep it up.

Group End Year

Tecumseh Country Club mixed doubles keglers will close its season with a "Fun Night" at the Airport Bowl Friday, May 15, at 7 p.m.

Then they will go to Don's Grill for dinner. Substitutes are invited to dinner. For more information call 14.

ELECTROCARDIOGRAM is included in the check of Chuck Mueller.

8,500 Will Be Examined at Health Study Clinic

By the end of 1960, nearly 8,500 folks will have passed through a special examining clinic, which is now a major part of the Tecumseh Community Health Study.

And they'll all receive red-carpet treatment.

So far, more than 500 have undergone the physical examination program, which was set up on a two-year basis and partly made possible by a $280,000 Heart Fund grant.

Health Study officials are aiming for the 8,500 figure which would be 100% coverage of all people involved in this unique health analysis.

They are working in quotas of about 850 people during one period. These are chosen simply by drawing dwelling units out of a hat. When the first batch is complete, they'll move on to another 850.

In this way, saturation coverage can be obtained.

☆

SEVEN FULL-TIME interviewers from the University of Michigan School of Public Health are currently in Tecumseh, making a preliminary interview in the homes and arranging for the actual visit to the clinic, which is set up at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

They attempt to send whole families through at one time. It usually takes about an hour and 15 minutes for an adult to be examined and slightly less than one hour for a child.

As folks go through the clinic they are treated as VIPs (very important persons.) They are met by a receptionist and quickly started through the exam.

"It's not a station-to-station type like the army gives," grin John Napier of the U. of M. "One doctor takes care of the entire exam for each person."

These medicos—there are 15 and two are women—are resident physicians at the University Hospital, all keenly interested in research and who have volunteered to help in the study.

They come over two or three days a week specifically to fill appointments made by the interviewers.

☆

EACH PERSON examined later receives a report in one of three catagories:

1. Health is OK.
2. OK, except for defects or illnesses previously mentioned by examinee in interview.
3. Something new discovered, advise person to see his family doctor.

The family medico also receives a report in the third case, is one step in the proper direction in treating the newly-discovered malady.

Thus, the information gathered at the clinic serves well in two directions: advancement of a scientific study and check on individual's health.

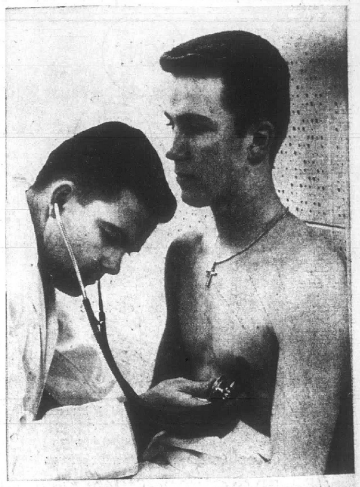
Laboratory reports usually take about one month to be completed. Some of this work is done at Herrick Memorial, the rest at University hospital, Michigan's medical school and the school of public health.

☆

ALL OF THE information gathered in the health study and at the clinic is being transferred onto IBM punched cards.

Eventually, each Tecumseh area person in the study hall will be represented by six such cards in the school of public health, identified by a five-digit number.

Of the clinic to date, Mr. Napier states, "People have been cooperative. We ask them please to be prompt for their appointments as this time is reserved for them. The doctor will be idle when they're not there."



TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

HEART CHECK — Chuck Mueller's ticker is examined as part of his visit to the clinic held in conjunction with the Tecumseh Community Health Study. Chuck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mueller. The entire family went through the clinic along with Chuck.

Seeks Plate Bureau

A request to use the old police station in the fire barns for the Chamber of Commerce office was accepted favorably by council Monday night.

Chamber secretary Don Murphy told councilmen that use of the rooms would put the Chamber in an excellent position to obtain the license bureau, which was taken out of Tecumseh by the state a few weeks ago.

A small charge or rent will be charged.

THE 1959-60 budget with a one-mill increase was approved with no objections. The small increase in tax will be used for street improvements.

☆

AN OCCUPANCY certificate for a house on Shady Lane was denied a representative of Town and Country Homes of Dearborn, since it had a septic tank.

Councilmen told the representative that septic tanks could not be used in that area and all future homes would have to be hooked up to sewers.

Since a sewer is not available for the present house, councilmen said an occupancy certificate would be given upon receipt of a letter that Town and Country would construct a sewer in that area.

☆

IN OTHER action, council:

● Tabled any action on aiding the local airport until city attorney James Bearley had a chance to investigate the extent and legality of city aid.

● Reappointed Dr. Carleton Cook and Stephen Illeck to the Planning Commission.

● Reappointed Perry Satterthwaite to the hospital board.

● Discussed appointment of Dale Clark, local telephone office manager, to the planning commission.

● Appointed Gerald Smith marshal of the day for Memorial Day.

● Approved sidewalk licenses for Wes Haessuler, Templeton Construction, and Alexander and Keefer.

● Approved state's recommendation for traffic speeds in the city.

● Tabled Ollie Musch's request for a trailer permit until cleared through the planning commisison, but granted a temporary permit.

Russell Cooper Is Installed as Reader

Installation of a licensed layreader, the planning of a parish picnic and preparations for a parish Vacation Church School have been interests of St. Peter's congregation.

The annual Kitchen Tour and tea May 21 has been the special concern of the Episcopal churchwomen of St. Peter's in recent weeks.

Russell Cooper, junior warden of the parish, was recently installed as a layreader by the Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne, rector.

Mr. Cooper studied at a regional school for layreaders sponsored by the Diocese of Michigan.

After being examined and passed, Mr. Cooper was recommended for licensing to the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Bishop of Michigan.

At his installation he received a special layreader's cross and a Bible which was the gift of his family.

St. Peter's annual family picnic will be held immediately following the 11 a.m. service on June 7.

Beginning with the following Sunday and continuing through the last Sunday in August, services at St. Peter's will be 8 and 10 a.m. During July, when the rector is on vacation, there will be no 8 a.m. service unless otherwise announced.

The Church school staff set the dates for the summer Vacation Church School to be held at the Church August 3-7 from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Dr. Horton Is Man with Answers of Health Study

Dr. Robert Horton of the School of Public Health of the University Hospital will be the speaker at Hospital Auxiliary Tuesday.

So many Tecumsehites have asked questions concerning the current health survey that it seemed feasible to have the man with all the answers come to this meeting.

Mrs. Ralph Dabe with Mrs. Joe Rohweder and Mrs. Richard Coak attended the Tri-State Hospital Assembly at the Palmer House in Chicago April 27-29.

Joe Rice Elected Named a Deputy

Annual meeting of the Michigan Society of the Order of Founders and Patriots of America was held at Botsford Inn in Detroit Saturday.

Among officers elected was deputy governor, Joe Rice of Tecumseh.

Mr. Rice is also a member of the board of managers of the Michigan Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

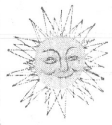
Some light on a dark subject



Ever wonder why some pills come in clear, transparent bottles, while others hide behind brown or dark-green glass? It's no accident, but by design. Why . . . ? Simple daylight can reduce the potency of some medications. Consider how sunshine fades a rayon print, for instance. Thus, where needed, we use dark bottles, not to hide anything, but to preserve the medical effectiveness of the drug your physician prescribed for you. This is but one of many precautionary measures that are taken to provide you with the best in pharmaceutical service.

Words cannot convey my gratitude to all of you, but I shall always remember your kindness in helping me to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity. May God richly bless each one of you.

Animals Ask for Some Water

"Water, water, please give me lots of water this summer."

This is the plea of any animal, but especially of the dogs in Tecumseh.

"Be Kind to Animals Week" is May 3-9 and open house is being held all week at the shelter on Academy Road, near Adrian, two miles east of Hena Heights College.

The Humane Society of Lenawee County urges that residents keep dogs and other pets off streets and highways.

Hospital Again for Mr. Richard and Bad Heel

Larry Richard, nine-year?old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richard, is a patient a second time at Herrick Memorial Hospital since injuring his heel about four weeks ago.

He was playing with other boys on the creekbank near his home at 4020 Allen Rd. when the knife he was using to cut forks for sling shots dropped into the water.

After removing his shoes and socks he stepped into the water to retrive his knife and landed on a chunk of glass slicing the heel away from his foot.

At present the heel is grafted to the back of his other leg and his progress seems to be satisfactory.

All Are Welcome

CAN I BECOME A NEW TESTAMENT CHRISTIAN WITHOUT BEING VOTED ON?

Becoming a Christian is an individual matter between a believer and Christ. It is not man's prerogative to judge another's fitness, for it is Christ who adds to his church (Acts 2:47). The Eunuch was baptized into Christ. He became a Christian without being considered for membership by any local group. As in every true conversion THE LORD added him to the church (Acts 8:26-29).

Confusion results from a failure to distinguish between the universal and local church. Upon obedience the Lord admits a believer to the universal body; however, God has delegated certain authority to the local church in working with and disciplining the members. Since a Christian does join himself (Acts 9:26) to the local congregation, he must act in accordance with the God-ordained leaders. A member may be disfellowshiped if judged to be unruly, but this action is limited only to the local church, not the universal church (1 Corinthians 5:1-5).

Buy furnishing the proper environment, the local church may aid a person in becoming a Christian, but it has no jurisdiction in voting on the candidate. It is possible to become a Christian without the existence of a local church; however, once a person is a Christian he assumes obligations to his fellow-Christians in a local church situation where he works and worships. He should either identify himself with an existing church which meets the requirements of the New Testament or else begin such a church in his own home.

Open House at Boysville

If you have never visited the campus at Boysville, why not drop out Sunday between 2 and 5 p.m.?

It's a 10-minute drive from Tecumseh and will make an enjoyable outing for the entire family. The school, just south of Macon, is holding open house.

As The Herald has pointed out before, Boysville is not a home for delinquents. Far from it.

Youngsters attending Boysville are from broken Catholic homes. Usually, their family environment has been full of confusion, battling, pathos.

At Boysville they find friendliness, love and discipline tempered by fairness. They also are able to attend a top-flight high school with full accreditation.

Built after World War II, Boysville has grown and flourished, thanks to the guiding care of the Brothers of Holy Cross and the generosity of many Michigan men.

A new school building was dedicated last fall and a new dormitory moved into this spring. These are just two of the many structures making up the campus—each of which is always spotlessly clean, kept this way by the boys themselves.

Reflect Nature's Reawakening

Spring and cleaning. These are two words which have become practically inseparable.

The mop, the bucket, the scrub brush are as symbolic of this season as the crocus and the daffodil.

Nothing is quite so satisfying as the wakening from winter doldrums to the constructive action of cleaning, scrubbing, polishing.

If we add to this basic spring mixture the further ingredients of repairing steps, roof, electrical appliances, painting interior and exterior surfaces, planting flowers, our community will reflect nature's reawakening.

Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up, Plant-Up today for a sparkling tomorrow.

Clean-Up week in Tecumseh starts May 17.

They Haven't Been Forgotten

We applaud the joint effort of our town's two veterans organizations in planning a memorial to the area's war dead.

Too often, we let pass from our minds the gallant men and women who gave their lives so that we could live as free men, not slaves.

Many of those GIs would have chuckled had they known we called them gallant; but that's what they were. They were of an age to be called to serve their nation when war broke out. You might say they were victims of fate.

But none the less, they served willingly. Oh, they might have grumbled and complained—but what GI didn't. However, beneath the gruff exterior, were souls as dedicated to freedom as any of our founding fathers.

We're pleased their former comrades-in-arms haven't forgotten them and are willing and happy to erect a permanent monument in their memory.

Ruffle His IBM Cards

We can't help but be fascinated by details of the Tecumseh Community Health Study.

Did you know it's the only one of its kind in the world?

There have been surveys of specific age groups, or professions, but never of complete communities—and so detailed.

Already the scientific eyes of the medical profession are focused on Tecumseh and one of these days when data has started to be released, laymen will begin to regard this city with unusual interest.

Then, each of the five-digit numbers (that's the way we'll go down in medical history) can ruffle his IBM cards proudly and say, "I played my role in this great study."

On A Long-Term Basis

Overheard in a downtown store:

"Fixing a road by tosisng some stones into the holes and covering them with tar is a waste of money!"

The Tecumseh citizen who said this referred to the "seal" type street repair used in Tecumseh.

We're inclined to agree with him and wonder if city officials shouldn't completely review possible solutions to the constant street problem.

Should we consider new roadways on a long-term basis, selling citizens on the idea that spending 10 or 20 times the amount now used would actually save the city money over the long haul?

JP Courts; How Much Longer?

Several years ago, the State of Ohio abolished the justice of peace court system.

In its place, special courts were established within each county to hear minor cases. On an average, there are two to a county.

There, elected judges hold courts on certain days, handling cases from a wide, geographical area.

Persons seeking such judgeships must have specific talents and training, more than if they were merely competing for a JP spot in their home community.

With good roads and ready transportation, there is no great need for court facilities in each town and hamlet.

With fewer courts and better-trained jurists, there is bound to be greater efficiency and uniformity of justice.

Some day the same setup may come to Michigan and we think it could be a definite improvement.

JOHN CAVAS, new Kroger store manager.

New Kroger Manager Was Standout Athlete

John Cavas of Sandusky, O. has been named manager of the Tecumseh Kroger store, replacing Dick Myers.

Originally from Toledo and a graduate of Adrian College, Mr. Cavas has been co-manager of the Sandusky store since last June.

With his wife and 10-months-old daughter, he has moved into a home at 606 Murray Dr.

Mr. Cavas' time in college, which started in 1950, was interrupted in '53 when he volunteered for army duty.

Prior to that he had been a standout athlete on the Adrian campus, was captain of the basketball team which was unbeaten on its home floor and represented Michigan in the small college tournament at Kansas City.

That season he established a record for free-toss accuracy at 75%.

He was president of the junior class and his fraternity, Alpha Tau Omega.

As a senior he lived in Toledo where he was a physical director at the Central YMCA while commuting to classes. He graduated among the top 10% of his class.

Pet Parade Is Saturday at Patterson

Mrs. Edwin Gove is co-chairman with Mrs. Robert Anderson for the Brownie Pet Parade to be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Patterson school.

Following the parade, a drill practice with Robert Custard as drill master assisted by Robert Anderson, will be held for all Brownies and Girl Scouts.

This is in preparation for the Memorial Day parade when Troop 2 Girl Scouts will prepare the float and three troops of seventh grade students will distribute the flowers at veterans graves.

MYF Earn $25 from Candy Sale

About $25 was realized from the Methodist Youth Fellowship's candy sale. The money is to be used for Judson Collins Camp at Wamplers Lake.

Now the active youth group has planned a spaghetti supper.

Rogers Highway Repair Should Be Done July 1

The four mile stretch of Rodgers Highway from Laberdee Rd. to Rouget Rd., which has been undergoing repairs since last year, is scheduled to be completed about July 1.

Plans are being completed to resurface Rogers north from Laberdee to the city limits of Tecumseh.

This will come under federal aid and will be a better type of construction than normally done on county roads.

Because it is a federal contract, bids will be taken through Lansing.

If plans for reconstruction go through this nine-mile stretch of road will be torn up the rest of the year and will be closed to traffic.

An agreement has been signed with the Wabash Railroad for installation of flashers and a gate at the crossing between Holloway Rd. and Labardee within the next two weeks.

Church Women Hold Assembly in Birmingham

United Church Women of Michigan will hold their 30th annual assembly Wednesday and Thursday, May 13, 14 in the First Presbyterian Church at Birmingham.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Principal speaker at banquet Wednesday evening will be Mrs. James Evans, national director of Christian World Missions for United Church Women, which includes the special day — World Day of Prayer.

Protestant church women in Tecumseh are invited to attend. For information reservations contact Mrs. Curtis Wright, 72R after 5 p.m.

Mrs. Harry Crosby, Mrs. Harry Weakly and Mrs. Glenn Driscoll were Mothers Day week-end guests of Rita Crosby and Harold Weakly at Western Michigan University.

Place Where She Taught 18 Years Honors Her

Mrs. Ethel Moffatt, formerly Ethel Russell, is being honored May 13 at the Fisher school in Redford township by its PTA.

She is a sixth-grade teacher, has taught there for 18 years.

"A testimonial tea to salute her for being an outstanding teacher, dedicated to her profession and loved and respected by all who know her," was the comment made by a Detroit paper.

Mrs. Moffatt is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Russell of Tecumseh.

She graduated from Tecumseh high school and taught school in Ridgeway before going to Detroit. She plans to retire at the end of the school year.

Mr. and Mrs. James Danforth and Mrs. Anna Grigg accompanied the Rev. Blair Bashore to Morenci last Tuesday evening to attend the Christian Education Conference.

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

LOVELY LADIES — It was a birthday celebration for Edith Ingersoll (at right) and everyone had a grand time. Mrs. Carrie Beck who is 90 and Miss Elizabeth Beamish 91, offered their congratulations to Miss Ingersoll, who is 85.

Edith Is Honored

By CLARA WALDRON

It may have marked her 85th birthday, but last Friday was just a glorified May Day for Edith Ingersoll.

More than 100 of her friends came to the Aebersold Hostess House for a reception in her honor.

They came from as far away as Addison and Deerfield and included those she had made during her 26 years as Tecumseh librarian, through her many church activities and through the various club associations she has enjoyed since her retirement.

The pleasant occasion was made possible by Mrs. E. J. Aebersold, Mrs. Lynn Harris, Mrs. Thomas Hamilton and Mrs. John Lott, who were the reception hostesses and the neighbors and friends who assisted them.

These included Mrs. Raymond Kempf, Mrs. John Quigley, Mrs. Harry Beland, Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. Rose Service and Mrs. Frederick Dickinson.

Mrs. Louis Schneider was one of those who received the guests, Mrs. David Beck, Elizabeth Beamish, Mrs. Alta Boyce, Lillian Cannon and Mrs. Clyde Bailey presided at the tea and coffee urns and the guests book was in charge of Bertha LaPointe and this writer.

The arrangements of spring flowers which decorated the house and the corsages worn by the assistant hostesses were the work of Mary McWilliams.

Beautifully decorated birthday cakes were served from a table covered by a hand-painted linen cloth, brought from Ireland by Mrs. Hamilton and was centered with an arrangement of pink snapdragons in a silver bowl.

As a memento of the day, Miss Ingersoll was presented with a birthday book recording the natal day of all her guests.

Ascension Will Be Observed Sunday

The Ascension into heaven of Christ will be observed Sunday at St. Peter's with the service of the Holy Communion at 10 a.m. and Eucharist at 5:30 in the afternoon.

The latter service will be followed by a family potluck supper and a film program.

The Feast of the Ascension is observed as a part of the Easter cycle which ends on Whitsunday or Pentecost which this year is May 17.

At the end of the reading of the gospel the Easter Candle is extinguished and is not lighted again until next Easter Eve.

19 Baptized Sunday Night

The Missionary Baptist Church has just concluded a successful revival with the Rev. John Jones of Detroit as evangelist.

Climaxing the two-week crusade 19 people were baptized and received into the church Sunday evening in an impressive ceremony.

+ Our Readers Always Write +

To the Editors:

Referring to your articles on the withdrawal of the Tecumseh Community Chest Board from the Lenawee County United Fund may I say that as a member of that Board (term expires in September) I was the other person who voted "no" on the motion to withdraw.

I have no feeling of guilt in doing so because I still feel that the Lenawee County United Fund is a very fair, just, and logical way to handle our contributions for health, social welfare, recreational and character building programs.

Reports show that every agency on the state level has performed services in Lenawee County and could well be right in Tecumseh. I am sorry that Tecumseh acted so hastily in withdrawing its membership.

Tecumseh's improvements should be handled by a separate board equipped to raise its own funds, thereby, not confusing its residents with the charitable needs of the community.

A Community Improvements Foundation such as the one used by Port Huron, Kalamazoo and other towns could be set up here with the residents pouring their wealth and contibutions of any size into it (tax deductible, of course) and then using the earnings for building a youth house or center, a civic auditorium (or center), a library, a home for older people, a day nursery, and other public buildings in the order of their importance.

For instance, right now our most important need is properly-paved streets.

I am all for worthwhile improvements but at the same time I feel that there is a distinction to be made between the two plans.

Had the board taken more time for study of the needed improvements rather than been so anxious to "please" it still could have provided toward program costs through the United Fund and we would be in the good graces of the county.

To know about the work and needs of the worthwhile charitable agencies means to care and to care means to give of our money, time, and prayers for the betterment of human beings.

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler

To the Editors:

Will you please discontinue sending the Herald down here, as I will soon be coming home.

It has been a pleasure to hear the home news and "weather".

This is my first trip to Florida and I have really enjoyed it. I celebrated my birthday here with my children and other relatives and friends.

I have also enjoyed the beautiful flowers, which used to be a hobby of mine, and picnicing in the state park where you could see wild deer in the clearing munching wild oranges and big lazy alligators dozing in the sun along the shores of the streams.

I expect to be back to Tecumseh in the very near future.

To the Editors:

Your local mental hospital, the Ypsilanti State Hospital, in observance of the eleventh National Mental Health Week, will have an Open House, Sunday, April 26, from 1 to 5 p.m.

The theme for this day is "Operation Friendship". The purpose of this is to present the opportunity for you and your friends to visit your hospital.

This will give us the occasion to acquaint you with the services the hospital provides.

It will also give you the chance to show your less fortunate friends and neighbors, the patients, that you have a genuine interest and concern in their welfare and care.

This experience will be personally helpful in introducing you to the magnitude of some of your community problems.

If you would care to have a speaker address your group about Mental Health, prior to April 26, we will be glad to try and arrange this for you.

We cordially extend a personal invitation to you to visit the Ypsilanti State Hospital on Sunday, April 26. Arrangements have been made for tours throughout the hospital, displays, exhibits, and movies on mental health and the opportunity to have your questions answered by staff members.

The Ypsilanti State Hospital is located on route US 23, north of Milan.

We would appreciate your announcing this invitation to friends and members of your group. We look forward to your visit.

To the Editors,

I graduated from THS in 1904 and I have enjoyed finding items in the Herald that recall pleasant memories of those days.

It is an excellent paper particularly since these present wide-awake young editors took over.

The editorial you wrote after you had been to Kellogg Center and received your merited award and had seen "Soapy" was, I thought, quite a masterpiece.

It struck my fancy so much, I sent it to Mr. Bagwell. I admire the frankness and forthrightness with which you write.

Yours respectfully

Dear Friend:

The House last week passed 254 to 131 a bill stripping Agriculture Secretary Benson of his authority over loans by the Rural Electrification Administration, created to finance cooperative electric power and telephone companies in farming areas. The Rural Electrification Administration was established in 1936 as an independent agency and was incorporated into the Agriculture Department in 1939 by a Reorganization Plan proposed by President Roosevelt. Congress, in 1953, approved President Eisenhower's Reorganization Plan based on Hoover Commission recommendations, giving the Secretary of Agriculture complete authority and responsibility over subordinate agencies in his Department includign the REA.

The bill as passed amends both Reorganization Plans and prevents the Secretary of Agriculture from exercising any authority over the granting or denial of REA loans.

"It is perfectly obvious that if the precedent established today encourages a widespread movement toward dispersal and fragmentation of Government functions, the executive branch of the Government must become an unmanageable hodge-podge of sovereign, autonomous bureaucracies. Congress will find its control weakened to the point of disappearance."

The bill now goes to the President. I have urged him to veto it, which I believe he will.

Sincerely,
George Meader

Tuttle Soon Hits Its Peak

Within another week, H. W. Tuttle Co. will be in full production here.

Now completely moved in, the firm currently has a work force of 75.

It is producing heating elements for electric dryers and ranges, along with some supplemental heat elemtns for air conditioners.

Tuttle's main output is for such dryer manufacturers as RCA-Whirlpool, Kenmore, Easy and Blackstone.

At present the newest Tecumseh industry manufactures nearly 40% of all heating elements used in the nation's dryers.

In the carefully-laid out, plant here, Tuttle has 25,000 square feet of space, nearly 5,000 more than at its two Adrian locations.

Besides, there is ample land south of the present building for future expansion.

H. W. Tuttle, Jr., executive vice-president, explains that the regular plant vacation period will be from July 3 to 20.

During that time, on July 18, there will be an open house for families of employees and members of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

Obscene Mail Can Be Stopped If Public Helps

Postmaster general Arthur E. Summerfield declared the American public can halt the nation's half-billion-dollar a year traffic in mail order obscenity.

Mr. Summerfield suggested these steps if obscene mail, or advertisements soliciting its sale, appears unordered in your home mail box:

1. Save all materials received, including the envelopes and all enclosures.

2. Report the matter immediately to your local Postmaster, and turn the materials over to him. (You may mail in your complaint and evidence if you wish.)

3. Stand ready to sign a formal complaint and testify if criminal action should be necessary.

Mr. Summerfield said public cooperation at this time is particularly important because the federal government is armed with new law which makes it possible to prosecute mail order filth dealers in local area courts.

Turf Controls Weeds

Weed control and fertilizing your lawn go hand in hand. A dense healthy, vigorously growing turf is the most effective weed control measure for lawns.

Best way to find out just what kind of fertilizer your lawn needs for healthy growth is to have the soil tested.

You can bring samples to the Lenawee county soil testing laboratory for a report on what kind of plant food your soils needs.

But if you fertilize your lawn without testing the soil, then use a fertilizer such as 12-6-6, 10-6-4 or 10-3-7. The amount to use depends on the kind of grass in the lawn.

For red fescue, use five pounds per 1,000 square feet; for Kentucky bluegrass, use 10 pounds; and for Merion bluegrass, use 20 pounds.

But even with a fertilizer program, broadleaved weeds and weed grass may become established. In such lawns, you'll need to get rid of the weed plants, then provide the seed, fertilizer and water and the care needed to produce a good turf.

There are many weeds you may find in a lawn and proper identification is needed as the first step in a control program. There are different control measures depending on the weed.

You can get help in identifying your weeds at the county extension office or from the department of botany and plant pathology at Michigan State University.

Further help in fertflizing programs and in lawn weed control is in two extension folders available at the county extension office. Ask for a copy of F-261, "Lawn Weed Control," and F-212, "Care of An Established Lawn."

The vertical and horizontal sweeps do not collapse in unison; and it makes no difference to you or the set. Also, if this spot bothers you, turn the brightness up and it will disappear faster.

Kennedy House Is Topsy-Turvy for Gathering

The home of Mrs. Robert Kennedy was topsy-turvy last week when 12 members and two guests arrived for the meeting of the Tecumseh Progress Extension Club.

As Mrs. Melvin Purple and Mrs. Frank Robinette presented the lesson on "Furniture Arrangement" things were soon put to rights and the business meeting concluded.

Mrs. Donald Sunderland and Mrs. Loren Forrester were guests. Several members enjoyed a tour of the Girls Training School in Adrian recently.

The next meeting will be held May 25 at the home of Mrs. Howard Kronberg 415 Center Drive.

The lesson will be on "maintaining normal weight" and an election of officers will be held.

Policeman Talks About Social Evils

The Rev. Herbert Nation, a policeman in Ann Arbor, will be the speaker at the 11 a.m. worship service of the Church of the Nazarene in Tecumseh Sunday.

He will be in uniform and speak concerning present day social evils and how to correct them.

For an inside story of how law enforcement agencies are seeking to cope with juvenile social problems, Tecumseh residents are invited to bring their young people to the church for this special service.

The Rev. Dale Harvey says that Mr. Nation is especially interesting to teen-agers.

Seaway Ceremonies

Leland D. Bush and Roland Russell, Lenawee county members of the advisory board of the Anderson Farm Corporation of Maumee, O., will leave June 25 with 24 other farm businessmen to attend inauguration ceremonies of the St. Lawrence Seaway at Montreal.

Others interested in the benefits to be received by the three states, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, have established a group plan to go by train.

Anyone wishing to make registrations or obtain more information concerning the tour may call Mr. Bush Macon—46F21.

Mr. Bush says that the Seaway will probably increase the profit on grain as much as 12c per bushel.

Films and a speaker will be available to groups in the community after the ceremonies. More information will be printed in a later issue.

WATCHING AN EXPERT

Many weeks ago, when we first heard a loud raucous call, we smiled, made a mental note that yet another bird was back for the summer and turned our attention to other things.

That we did not go into a tizzy of excitement trying to spot the bird whose rough harsh cry "has been likened to the sound of one of those whirling rattles" is easily explained.

In all the years we have lived by the creek, never once had we seen a Kingfisher, even though each spring and summer we heard them. Others saw, but we only heard.

Long ago this ceased to be a frustration. We became resigned that our lot was to be a listener not a seer—at least, as far as Belted Kingfishers were concerned.

Last Saturday all this changed. It was in the morning. Dad and I were discussing plans for a flower bed when suddenly he jumped to his feet exclaiming, "There is a Kingfisher!"

With a quickness that almost sent the glasses flying off my nose, I jerked my head around and, looking in the direction he indicated, I saw it, a Kingfisher—that most skilled of all Izaak Waltons.

☆

SITTING ON a little branch that jutted out over the creek his position enabled him to see everything that was going on.

Every muscle in his body was alert as his eagle-sharp eyes scanned the water beneath him. Suddenly, like a streak of blue lightning, he dove down, but unfortunately the top of the creek's bank blocked our view and we did not see him hit the water.

In a flash however, he was back in sight again. But instead of flying back to his original perch, he sailed up the creek and lit in a tree just beyond Doctor's bridge.

Again his selected place of observation afforded an unobstructed view of the water. I wonder if he knew he was being watched just as intently as he was watching?

On his first perch, which had been wonderfully close to us, we had a good look at his unruly tousled head.

(Actually the Kingfisher has an almost comical appearance — a fairly large bird, probably 12 inches long, his short tail is slightly rounded and is no way proportionate to his big head, whose size incidently is accentuated by a shaggy crest.)

☆

ON HIS FAR-away perch however, we had to content ourselves with just watching a patch of blue and waiting for his next move. We couldn't even see his huge bill and in our close-up that had dominated his whole appearance.

By the clock he did not keep us waiting long, but the muscles which strained in trying not, to miss a thing, though he sat on the second perch quite a while. Suddenly he must have spotted something because zoom—he was off.

Several wing beats put him above his prey and then with unbelievable quickness, he dove into the water. Oh, had we staged it, the dive could not have been in a better spot for us to see.

With a splash that sent water flying, he hit the creek's surface, but in an instant his big blue-and-white body was up in the air again and those strong wings carried him up the creek, out of sight.

☆

IT WOULD be wonderful to say that when the Kingfisher came out of the water we saw a tiny, silvery fish in his bill.

But in all truthfulness we can't. I have no doubt that he was successful—I doubt if once spied, many fish escape his fast and skillful attacks.

He came out of the creek however, headed away from us and all we saw was his lovely dusky blue back. But who is complaining? We had now seen a Kingfisher and how exciting was his performance.

We are, of course, now hoping to see more of our Izaak Walton enthusiast. Kingfishers are creatures of habit and patrol the same area day after day.

So it is that if we do see our fisherman again, it will probably be the same bird that we saw before.

☆

THEY ARE also solitary birds and, except during mating season will not tolerate another infringing on their territorial rights. With much screaming and hollering they assail all intruders and really, their voice has to be heard to be believed.

A staunch individualist he even refuses to accept the almost unbreakable doctrine of absolute silence prescribed by those who pursue the fish that "live in stream and brook."

His voice is raised often and for a variety of reasons. Some think he even uses it to berate himself on those most infrequent occasions when he come up from a dive empty-handed — or more properly maybe we should say empty-billed.

Is it necessary to add that no longer is his rattling laugh listened to with complacency. No longer are we content to be listeners and not lookers. With every cry, we hope to again be treated to the sight of an expert plying his trade.

Next Week
The Best Laid Plans

The Pythian Sisters will meet at the K. of P. hall Wednesday, May 13 at 8 p.m. The refreshment committee will be Harriet Pawson, Vera Driffill, Gwen Linger and Fawn Platt. There will be a Mothers Day Program.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Call it—
"Helping Bud to Blossom"

When his wife left on a visit, Bud Harper promised to take care of her potted plants. He moved them out to the porch where he'd be sure to see them—and then forgot them.

Week later, Mrs. Harper asked about the plants in a letter. Bud rushed out, expecting to find them dead. But they were in perfect shape — even the pots had been rearranged.

Naturally, Bud was mystified. Then he found a note on one of the plants: "We'll lose this one unless you put Ammonium Sulphate on it. Pete." (He's the milkman.)

From where I sit, "neighborliness" is a wonderful thing, particularly when it's put into practice every day. This week, for example, why not have some neighbors in for a glass of beer or a cup of coffee? (Serving them their preference in beverages—that's "neighborliness" too.)

Pressing Flowers Is Demonstrated for Lucky Clovers

Dean Kirkland entertained 15 members and six visitors of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club Saturday at his home.

Following the Pledge of Allegiance and other preliminaries the club made plans for a tour and picnic and discussed 4-H Club Sunday when each member attended the church of his choice.

Onalee Cote gave a demonstration on how to press flowers. Archery members gave reports on the past archery meetings.

Jean and Jeanette Starkey reported on the young miss dress review held recently.

Mary and Dorothy Boynton were enrolled as new members.

Phil Smith was in charge of recreation, which included baseball and other games.

The next meeting will be held June 9 at 4 p.m. in the home of Greg and Phil Smith with Mrs. Eddie Kirkland and Mrs. Henry Carl Smith serving refreshments.

St. Elizabeth Newsettes

By DIANE MALINOWSKI

John Garcia and David Dziachan, seventh graders, made the most runs for their winning team.

In the sixth grade, Gregg McEnroe and David Muller were the leading men.

The game was very close in the first two days, but Friday found the seventh graders especially determined to win.

Thus, at the half of the ninth inning the official score was 27 to 13, which ended the game. Congratulations, seventh grade!

☆

On Friday, the first graders enjoyed a library period, during which each child read alound from his book obtained from the public library.

They also enjoyed having a visitor, Chris Mudgett who stayed for the day.

☆

In second grade, the science class witnessed a large, colorful moth coming out of its cacoon.

This was the first time for many young eyes that nature revealed one of her exciting wonders.

☆

How lovely! In every classroom a May altar has been erected by the sisters and children.

Each is different and beautiful with flowers, bows, and pastel satins to honor fittingly the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Due to previous arrangements the May crowning has been postponed to a later date.

Scholarship Won by Betty

ANN ARBOR—Regents-Alumni Scholarships at The University of Michigan have been awarded to 513 Michigan high school graduating seniors, including Betty Kiser, a Tecumseh senior.

These scholarships carry a stipend equivalent to semester fees for the 1959-'60 freshman year and are renewable for the normal length of the undergraduate degree program in which the student enrolls, provided his academic record justifies renewal.

The award winners were selected from 1,311 applicants representing 338 high schools. At least one scholarship is available each year for every accredited high school in the state, provided a qualified candidate applies.

$894 for Cancer

A total of $894.71 was raised in the house-to-house canvass for the Cancer Fund, according to Mrs. Charles Stevenson, chairman of Tecumseh for the Lenawee County Society.

When your mind's not on your driving, you're dangerous! Your car can't think. That's your department—the driver's. So think about this. When your mind is on anything else but your driving, anything can happen—including an accident! Last year, nearly 37,000 Americans died on our highways. Long AND Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

Did you say Celery?

Yes, sir, Tecumseh at one time was a giant in the field (no pun meant.)

Our town's celery farms supplied much of the United States in the early part of the Century.

I found this out rather quickly after last week's paper had been in the mails only a short time.

Casually mentioning a "tangle town" clue for Tecumseh in last week's column, I was in wonderment over the portion, "It is a trade center for celery-growing area."

Mary Whitelock was the first to fill me in. She phoned to tell about celery grown here, adding it was the "nicest, sweetest, whitest."

As Mary chatted, she really warmed to the subject, finally commenting, "I'd like to get a piece of that celery right now."

Robert Lowe was on the phone shortly afterwards to relate how he well remembered weeding between the rows.

Bob's dad was R. N. Lowe, who with P. W. A. Fitzsimmons and Ernest Daisher owned and operated the Prairie Side Co., biggest celery layout in the area.

In fact, according to Bob, he recalls stationary for the firm which carried the line, "Largest celery company in the world."

Mayor Oley Hanna popped in to ask if we "had received any information on celery in Tecumseh."

Arthur Daniels, 86-year-old, penned a most interesting letter, telling of the celery industry here, and Florence Howe called.

As might be guessed, we can thank Clara Waldron for the most detailed answer to the celery question.

Clara, Tecumseh's unofficial historian, loaned us a scrapbook of articles she had prepared as a Herald reporter and feature writer. The one on celery was so fascinating that we're reprinting it this week.

As is Clara's practice, she spent considerable time digging up information for the piece on celery. An accompanying note in the scrapbook to the article said:

"Very pleasant research went into writing about celery farm, including supper with Jess and Vern Russell."

(The Russell family had a large celery-growing business.)

Clara's scrapbook offered me some fabulous weekend reading.

In it are dozens of absorbing stories . . . a series about the old Opera House . . . one about the golden era of baseball in Tecumseh . . . the toboggan run at Recreation Field . . . the glory of Co. C.

I think most of you would find them enjoyable and so during the summer months, we'll carry a series of stories about Tecumseh's past from Miss Waldron's scrapbook.

☆

In case you've forgotten, Tecumseh will be 135 next month.

☆

Mrs. Jack Brown couldn't resist passing along a tidbit she spied in the May issue of Ladies Home Journal.

"A small town is where everybody knows what everybody else is doing and they all buy the weekly paper to see how much the editor dares to print."

We always heard it " . . . and they all buy the weekly paper to see who got caught at it."

Which ever way it goes, we enjoy the thought as long as everyone does continue to buy the weekly.

Mack Mohr, secretary and manager of the Lenawee County Fair, is a man with a dream.

Actually, he has many dreams, all revolving about the theme of making the fair bigger and better every year.

But his No. 1 dream is quite simple:

Mack would some time like to get a band loaded onto the Fair's ferris wheel, have the kids break into a number and put the wheel into motion.

This sounds like a fabulous plan and I sincerely hope Mack's dream comes true.

Mack was over Monday and we chatted about the Fair for 1959. Major change is the time: it's going to be Aug. 16 to 22, several weeks earlier than in previous years. Several top professional acts have already been booked.

Mack reported that $2,800 was spent last year to fix fairgrounds roadways and he hopes that a new merchants, 40x140 of cement block, will be erected this summer.

Each Citizen Has Important Role

Every family in the Tecumseh area can—and should—play a role in the coming Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up days.

The promotion gets its sendoff Monday afternoon with a parade featuring the high school band, the city's street sweeper and trucks, and a broom brigade of men belonging to city service clubs.

From this point, individual citizens will take over. A suggested Clean-Up schedule is provided by the Chamber of Commerce (it appears on the lower portion of this page.)

Whatever plan is followed, the object is still the same: a cleaner, healthier, safer, better-looking Tecumseh. Each family can contribute greatly by tackling its own property.

Lawns and shrubs, attics, basements and garages all should be closely examined by every community family. Determine what needs to be done, divide up tasks and the work will go quickly.

When Clean-Up days are concluded May 27, the community will fairly gleam—if each citizen does his and her share.

Trash and rubbish can be placed along the curbs next week and it will be picked up by city trucks Friday, May 29.

25 Years a Priest

Hundreds of friends and relatives of the Rev. Fr. Tom Collins will help him celebrate his 25th anniversary as a priest Sunday.

Fr. Collins, pastor here since 1953, was ordained in Detroit on May 27, 1934 by the late Most Rev. Michael J. Gallagher, at that time bishop of Detroit.

Early assignments were in Detroit area parishes—St. Cecilia, St. Ambrose, St. Brigid and St. Mary's of Redford.

He later spent three years as an assistant at St. Lawrence in Utica prior to coming to Tecumseh as pastor of St. Elizabeth's six years ago.

At both St. Mary's and St. Lawrence, Fr. Collins wrote complete parish histories, both of which were published in book form.

Upon his arrival here, Fr. Collins took over from another priest with the same last name, Fr. Mike Collins.

25 YEARS—The Rev. Thomas J. Collins, pastor of St. Elizabeth's in Tecumseh, celebrates his silver anniversary as a Catholic priest Sunday. He has been pastor here since 1953, watched the parish grow from 250 to 400 families.

Masses at St. Elizabeth's Catholic church this Sunday will be at 8 a.m. and noon, the second Mass being one hour later than usual.

Fr. Mike had guided the congregation in the purchase of a seven-acre section of land along N. Union St. and on it constructed the present church.

Fr. Tom continued the building program, which has seen addition of an eight-grade school, convent and rectory.

There have been 387 baptisms at St. Elizabeth's since Fr. Collins came to this community in '53. Seventy-seven Catholic marriages have been performed by him and 22 funerals.

The parish has grown from 225 to 400 families.

Father begins the celebration of his silver anniversary by saying a Solemn High Mass at noon Sunday.

A dinner in the school gymnasium, prepared by the Rosary Altar Society, follows at 2 p.m. Guests will include about 150 relatives, fellow priests, nuns and close friends.

In the evening at 7, all 303 students of St. Elizabeth's school will stage a program for their pastor.

Among the priests assisting Fr. Collins at his Anniversary Mass will be the Rev. Edward J. DeKeyser, pastor of the Utica parish and the Tecumseh priest's last "boss."

Fr. DeKeyser also attended the first Mass said by Fr. Collins at Holy Rosary Church in Detroit.

Others assisting Sunday will be the Rev. Elmer J. Nacy, pastor of St. Philomena of Detroit and the Rev. Monsignor Warren Peek of St. Thomas in Ann Arbor.

Tax Figures Confuse Us, Too

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh schools will operate on less money for the 1959-60 term than this year Supt. James McDowell informed the school board Monday night.

Estimated state evaluation of property in the Tecumseh school district will be $34,786,879.

The board is asking the county tax allocation board for $327,250, but the county is expected to take ½ mill for other purposes.

The schools will receive only $313,081 of this amount.

The reduction in tax millage for the school for bonds and operating is .63 mills.

(Editor's note: If you're confused about these figures, so are we. Between now and next week, we'll do some more digging and prepare an article to explain school taxes.)

Only three districts—Tecumseh city, Raisin township and Tecumseh township—showed increases in assessed evaluation figures.

The city evaluation jumped nearly $906,000; Raisin township $81,703, and Tecumseh township, $51,431.

Two townships Franklin and Ridgeway for some unreported reasons have dropped appreciably in assessed evaluations: Franklin, about $70,000 in three years, and Ridgeway, nearly $63,000 in three years.

☆

Chorus Program Scores as Hit With Audience

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"Let There Be Music" — and there was music, a superb program of varied numbers from sacred to hillbilly.

About 400 attended the concert staged by Les Bennett and the high school chorus Wednesday evening at the Strand Theatre.

Selections from South Pacific were presented before a realistic island scene painted with oil and varnish on a plastic translucent screen 18 by 32 feet wide by Ernie Kollar of Macon.

The program netted $125 toward the robe fund the chorus has established. Members now have $425 towards their $800 goal.

TV

by Perry Cook

You would think that television would have decreased reading habits of our country. At the start of public televising, some educators expressed the idea that public libraries would pass out of existence; newspaper circulations would decrease, radio stations would go bankrupt, and generally speaking TV would take over.

Perhaps TV has taken over but the results have just been opposite. Newspapers, small and large across the country have bigger circulations every year. More copies of books and magazines are reported sold. Radio manufacturers keep getting bigger.

Why should this be? Because of the inquisitiveness of the human mind. We see a baseball game on television and we want to double check all the facts by reading about it in the newspaper. A play is performed on TV and immediately the libraries and book stores are swamped with orders for the original book. TV makes us more conscious of outside affairs and we include more radio to find out about these affairs.

TV is not replacing but improving these other medias. And although we at COOK ELECTRIC are servicing more TV sets; we are also servicing more radio equipment. Phone 692-J.

Indians Win Four Straight Reason: Leckta

By Mike Fero

After a few years of poorly played and poorly supported baseball teams it appears that the Tecumseh Indian squad of 1958-59 is going to change things.

After losing its first two games, the crew has come on to win four straight.

With most followers the reason for this string of victories is the new coach, Duncan Lectka, who at one time was in the farm system of the Detroit Tigers.

Coach Lectka has an excellent baseball background and is an outstanding "teacher on the diamond."

The Hillsdale Hornets fell victim last Thursday to the Indians, 5-3.

Tecumseh scored one run in the second on a single by Ron Hathaway, a pass ball and a walk.

The Indians added two more runs in the third on a walk, singles by Larry Yoakum and Bob O'Neill and a wild pitch.

Then in the sixth, they finished up by scoring two runs. Hathaway singled, then came an error, a fielder's choice, a walk, and a double by Steve Kruger.

Winning pitcher for Tecumseh was Bob O'Neill.

Wet grounds cancelled Monday's game with Blissfield. Thursday the Indians go to Bedford.

The game with Blissfield will be here Monday at 3:45 p.m. This is the Indian's last home appearence.

Annual All-Church Meeting

Annual all-church conference will be held at the Methodist Church in Tecumseh Wednesday evening.

"The program will begin with coffee and home-made cookies at 7 while a film is being shown on our conference camping program", said the pastor, the Rev. James D. Nixon.

The business meeting, conducted by district superintendent Dr. L. LaVerne Finch of Ann Arbor, will begin at 8 p.m.

"The unique thing about this meeting is that every member of the church 18 years of age and over can speak and vote in this meeting," stated Mr. Nixon.

Mr. Nixon said that this all-church aspect of the meeting was authorized at last year's quarterly conference in May.

The meeting will include elections, reporting of the work of the pastor and the organizations of the church, and any other items which members wish to discuss.

PUBLICITY GROUP MEETS

With chairman the Rev. James Nixon in charge, members of the publicity committee for Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up Week held a breakfast session at Don's Grill Tuesday morning. Final details for the promotion were worked out.

Fifth Class Is Being Received by Methodists

He was reporting on the fifth class of new members to be received since last June, to be confirmed in membership this Sunday.

"It is also called White Sunday because of the white robes sometimes worn for baptism on this day."

"The Book of Acts tells of the descent of the Spirit of God upon thousands of people who were received into the early Christian community only a few days after the ascencion of Christ", recalled Mr. Nixon.

Celery Industry Was Giant in Its Time

(Editor's note: A brief question about Tecumseh's celery industry in last week's paper prompted many replies. See The Long & Short of It. Here in an article, giving a complete account of this long-departed industry, which appeared in The Herald half a dozen years ago.)

By CLARA WALDRON

"No Market For Kalamazoo Celery" was the headline of a recent item in Michigan newspapers, an item that made some local residents feel that history was repeating itself.

For history has a way of demonstrating how quickly economic conditions can change and how fleeting a boom prosperity can be.

For over 40 years, from the 1880's to the late 1920's, celery growing was an important industry in this region. Now it has disappeared, without leaving a trace.

In fact, newcomers raise a skeptical eyebrow over stories of special railroad spurs that were built into the celery fields, where carload lots were packed for shipment to wholesale markets.

☆

JUST WHEN and by whom the first experimental planting was made is in question, but it followed the draining of swamp land that took place about 1880, which left acres of black muck soil available for use.

The largest area was that of an old lake bed, which lay along Ives Rd. in Raisin township and which was drained by the digging of a county ditch, known as Cook's Drain.

Here a Tecumseh dentist, Dr. Stewart of the firm of Stewart and Wheeler, promoted a venture that grew into the Prairie Side Celery Co.

It was a venture with many acres under intensive cultivation, many employees, an elaborate irrigation system, washing and packing houses, a spur track from the Detroit Toledo and Ironton railroad and a small settlement of homes for workers.

☆

ANOTHER company, called the Tecumseh Celery Co., operated a slightly smaller acreage on the southern edge of the lake bed, while a mile north a railroad spur from the Michigan and Ohio ran into the farm of Joseph Russell and sons, whose celery land was just north of Russell Rd.

There were other, smaller growers, some as far north as Franklin township where the Willson brothers operated on land irrigated by a flowing well.

In all, probably 500 acres were under the intensive, hand-operated cultivation celery then demanded.

LaVern Russell remembers that his father's venture began with seed brought him from England by a Mr. Haines, who had been visiting in his native country and who recognized the similarity between the soil used there and the newly-drained muck land.

This was probably the first of Tecumseh's celery culture, but others became interested almost at once.

☆

CELERY WAS not a common vegetable in the middle-west at that time. People had to learn to like it as they did olives, but it must have caught on quickly for the expanding production found a ready market.

For some reason, perhaps because it was already grown in the east, most that was raised here was shipped to St. Louis, at first in small lots by express and then by iced, refrigerator cars.

Small growers sold to local grocers or peddled it from house to house. Housewives "put down" celery in muck soil in cool cellars for winter use.

Where the soil was at all suited, farmers bought a few plants from the big growers and raised a family supply. What is now a year round commodity was then a seasonal luxury and its growers prospered accordingly.

☆

WHEN CONDITIONS were favorable the celery growers made money, and the business grew over the years.

It was far from all "velvet," however. The soil required special fertilizers, seed had to be imported, then carefully nurtured in seed beds and the young plants had to be set out by hand.

Weeding, blanching (which was done by banking with soil held in place by long planks), harvesting, trimming, washing, tying and wrapping all were hand operations.

Even at the wage scale of its early days, celery's pay-roll was a big one.

Many a Tecumseh boy earned his first money setting celery or weeding the long rows under the summer sun that was absorbed in smothering heat by the black soil.

☆

AS MORE AND more help was required, families were located on the land. Many of them were German, a few coming directly from Germany for the work.

Thus celery was responsible for bringing a new element into a neighborhood hitherto largely New England in its background.

Names that will be remembered as associated with the management of the farms, besides Dr. Stewart and the Russells, were Mr. Hollister, who had charge of the Tecumseh Celery Co., Joseph Hanford, the owner of that land and Mr. Lowe, who was bookkeeper for Prairie Side for many years.

But the men whose names were synonymous with celery and Prairie Side were Ernest and Fred Daisher. Ernest in particular gave it a life of unremitting work and his fortunes went down with the industry.

☆

IRRIGATION WAS another large expense item for it had to be carried on night and day during the growing season.

At first this was supplied by windmills and when the wind did not blow, the pumping was done by horsepower tread mills.

Later steam engines were used and then the more efficent gasoline engine could be heard for miles on a quiet evening, putputting away to keep water flowing between the rows.

And what a fresh, pungent, earthy smell they gave off of a summer evening. Driving out to the celery farm was one of the season's pleasures.

Visitors were always taken there as part of their entertainment and those straight lines of pale green foliage, extending endlessly against the velvety black soil, left an unforgotten picture in the minds of that generation.

☆

AT THE HEIGHT of its prosperity, more than 100 carloads a season were shipped by the growers and the profits found their way into the economy of Tecumseh.

It was "celery money" that enabled Dr. Stewart to build the Chicago Blvd. house now occupied by Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Brown since this was written, the home was purchased by Dr. and Mrs. Richard Coak and money from the same source supplied other, less obvious needs.

☆

AND THEN almost over night there were no more profits. The growers struggled on a few years in a small way, but hand labor was too high and too scarce.

There were setting machines available but they could not do the other necessary operations.

Competition with the all year-round growing climate of Florida and California was well nigh impossible to meet and the supermarkets with their demand for a year-round supply direct from the grower eliminated both the wholesaler and the small grower.

The land is still there, much of it now a desolate waste of head-tall weeds, undergrowth and young trees. Perhaps someone will find a profitable use for it again—and history will start on another cycle.

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

STILL BLACK AND RICH — That's muck land, where celery once grew near Tecumseh, being examined by Vern Russell. Vern's dad was one of the first farmers to grow celery here, on this 25-acre plot across Russell Rd. from Vern's present home. Vern also raised celery, switched to sugar beets for three years, then sold the land. It remains coal black.

Youngsters Can't Work During School

With the coming of spring planting and harvesting, local farmers were reminded today while the Fair Labor Standards Act permits children of any age to wor kon farms after school and during vacation, it prohibits farm work by children under 16 during school hours.

This reminder comes from William S. Singley, regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor's wage and hour and public contracts divisions, the agency which administers the act.

Mr. Singley said that the child-labor provisions apply to local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike. The only exception to the law is in the case of children working exclusively for their parent or legal guardian, he added.

4-H Projects Net Big Prize for Winners

A dozen $400 college scholarships are waiting for as many 4-H Club boys and girls who prove that they do an outstanding job in their 4-H dairy or swine projects.

Prior to the opening of the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago on Nov. 29, approximately 1,500 top state 4-H records will be judged for national honors and awards.

Nearly 190 high-ranking 4-H'ers from all states in some 50 categories will be selected.

HENDERSON, THE RAIN KING
By Saul Bellow

The entertaining account of the adventures in Africa of a fabulous American — his two wives (one divorced), five children, $110,000 dollar a year income, the strength of a rhinoceros bad teeth, and a passion for life.

APRIL HARVEST
By Lillian Budd

An orphan at seventeen, Sigrid inherits only the courage of her forebears, whose Viking ring she wears. She must face the greatest test of character before she can really ripen into womanhood.

THE GREAT PRINCE DIED
By Bernard Wolfe

An extraordinary book using for its basis the assassination, in Mexico, of Leon Trotsky, and reveals a significant aspect of Bolshevik history recounted in a fascinating narrative.

THE WATCH ON THE BRIDGE
By David Garth

This is a novel of many and varying characters, from the British and German generals of World War II, to the carpenters and slave laborers working on the bridge itself. But it focuses on a few individuals to whom the bridge became a symbol of all that was worth striving for in life.

OASIS NINE
By Victor Canning

A group of four short novels written with the author's usual swagger and grace; a happy combination of the light and gay with the exciting and explosive.

ALAS, BABYLON
By Pat Frank

An absorbing story of danger starting life over again from scratch after a near-miss by nuclear bombing.

THE WATCH THAT ENDS THE NIGHT
Hugh MacLennan

In the deep and satisfying marriage of George and Catherine Stewart there was a constant, shared danger; Catherine's illness which might, any day, cause her death. But it is the sudden return of Catherine's first husband that precipitates the crisis of this novel.

THE LION AND THE ROSE
Jane Oliver

The urgent story of Scotland's beloved Mary Stuart and the seven years of her rule, into which were packed a lifetime's experience of joy and sorrow, love and hate, battle, murder, and sudden death.

THE CHINESE BOX
Katherine Eyre

A suspensful novel set against one of the most fascinating backdrops — the fabulous San Francisco of the early eighties. Lilas, heiress to a shipping fortune, is married to her handsome, successful cousin Gregory. But another cousin, a strange wild boy who had been banished to the Orient years earlier returns with startling unexpectedness to complicate the plot.

MOUNTOLIVE
Lawrence Durrell

The story of conspiracy and political intrigue with the pervading theme of modern love, viewed from every aspect, explored on every level.

THE PLEDGE
Friedrich Duerrenmatt

This story of a sex maniac's crime makes harrowing reading, but the account of Matthai's gradual decay as a citizen and man constitutes an arresting and deeply moving human drama.

DO CHURCHES OF CHRIST HAVE ANY HEADQUARTERS ON EARTH?

The churches of Christ do not constitute a denomination and do not have a denominational headquarters. The New Testament knows no organization larger than the local congregation. Churches of Christ today are reproducing the organization which is described in the New Testament. Therefore they have no organization larger than the local congregation. The elders of every congregation constitute the highest authority in that church. (1 Peter 5:1-4) These men are also called Bishops, Pastors, Overseers and Presbyters. (Acts 20:28; Ephesians 4:11; 1 Timothy 3:1-7).

Each congregation takes its order from Christ rather than from a human headquarters (Ephesians 1:22, 23; Colossians 1:18).

THE BEST LAID PLANS

It is almost unbelievable how completely a bird or two can disrupt our days. Sunday for instance, we had planned to do a million and four things and almost every minute was accounted for.

It was a rigid schedule we had hoped to follow but after all, odd and ends do pile up, until eventually the point is reached where something just must be done.

Sunday was our day to do something and all was going well until I sent the cry, "Oh, come quickly! There is a new bird in the yard!" ringing through the house.

That of course, completely wrecked our work schedule and of the million and four little jobs which were waiting to be taken care of, most are still waiting.

Actually the new bird I spotted was a Sparrow; of course, not an everyday ordinary common Sparrow.

It would have taken a bit more than the unexciting quarrelsome English-type Sparrow to distract us so completely—I hope.

The identity of the new little guy was not determined for sure at the first, second or even third glance and this is why we spent most of one whole day watching Sparrows.

☆

I SAW HIM first scratching through the dead leaves and grass out by the fence, in fact between it and our little evergreen.

A little bird probably about six or seven inches long, his distinctively striped head immediately attracted my attention as I casually glanced out the window. My cry, "new bird" brought the family and thus began the puzzle of trying to find his name.

Do you realize how many different kinds of Sparrows some bird books contain? We finally eliminated all but two and then, for the rest of the day, decided in favor of first one and then the other.

Was it a Lark Sparrow or was it a White-throated Sparrow? One minute we were sure it was the former and the next minute we were equally sure it was the latter.

Oh, how we wished for one of them to stand still just long enough for us to get a really good look.

☆

HOWEVER, being birds, and Sparrows at that, they were not about to be still—not for anybody. The eating out by the fence must have been especially tasty because, although we started with just one bird, there were soon six.

Actually there were more than that—our little mystery birds were mixing freely with a big flock of their English Sparrow cousins and that of course, added even more to the confusion.

In time it became apparent that our everyday Sparrows were coming up to the feeder now and then to augment their yard eatings but our new little ones were staying strictly away from that "man-made contraption."

We just couldn't get a good look at them if they stayed out by the fence however, and so dad scatterel some scratch feed on the ground right in front of our window.

That did it. We soon had the six little newcomers up much closer, apparently very happy with the new supply of food. But what were they—we were still not sure.

☆

EVEN AT close range, the quick movements of the birds (they were never still more than an instant it seemed) made it hard to match them against the dozens and dozens of sparrow pictures the bird book showed.

Their heads were most definitely stripped and we finally decided that the band alternating with the white was more black than russet-brown.

One point in favor of the White-throats. Their back and wings were the chestnut brown associated with most Sparrows but their breasts seemed to be a darker gray than the pictures showed the Lark Sparrows to have.

The deciding factor was the tail; when at last we had a careful look, our birds had no white markings on their tail feathers and so we named the visitors White-throated Sparrows.

☆

THE QUESTION of identification now decided, we settled back to enjoy the birds for we were afraid they would be with us for only a short time.

If as we thought they were on their way to nesting grounds farther north, we hoped our hospitality offered the food and rest necessary to refresh them for the last leg of their journey.

Our well laid plans of accomplishing great things had gone awry, but we had a Sunday and several succeeding days of getting to know the attractive White-throated Sparrows.

And after all, who won't change their plans when a new bird happens their way?

'Products of Michigan'

J. L. Germond of Adrian, chairman of Michigan Week for Lenawee county urges all people in this area to start getting ready for Michigan Week, May 17-23.

The theme of this year's observance is "Products of Michigan", which affords a wide opportunity for program development through displays of products of the community as well as of the state.

Seven special days will be celebrated during Michigan Week and each offers an opportunity for many program ideas.

The observances starts with Spiritual Foundations Day on Sunday, May 17, and it should be marked by attention to the early history of all faiths and churches in the county.

Towns will exchange mayors and village presidents on Monday and exchange ideas on local government. Most of the programs will feature luncheons or dinners for the visiting dignitary and tours of the host city.

Hospitality Day on Tuesday will pay special recognition to Michigan's great tourist industry. Many communities are planning special welcomes to guests on this day when friendliness will be the most important community word.

Wednesday will be Our Livelihood Day, with all towns and cities urged to recognize and pay tribute to the business and industrial firms which provide the communities with their main source of livelihood.

Education Day on Thursday is dedicated to schools, colleges and universities of Michigan and their teachers and students. Open houses at schools, special classes, essay contests, student speeches and essays, radio and television programs, PTA events —are only a few of the many ideas that can be developed on this day.

Friday will be Our Heritage Day, when all communities will make appraisal of their history and heritage, and that of the state as a whole.

Quite appropriately, Saturday, the end of Michigan Week, will be devoted to New Frontiers Day, when all Michigan is urged to look ahead to the brilliant future of the state in science, aviation, electronics, nuclear power and other fields.

Michigan Week will be observed by the state police with open house at all posts "Hospitality Day" Tuesday.

The state flag will fly all week, according to Sgt. Carl Anderson, commanding officer of the Clinton post.

Similar programs held the last two years have been very successful, thousands of persons taking advantage of the special opportunity to visit their nearest post and look over the facilities.

The visiting hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and officers will be on hand to escort persons through the building, explain equipment and answer any questions regarding department operations.

"Will a bank reference help?"

It certainly will! In opening a charge account at a store — and in other situations when you are called upon to "show where you stand" as a financially responsible person — bank standing is an invaluable asset. Take the matter of credit alone: All credit is extended, to a large extent, on the basis of faith; and, not unreasonably, anyone extending credit wants first to have assurance that such faith is deserved. The good reference of a bank, where the prospective borrower or charge customer is known, is just such assurance—and always carries a great deal of weight.

Make our bank your headquarters for managing money matters. Here, under one roof, you will find services to meet many everyday and special financial needs; and as we do business together, you will be establishing your ever-important bank standing for the future.

Modernizing Business Row

It is time for downtown businessment to go out, take a look at the advantages offered by shopping centers and then incorporate these advantages into their own areas.

This advice was given by Adolf D. May, Jr., associate professor, civil engineering an da member of the staff of the Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center ,as a part of a special report issued by the Center.

May's comments centered around the pedestrian mall plan to be put into effect in Kalamazoo, Michigan, May 4.

The Kalamazoo plan calls for closing two main downtown blocks to vehicular traffic. It is the first step in a long range plan to modernize Kalamazoo's central business district.

May hailed Kalamazoo's pedestrian mall plan as important to other cities.

"The long range planning Kalamazoo is undertaking on behalf of its downtown area indicates that this city is alert to and is recognizing the dangers of blight that can quickly make central business area extinct," May explained.

☆

"IN MANY cities, businesses are suffering because of downtown inconcenience and congestion."

The problam is not confined to larger cities. Many small town business districts are just as inconvenient for the shopper when he tries to park his car and go from store to store.

May cited dangers confronting downtown business if proper planning is not carried out to make central business districts more convenient for shoppers.

Shopping centers will be placed in a better competitive position which, in turn, will encourage the greater development of more shopping centers in the outlying areas.

There will be a leveling off and even a decrease in business activity in the downtown business district.

Depressed business activity downtown will result in a reduction of income for the city since many shopping centers establish themselves outside the city limits.

☆

CAN WE SAVE our downtown areas?

May believes the techniques and know-how are available. The question is whether or not cities want to revitalize their central business districts enough to expend the necessary time, planning and money to do so.

Kalamazoo's redevelopment of the downtown area into a pedestrian mall will cost $60,000. Plans also call for a $60,000 off-street parking facility near the downtown area.

May cited two outstanding problems confronting downtown businesses — traffic congestion and lack of convenient parking facilities.

Shopping center planners have been particularly successful in eliminating these customer annoyances because of the greater space available.

"In this respect," May pointed out, "the traffic engineer is an important member of the team planning for revitalization of the central business district.

☆

"THE TRAFFIC engineer can not be solely concerned with just movement of traffic. When the driver gets where he wants to go, there must be some place for him to put his car."

How long th driver wants to park his car is also important. The worker who leaves his car parked for eight hours occupies space that could be used by eight shoppers who park for only an hour.

As an example of how businesses in downtown areas can benefit, May cited traffic engineering work carried out in Lebanon, Indiana, a town of about 8,000 population.

Lebanon's main street carried 10,000 vehicles a day. Of these cars, 4,000 were passing through the business area and did not stop.

A bypass of the downtown business area was provided for through traffic.

Now, instead of the expected 6,000 cars a day stopping in the downtown area, 8,000 cars stopped at the downtown businesses.

The increase of 2,000 cars meant extra business for the stores, shops and services in the area.

May warned that the cost of adequate traffic and parking facilities in downtown areas may be expensive The cost of not providing them, however, can be even greater.

"Those communities," he said, "that do not resolve the conflicting interests of traffic may discover, too date, that the problems — along with the traffic — have gone elsewhere.' Communities will suffer in proportion to their lack of planning and action."

Improved Curriculums To Be Offered In Tecumseh Secondary Schools (First of a Series)

Tecumseh schools are continually consideringmethod s of improving the quality of instruction and in serving better the needs of the individual pupil.

With the separation by building of the junior from the senior high last fall it was possible to inaugurate new courses as well as new methods of instruction, which have improved instruction markedly for the average student.

However, for the slow learner who is also usually a slow reader about all that it was possible to do at that time was to establish special reading classes.

Dr. James B. Conant in his much publicized and debated book, "The American High School Today" has two recommendations in areas in which we will improve our junior high program in the fall:

1. Ability grouping—In the required subjects and those elected by students with a wide range of ability, the students should be grouped according to ability, subject and subject—"

2. Special consideration for the very slow readers—those in the ninth grade of the school who read at a level of the sixth grade or below should be given special consideration.

These pupils should be instructed in English and required social studies by special teachers who are interested in working with students and who are sympathetic to their problems.

Remedial reading should be a part of this work, and special types of textbooks should be provided. The elective programs of these pupils should be directed toward simple vocational work.

These students should not be confused with mentally retarded students. The education of the mentally retarded is a special problem which in some states is also handled in the regular high school through special instruction and the use of special state funds."

☆

WE WILL try to pave the way towards improving our program relative to these requirements in the senior high by continuing our special remedial reading and handwriting classes, and our exploratory vocational courses such as shop, home economics, lanaggues, etc., in the junior high.

In addition in the junior high we will group according to ability in three ranges.

For example, in the academic subjects such as English, mathematics, science and history we will have one type program for the more able in the subject, another for the large group whose ability is about average, and another for the very slow learners who will be handled by special teachers.

There will be essentially three divisions of the pupils:

1. "The slow consisting of pupils whose average ability and achievement shows at least two years retardation and who have been promoted due to sociological reasons or chronological age or both.

2. The below average in mental ability and, or, achievement. , 3. The average and above average in ability which will provide two levels of instruction (required work for the majority and required work plus elective work for the superior).

This type of arrangement is not just across-the-board grouping in which all pupils are placed in a certain section in all courses.

For instance a pupil might be in the average group in English and yet be in the below-average group in mathematics.

☆

THE SELECTION of pupils for the various groups is in many cases a difficult matter as there are always border-line cases which require decisions.

However, in general, by the time a pupil has reached the seventh grade we have records of many standardized tests in mental ability and academic achievement.

We know the capabilities according to potential and actual achievement ratings in subject matter areas according to grade level.

We also have a pattern of work habits exhibited throughout the elementary grades and judgements expressed by the teachers.

Thus it is possible to group the approximate 250 pupils entering the seventh grade next fall quite proficiently.

☆

HOWEVER, should errors in grouping come to light later in the fall, the program is flexible enough that shifts from group to group can be made.

There is always an opportunity for the slow reader to hit his stride and really become proficient so that other subjects seem easier and more rapid advancement can be made.

On the other hand there is also the very gifted pupil who does not desire to work up to capacity and therefore can not maintain the level of the group which he has elected.

It is largely an individual matter and gives more equal opportunities to all than in our present completely homogeneous groups, each group with a wide range of abilities, slow readers to gifted children.

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH !

This land was my father's. Now it is mine. Often, as I work upon it, the words of Genesis come to me: "In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth." And I think, too, of those other words from the same Book: "The Lord God took the man and put him in the Garden of Eden to till it and to keep it."

God entrusted the precious soil to us, and it is our duty to use it well. But he gave us stewardship of something even more precious—our souls. Just as we must care for the land, so must we enrich ourselves, spiritually. And the place in which to cultivate our souls is the Church.

Let us take a lesson from the land, which when well used is wonderfully productive, yet when neglected brings only aridity and erosion. Let us care for our spiritual as well as our physical fields. Let's go to church.

Bloat Prevention Is Spring Problem for Dairy Farmer

When your dairy cattle go out on lush pasture this spring you'll want to keep in mind a new, effective cheap method of bloat prevention.

R. S. Emery, a Michigan State University faculty member doing research on dairy feeding, points out that penicillin is a cheap feed additive for bloat control. But it does lose its effectiveness in about a month.

It can be used effectively when there is reason to believe that bloat will occur soon, as when cows are turned into fresh pasture. It's more effective as a preventative measure than feeding hay, and less expensive than using poor pasture.

The penicilin can be fed in the cows' grain. Although it works well, the cow's rumen will develop enzymes which destroy the penicillin in about a month. It is no longer effective then, according to Emery.

Claiming the penicillin is less expensive than anti-foaming agents such as oil, Emery points out that it is also a great deal more convenient.

Why are some drugs like "ecstasy sauce?"

If you read "Li'l Abner" you may recall how the Gourmet's Club plotted to make "Ecstasy Sauce" from the Yokums' pet pig, Salomey. Recipe: Boil down one hammus alabamus (Salomey) until just one single, solitary delicious drop remains—and that is "Ecstasy Sauce." In terms of food, this is humorously ridiculous, but it's actually routine in the making of drugs. Often hundreds of pounds of raw materials must be processed and reprocessed to obtain one tiny pinch of the active medication. Which helps explain why modern drugs are so potent, and why we pharmacists dispense them only when your physician writes a prescription.

Watch Dale Robertson in Tales of Wells Fargo on NBC-TV Monday Nights

Along with the most talked about style on the road today goes performance new even to owners of previous Buicks . . . and too great for you to miss.

Buick '59 is livelier yet smoother, more powerful yet thriftier, as any previous Buick owner will tell you. And credit goes to the turbine smoothness of Buick transmissions, plus the new responsiveness of Buick "Wildcat" engines.

At the wheel, too, you'll find new handling ease and finned-brake sureness that owners put high on their "most liked" list.

But that's far from all these owners tell us. They talk about new operating economy from the most efficient power plant on the road today. About quality of finish and detail, and of quietness that even beats the best of Buick heretofore. They speak of reliability . . . and they speak of the pure pleasure of owning a Buick '59 . . . in ways that warm the heart.

But the best spokesman for Buick '59—and what it can do for you—is a Buick itself. Why not go to your Buick dealer and get the inside story, today?

Former Students at THS 'Scoring' in New Holstein

Richard Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephenson, formerly of Tecumseh was one of the three students at New Holstein (Wisconsin) high school junior class chosen to attend the Badger Boys State.

Students attaining the coveted honor are chosen by the school faculty according to considerations set up by the American Legion, the same as in Tecumseh for Wolverine Boys State.

Another New Holstein student, Janet Osworth, who is also a former Tecumseh resident, has attained high honor, too, this spring.

She is the salutatorian with a final average of 93.093.

☆

MISS OSWORTH is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Osworth, who went to Danville, Ill. from Tecumseh and transferred from there to New Holstein in the spring of her freshman year.

She has been a member of the National Honor Society for the past three years and a member of the honor roll each quarter during her four years in high school.

She served as vice-president of her class during the sophmore year and was a member of the junior prom court during her junior year.

Other organizations she has been affiliated with during her four years of high school are the Girls Athletic Association, the Service Club and the FHA.

☆

ALONG WITH the information about the two former Tecumseh students came a letter from Mrs. Charles Stephenson in which she wrote, "As you can see, the Tecumseh school system surely turns out well adjusted people as both of these children got their start there. Our Richard has also been chosen king of the Junior Prom that will be held on May 22.

"It makes us all very proud to be able to write home and say such nice things about our young people. In Tecumseh, children have a very healthy place to thrive in, mentally, socially, and physically. God bless that little town.

"Thank you for our weekly visit with 'home'."

The Stephensons moved to New Holstein just about one year ago.

"OLD AGE IS AN INFECTIOUS CHRONIC DISEASE"

There apparently is no cure that will prevent old age.

It is possible to be old in years, but much younger in bodily health if you properly take care of yourself. Many seiges of lengthy sickness can shorten your life. Modern methods of treatment, helped by the new "miracle drugs", can actually add years to your living if you visit your physician at the first sign of any illness.

He will prescribe medication that can overcome disease before it ravages your body.

LENAWEE COUNTY'S LARGEST WEEKLY

VOL. 108 — ONE HUNDRED NINTH YEAR — NUMBER 31 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1959 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long AND Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

Rather ruefully, the cop turned to his companion in the scout car:

"I hate to say it . . . but follow that dog."

What seemed like 10,000 youthful voices squeeled in delight. And a few carefree mom-and-dad voices chipped in, too.

It was Friday night at the Strand Theatre and the "Shaggy Dog" was being screened.

Jammed wall-to-wall, the movie house literally rocked with laughs as the story unfolded. One scene after another, showing the boy become a dog and the dog turning back into a boy, prompted all sorts of noise.

If you and your kids missed "Shaggy Dog" here, see it somewhere.

That fellow Disney is a genius.

WJR in Detroit is the "last resort" in radio stations.

It has never fallen prey to the dread sickness — formula radio.

While others jump into line, hammering away at the top 40 records (which is a hoax), WJR carefully follows this theory:

"Our people have mature judgement. They can decide what should be played in the wa yof music, based on its own merit. We don't have to give homage to some harebrained poll."

How has this worked out?

Well, WJR is offering the finest not only in the way of record shows, but also general variety programs and newscasts.

I have always been a WJR fan and my morning is lacking if I fail to catch the news at either 7, 8 or 9.

Again in the late afternoon, the 5 or 6 o'clock news show is a must.

Most everyone likes to hear about the fast-breaking stories just as they happen. It whets the appetite to read all details in one's daily newspaper.

WJR is usually on top of all the important yarns.

I have never written a fan letter to a radio station— until Saturday, when it became apparent that WJR was overdue for one.

What prompted the note was a news release which told how WJR is dispatching Peter Hahn to Geneva to bring listeners direct reports from the Big Four Foreign Ministers conference.

In addition, Jack Hamilton will be flying to Washington once a week to give WJR's audience "on-the-spot reports of national news events."

This is quite unique for radio stations, which usually bank soley on network newscasts or wire sources.

It was a pleasure dropping WJR a line to say how much one listener appreciates its programming and news coverage.

A slight emergency arose Saturday morning.

Handbills had been printed to help remind folks about Clean-Up days.

The Cub Scouts were to have been contacted to deliver them, but the signals were crossed and the Cubs didn't get the word.

When the leaders were contacted, they explained it would be impossible to get the kids together in much short of five days.

The flyers had to be delivered, so a call went to Howard Wilson, Jr., who has organized his Boy Scout troop for such problems. Using a pre-arranged telephone network Howard can notify his young men in a hurry.

Monday afternoon, promptly after classes were dismissed, the handbills were delivered all over the city.

Thanks, Scouts.

OOPS, WE SLIPPED—In this week's ad for Tecumseh Homes, Inc., which tells of an open home for its new, all-brick model, we twisted figures on down payment and monthly terms under FHA financing.

It should have read $400 down and monthly payments of $73.50. The ad appears on the front page of the second section.

Trucks Gather Rubbish Friday

Clean-Up days in Tecumseh hit their climax this weekend. City trucks will be making the rounds, beginning Friday, to pick up rubbish, which should be placed along the curb.

The annual "tidy-our-town" promotion got its send-off Monday afternoon when the two junior high school bands paraded downtown.

Then followed days for safety and fire protection, repair and modernization, tackling front and back yards.

The fix-up, paint-up portion is slated to be covered the first three days of next week. Monday will be for vacant lots — clean off, cut weeds—and to plant garden plots.

Tuesday, folks should do their painting, inside and out. Porches, fences, woodwork, screens and lawn furniture shouldn't be forgotten.

Wednesday is the finale and if there are any breeding places for flies, mosquitoes or rats, these should be eliminated.

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

UNFAIR—That's what Bill Fielder and Charley Baird told folks who saw the Clean-Up parade Monday afternoon. Their placard rear "Unfair eviction because Tecumseh is cleaning up!" Don Johnson's two grade junior high bands, seventh and eighth graders, both played exceptionally well.

Poppy Posters Win Awards for Tecumseh Youths

Poppy posters made by Michelle Anderson and Robert Miller placed third in the district contest of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Richard Beasley, poppy chairman, invites Tecumseh area residents to wear a memorial poppy May 22 and 23, honoring the war dead as do the hospitalized veterans who make the poppies.

The poppies are distributed by the Legion and Auxiliary for money to re-train the handicapped, educate war orphans.

Poppy funds are never used by the organizations for anything other than the forementioned causes. The fund is often re-embursed from the general treasury's due to considerable need in the community.

Mrs. Beasley alerts all willing workers to be at the trailer in the downtown intersection Friday through Saturday to assist with the sale.

David Holden Honored, Too

David Holden is another Tecumseh high school senior to be awarded a scholarship to Michigan State University.

David will study electrical engineering.

Johanna Young, who was awarded a scholarship last week to MSU, will take secondary education.

INSPECT SITE—Ralph Mull (center) shows sons Howard and Jim where their new professional office center will go up this summer. Mr. Mull has handled accounting chores for Tecumseh firms as long as 35 years. He established a business in Toledo in 1939 and opened a Tecumseh office two years ago.

Center for Offices Is Planned

A professionl office center will be built by Ralph Mull & Associates west of town.

On property 70x150' on W. Chicago Blvd., across from Bud's A&W Drive-In and slightly west, the firm will construct from five to seven units.

The first one to go up, sometime this summer, will be used for the Mull firm, which does accounting work.

Measuring 28x30', each structure will have a full basement and its own hot water heat and air conditioning. They'll be brick.

Howard Trusdale is the contractor.

A roadway will be constructed down one side of the land with adjoining parking for 40 cars.

Units will be either rented or sold outright, explains Ralph Mull, president of the company.

Episcopal Women Receive Communion, Breakfast Together

A Communion breakfast for women and girls will be held at St. Peter's Episcopal church this Sunday following the 8 a.m. Service.

This Trinity Sunday Corporate Communion and breakfast is the first of what the diocesan women's organization hopes will become an annual event.

Intent is that the women and girls of the parish will be able to better develop a sense of their place in the Christian home.

Mrs. Arthur Geisenhaver, president of the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Peter's points out that the national three-year theme of the women of the church is "One Family in Christ."

The breakfast will be cooked and served by the men of the parish.

Coming: Dog Law

By JIM LINCOLN

A long awaited move to control dogs running loose in Tecumseh was taken Monday night when Council requested the city attorney to draw up legislation to comply with the state law.

Mayor H. H. Hanna reported numerous complaints, as did other councilmen. It was also agreed that all dogs should be inoculated against rabies.

Many residents have complained this spring to the local police, but little action could be taken against owners who failed to harbor their pets because there was no city law requiring this.

☆

AN ORDINANCE removing some businesses, including gas stations, from A zoning was passed, after considerable discussion with Dr. Richard Hammel and Jim Smith, architect who is drawing up the master plan.

Dr. Hammel asked if the restrictions were to be temporary or permanent.

Mr. Smith said he was sure that the restrictions would be included in his master plan and would be permanent unless council wished to change it.

It was then questioned whether moving of the Ford automobile agency to the building at the corner of Occidental and W. Chicago would be legal, since operations would be in non-con forming use for the restricted A zoning there.

☆

IN OTHER action: Plat No. 1 of Kerby Heights was approved; the resolution increasing fees for water taps was passed; Dale Clark was appointed to the Planning Commission.

Councilmen Harold Easton was appointed to be marshal of the day for Memorial Day, and Ray Schlegel was selected to study the local airport problems with city attorney James Beardsley, Donald Murphy and Al Meyers, airport owner.

Sure, She'd Love To Dine

It was hospitality day in Michigan Week Tuesday and Chamber of Commerce secretary Don Murphy had an idea.

Stop the first out-of-state car and offer the driver lunch.

An Ohio auto pulled up to the Four Corners and Don introduced himself. The driver was Joyce Jones of Metamora, O.

She was glad to accept the invite to eat, in fact, she was on her way to Don's Grill for lunch.

Seems Joyce is a Tecumseh Products employee, who daily commutes from Metamora.

Chamber Holds Annual Dinner

Annual dinner meeting of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce is slated for Saturday evening at 6:30 in Tecumseh Country Club.

Members and their wives are invited to attend this gathering which will be followed by an evening of daneing.

It will be officially announced that dues for the coming year, have been reduced to $90.

This was made possible, explains Dr. Coak, because of increased membership through addition of an industrial division.

Methodists Install Officers Sunday

First of four installations of officers will be held this Sunday in the Methodist Church at 10.

Newly-elected officers and members of the official board of the church will meet the pastor at the chancel for a prayer of installation.

These persons will have been elected at the annual meeting on Wednesday, or by organizations which they represent.

On the three following Sundays there will be installation of Church School leaders, Woman's Society officers, and officers of the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

TAXES IN TECUMSEH — A SERIES

You May Need a Slide Rule

FIRST IN A SERIES

Get out your slide rule and let's talk about taxes.

Well, actually, it's not quite that bad—but almost.

What confuses the issue mostly is local valuations as compared to state equalized valuations. And, of course, there are other upsetting factors.

As for Mr. Taxpayer, he knows how much he is required to pay—and probably figures it's too high—but likely he doesn't understand the tax structure.

The Herald is going to do its best to break down the complications about local taxes—city, township, county and school—with this series of articles.

This week the topic will be the easiest to understand, city taxes. Did we say easy?

Tecumseh is a "15-mill town," as city assessor Cal Zorn puts it. This means city council has the power to tax property owners up to 15 mills on state (not local) valuation.

(Editor's note: There is a divergence of opinion on this among city officials. The Herald attempted to get a statement from the state attorney general's office by telephone Wednesday morning, but the No. 1 man was in Washington until Friday and an assistant said he did not have full authority. He added that general feeling was that city taxation could be 15 mills of state equalized valuation, as is stated above.)

Based on local valuations, Tecumseh home owners are slated to pay 11 mills this July, one more than last summer, an increased OK'd by council several week ago.

☆

NOW HERE'S WHERE that slide rule comes in handy.

Assessments made by the city are 70% of the state's so our town government could actually go up to 21.6 mills—or nearly double what you're currently paying using local valuations.

Are you still there?

Thus, if you have a home worth $10,000, your assessed valuation is 50% of this, or $5,000. Your summer tax, for city purposes, is $55.

If council went to top millage permitted by law—without the need of a vote—the owner of that $10,000 home could be socked well over $100 for summer taxes alone.

But, don't get excited. It's doubtful if this would ever come close to happening.

That's the little one—your summer tax. (Next week we'll chat about the big fellow, your winter taxes for school and county purposes, which are three times this.)

☆

TECHNICALLY, THIS story should start with property valuation.

It's not a hit-and-miss operation, as some might feel.

In 1955, every piece of real estate in the community was appraised by the J. M. Cleminshaw Co. of Cleveland.

(Please See CITY TAXES Page 2)

Who'll Be Chosen Miss Safety - Check?

Who's going to be Miss Safety-Check?

She'll be from the Tecumseh area, at least 15 and unmarried.

Picking a queen for the annual vehicle safety-check, sponsored by Tecumseh service clubs, is a new addition this year.

Candidates may submit their pictures to Don Murphy, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Hugh Walters, chairman of the event, states that all girls taking part in the contest will be in the safety-check parade, which is slated for Thursday afternoon, May 28.

That's the first day of the safety-check and it will continue all the following day.

The safety-check lane will be located along S. Pearl St., next to Easton's Friendly Service.

Every car and truck in the area is invited to pass through the lane—and it's free.

Nearly 30 volunteers will be pouring over vehicles to determine if they're in A-1 shape for driving. Anything not entirely right will be noted on a report and given the driver.

She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and her only jewelry was a pearl necklace.

Her sister, Patricia Butler, was bridesmaid in an aqua, lace gown and she carired a bouquet of pink carnations. She wore a white half hat.

The bride is a graduate of Onsted high school, 1958 and the groom attended Tecumseh high school and is presently employed by the Hayden Flour Mill.

They are making their home with his parents.

CITY TAXES

Their values were based on size, age, class of house, neighborhood. Costs of material and labor figured in, too.

A card was prepared for each building and the final figure on it serves as the worth of it as of 1955.

But that wasn't all. The firm turned over to the Tecumseh assessor a 120-page "bible" for determining value of future homes. When a house is constructed, Mr. Zorn figures its worth, employing the formula worked out by Cleminshaw for construction in this area .

Actual taxation is based on 50% of this amount.

☆

HOW MUCH DOES the Ctiy of Tecumseh need to operate (exlusive of schools) each year?

The budget for July 1959 to July 1960 is $401,845..

This breaks down:

General — $118,592.
Police — $40,112.
Fire — $15,945.
Highways — $112,390.
Sewers — $6,865.
Cemetery — $11,645.
Sewage disposal plant — $11,670.
Sewage sinking fund — $18,621.
Hospital sinking fund — $2,155.

Revenue to make up the $401,845 comes from more than 20 sources. Your summer property taxes bring in $195,221. The balance is netted through such things as sales tax diversion, liquor licenses, justice fines and costs, among other things.

Expenses total some $5,000 less than anticipated income, but a cushion of this amount is a tiny one and could be easily wiped out should several expenditures unexpectedly jump out of line.

☆

THAT $112,390 FOR highways breaks down into 29 catagories.

Biggest factor here is $27,000 for street construction, which includes $18,000 for blacktopping several roads. (Last fiscal year, $12,500 was allotted for street purposes.)

That extra mill you'll pay this summer is going for streets, which incidentally, are badly in need of work.

If you have some specific questions, please give us a call at 476 and we'll dig for the answers.

Watch next week for the second installment, about that pesky winter tax for schools and county.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editors:

So this is Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week. The idea is very nice to encourage people to do just that and clean up Tecumseh.

This is a nice time to thank the people responsible for making extra work for us in this territory.

Thank You, for the pile of dirt that was left in the yard in front of my home when the city put the sewer and water line in the middle of our street. The dusty road is just too beautiful, too.

Thank you for running your heavy equipment through the yard when it was real soft from the rains last fall. It makes mowing the lawn real easy.

The sandstone we had around our flowers and house was rather nice until a heavy tractor with real large tires went over it.

The sand stone didn't stand up very well, but the cement that held it in place is still all right.

Some people were told about this, but nothing was done about it so I guess I'll have to fix it up. (Who gets the bill?) I may not get my yard cleaned up this week, but it will get cleaned.

Thank you for the extra work.

Guest Speaks Frankly of Business District

Guests to the city usually have lots of nice things to say about Tecumseh.

Greenville's mayor, Sidney Swanton, was no exception.

But after commenting favorably on city schools and residential areas, the honored guest of mayor-exchange day added:

"You could stand some work on the main street. We've got you beat on that."

He explained that merchants in Greenville, a city of 8,000, have done considerable modernizing along business row.

Mayor Swanton has lived in Greenville 23 years, is a high school teacher.

"I wouldn't mind teaching in this (Tecumseh) system," the guest stated, explaining that although his town has a fine elementary setup, the high school was in bad need of replacement.

The jaunt from Greenville to Tecumseh covered 135 miles.

On the way Mayor and Mrs. Swanton stopped briefly in Clinton to visit the school superintendent, William Bodell, formerly of Greenville.

After a tour of the town, the day was capped with a dinner at Tecumseh Country Club, attended by members of city service clubs.

Respect for Fellow Citizens

"Thru My Window", Marda Gene Duncan's warm and friendly adventures with her animal and bird friends, takes a decided serious turn this week.

And with good reason.

Marda Gene tells about a lad of 10 who senselessly stoned a duck to death at the creek near her home last week.

Generalizing about this destructiveness around her "front yard", Marda makes this comment:

". . . parents have a responsibility, too. They should know where their children are and what they're doing. Most of all before letting their children loose, parents should teach them respect for others — people, their property and animals."

So true.

Police chief George Kilbourn tells us that numerous complaints are currently being received regarding B-B guns and careless bike riding.

Thoughtless cyclists have been forcing folks off sidewalks by riding side-by-side — a decided lack of courtesy.

Some have ignored police orders to obtain lights or reflectors when they ride after dark. This is for their own protection and may save their lives. The penalty for riding at night without reflectors can be loss of the bike.

Shooting B-B's in the city limits is forbidden by ordinance and violators will be quickly punished, the chief stated.

As far as we're concerned, the parents are every bit as guilty as the children—and in 99% of such cases, this will be true.

We wonder, moms and dads, if you are doing your job. Are you checking with your offspring BEFORE they go out to play, reminding them to make sure they always keep in mind respect for their fellow citizens.

Bedford Mules End Indian Title Hopes

By MIKE FERO

Last Thursday was a day of hope and frustration for the Tecumseh Indians.

For the first time since 1954, the baseball team had visions of the league championship, but the Bedford Mules brought those thoughts to an end with a 7-3 upset.

Going into the contest, Tecumseh and Hillsdale were tied for first with 4-1 records, but the defeat dropped the Indians into second place with only a slim chance to take the championship.

Hillsdale and Airport played in Tecumseh the following day with Hillsdale dropping the Jets, 7-2.

☆

BEDFORD PLAYED Tecumseh on even terms for the first two innings before going ahead, 2-0, in the third. The runs were counted on three straight singles, after the first two batters went out.

The Indians came right back in the next frame, scoring two runs on two walks, a hit batsman and an error by the left fielder that allowed the two runs to score.

Playing like champions, Indian war clubs punched across a run in the fifth to lead, 3-2.

But Bedford would not be denied. In the last half of the same inning they ended the scoring with five big runs on three singles, a double two walks, a stolen base and an error.

The sixth was scoreless but in the seventh, the Indians put on a determined bid to score.

Jon Cook singled with no one out, but was out attempting to steal second base. Larry Yoakum then walked and Ron Hathaway was safe on an error.

Bob O'Neill walked to fill the bases with only one out. But Lynn Frost struck out and Hathaway was forced at third to end the game.

The Indians are now 4-3 overall.

Besides holding the offices of past commander and past president, the couple has also held the offices of department president and department adjutant.

They are leaving soon to make their home in Florida.

Forty-two attended the dinner, prepared by the local Auxiliary which was also an inauguration of these affairs, which will be held annually.

Mrs. L. W. Larsen and Mrs. Charles Stevenson were high bridge winners at the Country Club luncheon Wednesday.

Table prizes were awarded to Mrs. Willis Porter, Mrs. Hugh Andrews, Mrs. Neville Hart, Mrs. Harry Graham, Mrs. Don Nixon and rMs. Dale Bowen.

'Don't Send Them, Bring Them'

"Don't send them bring them — whether you are speaking about the church or the library."

This was one of the ideas expressed by Mrs. Conrad Fosbender when she spoke to Tecumseh Methodists at their family night potluck last week.

She showed pictures of the library during her talk, entitled "You and Family Reading."

The Tecumseh librarian told her audience about new equipment and books, but related the need for more room.

Nearly 175 attended.

Meat, butter and beverages were provided by a committee headed by Mrs. Owen Partridge.

Mrs. George Anderson was in charge of securing table hostesses.

Members who have joined the church since last June were the special guests of the evening.

The MYF provided name-tags for old and new members, alike. They had been cut in the form of a silhouette of the front of the church.

MYF counselors Dorothy Lukens and Al Taylor were assisted by president Margaret Harris and MYF president-elect Sally Hunt.

Feature of the meal was the variety of home-made breads which the women of the church prepared. These included white and brown breads, oatmeal, date-nut, banana-nut, and a number of others.

BIBLE TRAINING COURSE

Alumni Group Blushes

To obtain information one has only to make a statement in The Herald.

That is the opinion of the high school alumni committee.

No sooner had they announced that this year's reunion would be the 50th anniversary of that event than they learned they must revise that figure upward by 41 years.

Records turned up giving the minutes of a reunion held in the "school auditorium" June 26, 1868.

The first class to complete four years of study in the "New Union School" was in 1860. In 1866, after a recess due to the Civil War, formal diplomas were granted for the first time.

A member of that first class of 1860, Scovel Stacy, was the recording secretary of the reunion of 1868.

The committee finds justification for their announcement, however, in the fact that some time in the 1890s reunions were allowed to lapse and were not revived until 1909, which accounts for the 50 year span.

Credit is given to Mrs. Alice Satterthwaite Wood and Mrs. Jane Harris Crane, classes of 1905 and '07, for the revival.

Thus, only slightly red in the face, the committee re-announce that the June 6 Alumni dinner will be the 91st anniversary.

Reservations for the 1959 banquet should be made by May 30. Tickets are available at Easton's Service, Wright's and Hodges Drug Stores.

Stars Entertain

Tecumseh Eastern Stars were hosts to grand officers and grand committee members of Michigan, May 18 at dinner served to 102 by ladies of the First Baptist Church.

Invocation was given by Erma V. Woffin, grand chaplain, and the welcome by Mrs. Donald LaBounty, worthy matron of the Tecumseh chapter.

Russell Munro, worthy grand patron, responded.

Introductions of the grand family were made by the worthy grand matron, Margaret M. Mathews.

Introductions of the sister chapter, Flat Rock, the Tecumseh officers and the worshipful master of Tecumseh Lodge No. 9 F&AM, Donald LaBounty, were made by Mrs. LaBounty.

Richard L. Fisher, sang to the Stars, followed by Mrs. Matthews' song, "Lend a Helping Hand."

The group then retired to the Masonic Temple.

Grand Electa Junia H. Blythe from the Ohio Grand Chapter and Olive Baker, past Grand Esther and Mother Advisor of Adrian Rainbow girls were introduced as were Lillian Stephenson, representative of Florida-Michigan and Francis Rathbun of Washington-Michigan.

Degrees were conferred on June A. Green, sister of the worthy matron, and Harry Beland by the Grand officers of Michigan.

Mrs. LaBounty presented the grand officers with gifts. A birthday cake baked by Mrs. Melvin Smith was presented to the worthy grand matron, whose birthday anniversary was May 18.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Russell and committee from tables decorated in pink and white with bouquets of spring flowers.

Scouts Say Farewell

Approximately 350 Girl Scouts, Brownies and leaders presented the Court of Awards Friday evening at the Union Hall for about 250 parents and friends.

Included in the program were two graduation ceremonies for senior Girl Scouts who are also graduating from high school this year.

Grace Dennis from Troop 7, led by Mrs. Julius Vincze, wore a little white mortar board and was presented with a diploma by Mrs. Robert Anderson, association president.

She saluted and shook hands with each member of her troop as they were assembled on the stage.

MEMORIES—Troop 5 Girl Scouts with their leader, Mrs. Victor Lawson, view the book containing pictures and memories of their nine camping trips taken during 10 years of Scouting. Mrs. Lawson, their leader for the past seven years, says, "We didn't take the 'outing' out of Scouting."

☆

MISS DENNIS is one of two Scouts who will attend the International Girl Scout Round-Up in Colorado Springs in July.

Troop 5, led by Mrs. Victor Lawson, Jr., has all five of its members graduating. They presented a mahogany candle stand with 10 gold and white candles, representing the laws, and one center candle, representing the promise to Mrs. Anderson for the association.

As the stand was presented Betty Kiser said "These lighted candles representing the laws and promise will be treasured by those who live by them."

As their last act in Scouting, members of the troop signed a book containing pictures and memoirs of their seven years together.

Astride Roberts, who had two years in Girl Guides before coming to this country from Europe, told about a candle of predictions, made of dripping wax.

In five years the girls will hold a reunion. They'll open a candle, in which each girl placed a prediction, to see how well they were able to forsee their futures.

They will close their year with a weekend picnic and overnight trip.

Troop 20, led by Mrs. Don Creger, won the first award for the exhibits and Troop 29, led by Mrs. Fred Cooley, won the second award.

Other troops presenting displays were 10 led by Mrs. Don Johnson; 26, Mrs. Loren Forrester; 28, Mrs. Mary Hoch; 24, Mrs. Jerry O'Brien; 8, Howard Morris and 3, Mrs. Thomas Brooks.

Reception Climaxes Day

A reception in the school gym climaxed events Sunday at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church honoring the 25th anniversary in the priesthood of the Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Collins.

Mrs. Elmer Spreeman, Mrs. Ted Golat, Mrs. Thomas Riordan, Mrs. Gerald Hendricks and Mrs. Louis L. Schneider made the arrangements for the reception.

An attractively-appointed table was centered with a four-tiered cake topped with a miniature priest baked and decorated by Mrs. Golat.

The cake was flanked with arrangements of spring flowers and candles in silver holders.

After Fr. Collins cut the first piece, Mrs. Jack Osburn finished cutting and served the cake.

☆

MRS. ARCHIE SPOHR and Mrs. Arthur Lopshire poured, assisted by women from the Society of the Sacred Heart.

Karen Golat, Grace Dennis and Donna Roe presided at the punch bowl, assisted by seniors of the religion class.

Fr. Collins opened many fine gifts, including a purse of $600 presented to him by the parish.

An informal gathering was held at the rectory preceding the reception with Mrs. C. F. Sage as hostess. She was assisted by Mrs. Catherine Parker, Mrs. Harry Dewey and Mrs. Don Blesing.

Mrs. Robert Sage was general chairman for the day-long celebration with Mrs. Leo Bishop and Mrs. Joseph Dziachan in charge of the dinner.

Sister Ann Xavier and Mrs. John Dennis provided unique table appointments including the symbol of the priesthood used as the centerpiece for the main table.

☆

ALONG WITH 23 other priests, all ordained in 1934, Fr. Collins of St. Elizabeth's will attend a special Mass in Detroit this week.

Fr. Collins became a priest 25 years ago in a class of 28.

His silver anniversary was celebrated locally with a Solemn High Mass at noon Sunday, followed by a dinner, with more than 100 relatives, fellow priests and close friends attending.

It was staged by the parish Rosary Altar Society.

Sunday evening, the school children staged a program for Fr. Collins before a packed gymnasium. (See the column St. Elisabeth Newsettes by Diane Malinowski for complete details.)

SAVED BY BLOOD

The church of the Lord is a blood bought institution (Acts 20:28), and since man can only be saved by the blood of Christ, he must be a member of the church in order to be saved.

To come in contact with the blood, one must know where to find it. As we examine the Scriptures, we find that Jesus shed his blood in his death. When the soldiers came to break the legs of those who were crucified, they came and found Jesus already dead, and a soldier took a spear and pierced his side and out came blood and water. (John 19:34).

Now if Jesus' blood was shed in his death, men can only receive its benefits by doing that which is taught by the Apostle Paul. "Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life." (Romans 6:3-4).

Jesus was raised to a new life. We in likeness have a new life when we obey God. This leaves only one conclusion, "... the blood of Jesus Christ his son cleanseth us from all sin." (1 John 1:7).

In the church then, the BLOOD BOUGHT INSTITUTION, there is salvation and there only. "In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace." (Ephesians1:7).

Boys in in Sub Eat the Best Bean Soup in American Navy

Who eats the Best Navy Bean Soup in the whole United States Navy?

To find out, Secretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates, Jr. sent an alert from the Pentagon to all ship and shore stations round the world to participate in "Operation Bean Soup" — a contest co-sponsored by the Memphis Naval Air Station and the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

From Antartica, the Formosa Straits, Little America, Peru, Puerto Rico and from air-sea services everywhere came hundreds of navy bean soup receipts. Captains, Commissarymen and Vice Admirals sent their favorite formulas. Mess hall magic knew no bounds.

The winner? Ship's Cook Charles R. Lambing, CS2 (SS) on the Submarine Trutta (SS-421) of the Atlantic Fleet. Approximately titled "Bean Bouillabaisse" here's the winning recipe, pared down to family size for you to try on your own skipper and crew.

It's easy to make . . and delicious!

BEAN BOUILLABAISE

1½ cups Michigan Navy Beans
4 medium size ham hocks
1 T Accent
1 large bunch scallions
(or 2 large onions chopped)
Garlic Croutons
Dried Parsley
Grated Parmesan Cheese

Soak beans overnight in water to cover. Prepare soup stock by simmering ham hocks in 4 cups of water 2 hours. Drain beans reserving soaking liquid. Add beans and Accent to soup stock and slow boil 2 to 3 hours or til beans are tender adding some of the bean soaking liquid from time to time as soup boils down.

Add scallions diced into quarters and a handful of green tops cut in ½" lengths and simmer another half hour. Serve piping hot with garlic croutons and a touch of parsley in each individual serving. Sprinkle with grated cheese.

MEMORIAL DAY

Warning Is Up

State police are warning motorists to be unusually alert in the all-time high traffic volume expected over the Memorial Day week end.

Nationally there has been an increase of five per cent in deaths in the first quarter of the year.

January, February and March had reductions in deaths in Michigan compared with the same months last year, but the influence of the national trend was felt in April in the state with a sharp increase of 29%.

"The improvement in the economy and more cars and drivers coupled with the urge to travel over the first holiday week end following the long and confining winter months will be accompanied by an upswing in deaths unless drivers exert every caution and drive defensively," according to Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

"The warning signals are up and the holiday will test whether we are in for real trouble in the months ahead, or whether Michigan can run counter to the national trend and continue with a good record."

To be ready for the holiday, pass days of state police officers have been canceled and patrol shifts lengthened from eight to 10 hours during the period from noon Friday, May 29, to midnight Sunday, May 31.

State Police also have been assigned 129 National Guardsmen to serve as the second man on two-man patrols, releasing the regular second men for additional patrols.

Sheriffs will have 96 guardsmen.

Radar and speed control devices will be used by the state police in the areas of heaviest travel and there will be aerial observation of traffic conditions.

Last year 13 persons died over the holiday, one every six hours. The worst Memorial holiday was in 1941 with 58 traffic deaths and the best in 1950 when only four died.

Corn Cash Buys Tile

New tile floor has been laid in the main auditorium of the Union Gospel Church at Tipton where Rev. Seth T. Hoisington is pastor.

Money for the project was realized from the raising of two fields of corn in 1957 and '58.

The Loyal Workers Class of the Sunday School, who was responsible for the project, is grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Sallows and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Preston for land donated for the two years.

They are also appreciative to Gordon Smith for the cultivation and harvesting of the crop.

☆

ACTIVITIES OF the Church during February will include the Hi-C meeting to be held Feb. 14 at the Berean Baptist Church in Adrian. The new officers will be in charge and the speaker will be a local pastor.

The Fellowship supper will be held Feb. 28 in the Church basement followed by the presentation of the film by the Rev. T. R. Dolson of Hudson. This film was promised for last June, but was not obtained at that time.

Mrs. Tira Wolf and Mrs. Joyce Harsh will make arrangements for the supper.

The pastor will have charge of the prayer meeting on Feb. 18 and Caroline Spycher on Feb. 25. Meetings are at 8 p.m.

☆

THE CHURCH board meeting will be held immediately after services Feb. 15.

The Bible Class that meets each Tuesday at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Leon Harsh are starting the last section of the Youth Triumphant Course entitled, "The Work of God." Everyone is welcome.

Teams for the Sunday evening services at 7:45 p.m. are:

Feb. 18—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Warner.

Feb. 22—Kathleen Preston and Gordon Smith.

Crops Respond Differently to Fertilizer

Technology can help you get more from dollars spent on fertilizer.

Different forms of plant foods and different application methods are important factors to consider in figuring the per unit cost of supplying the nutrients to crops.

Some crops respond better to fertilizer placed in bands than when fertilizer is broadcast on the land. Also, some crops can make better use of plant nutrients which are applied as supplementary applications during the growing season than they do to applications made at seeding time.

Liquid fertilizers can often be applied more cheaply than solid materials.

You can get the latest information on fertilizer technology from the county extension office.

Slightly less than half of the dairy cows in Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Associations are registered with their respective breeds, according to dairy specialists at Michigan State University.

Our Readers Write

To the Editors:

In last week's paper there was a notice that from the 17th to the 27th of April were clean-up days and a drive to "brighten the city with every citizen pitching in."

To us this is a wonderful thing, but what is to be done if as fast as it is finished a pack of from 10 to 12 dogs take over.

We live on Occidental and in the early morning hours there are dogs going in every direction. We think nothing of finding our garbage can upset and waste scattered from the back of our house across the lawn and the full length of the front.

We keep our garage door closed or we could find anything that might be lying loose in it anywhere between our house and town.

We like shrubs and flowers and try to have them, but maybe we win, maybe the dogs win.

We are very fond of pets ourselves but before we get them we decide that it is our responsibility to care for them not our neighbors. Some families having two or three running loose. Can't something be done about this?

We are only human. If people want pets why can't they be broad minded and considerate enough to know that their next door neighbor may have things that they value highly too and don't want it destroyed by other peoples so called pets.

Mr. & Mrs. George Finnegan

To the Editors:

Enclosed is our check for The Tecumseh Herald. We enjoy it and look forward to it. It has been a number years since we left but its nice to keep in touch with the folks.

Yours truly
Mr. and Mrs. M. Reynolds
Durand, Mich.

To The Editors:

Probably the most dramatic clash between the Eisenhower administration and the 86th Congress has occurred with the Senate overriding 64 to 29 the President's veto of the REA bill and the House failing to muster the necessary two-thirds vote.

The REA bill would have stripped from Secretary Benson his control over rural electrification loans, meanwhile keeping that agency within his Agriculture Department.

Thus, kept intact is Mr. Eisenhower's record of never having had a veto overridden in Congress.

Rep. George Meader

To The Editors:

Couldn't resist writing a note to express what a real "kick" it is when the Saturday mail comes complete with my "Herald". Quite a change to leave Tecumseh and all my friends after almost ten years. Certainly enjoy reading the news. My best to all.

Editors Favor Use Tax

Last week the office of House speaker Don R. Pears sent out a questionnaire to all of the editors of Michigan daily and weekly newspapers in Michigan.

A total of 83% of the editors favor the increase in the use tax, 6% prefer a graduated income tax, 2% a flat rate income tax, 8% a corporation profit tax, and 1% mentioned other tax programs.

Listed below are remarks made by these editors:

"No taxes — most taxes are figured in percentage of income. Government should slow down expenditures."

"Feel Conlin Committee has come up with best answer. Republicans muffed by not immediately endorsing his plan."

"Flat rate income tax probably must come in as last resort."

"Governor's solution cannot be the only one. Please do not compromise."

"Take off food and go up to 5%. Machinery set up. Don't give us an income tax."

"An income tax should levy on virtually everyone in graduation.

"Use tax or sales tax is people's choice."

"Let's cut politics and get action on a balanced budget. Time to live within our income."

"Sales tax would make everyone pay equal, also catch the tourist trade that comes to Michigan."

"Many tax dollars would be saved if unemployment and welfare requirements were more practical and less political."

"Let's cut some expenses."

"State could operate efficiently without all those on the state payroll. It's disgusting."

"Soak the rich idea already has been carried to the limit. Suggest continued attention to economies in government."

"Almost have to hire extra bookkeeper now. Use tax would be simplest and most welcome."

"No new taxes. Cut down spending. Eliminate unemployment compensation and state jobs 10%."

"Cut down so many services. Kick out the sacred cows and let's run the state as a business."

"If necessary impose use tax on federal government purchases if this would not put Michigan at unfair disadvantage in bidding on U.S. contracts.

"Why not ask voters which services will you do without instead of 'How will you pay.' "

"Use tax is cheaper to collect and most fair."

"Would be for increase in use tax or sales tax if some way were found to exclude lower income group."

Chemical Scores in Corn Fields

Many Michigan farmers are continuing to find a weed-killing chemical called 2,4-D one of the best choices for controlling weeds in corn.

That's the report form Boyd Churchill, farm crops scientist at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

Churchill says that some of the newer chemical can do a little better job of knocking out weeds. But when farmers figure the weed control they get for the cost of material, 2,4-D has the edge.

Tests over eight years at the Experiment Station show that one pound of 2,4-D sprayed preemergence followed by one cultivation gives corn yields comparable to three cultivations. A pound of 2,4-D ester cost about $1.35.

Churchill adds that the cost of some of the other chemicals could be reduced by band spraying. Also, he doesn't recommend that 2,4-D be sprayed pre-emergence on sandy soils.

Hats Off To Michigan!

Michigan Week—May 17-23—with its emphasis on all of the things for which this great state of ours is famous, is a good time to consider the vital importance of the motor truck . . . Here is a servant of the people which does indeed serve everyone: the farmer, the business man, the retailer, the house-wife, the vacationer, the boy or girl at school.

Everything you eat, wear, or use travels all or part of the way to you by truck. Yes, trucks are as much a part of Michigan as its vast productive capacity, its beautiful scenery, its great educational facilities, its fine people.

It is always a pleasure — not only to see signs of expansion and prosperity in local business establishments, but also to have a hand in making them possible. The members of a bank's staff are, after all, members of a community as well. They have as big a stake as anyone else in community progress; and they realize that the more each store or office or plant prospers, the more the community as a whole will prosper. That's why banks such as ours welcome opportunities to help local businesses with low-cost credit, for all worth-while purposes — very likely including the purpose that you have in mind.

Whether your business is small or large; whether your "line" is hardware or something quite different; whether you want a loan for inventory, for equipment, for modernization of premises, or for any other sound need — we invite you to talk the matter over with us.

Through My Window

SO CRUEL — SO UNNECESSARY

A most uncalled for thing happened recently. Figuratifely, I am on the soap-box again. This time it was not B-B guns, but a boy throwing rocks.

It was between 4:30 and 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, May 13, Eddie dropped in just to say, "Hello!" and ask "What's new?". Unfortunately she arrived just in time to see what was new.

She was standing at the window, looking up the creek and exclaiming how lovely it was.

The day had gotten off to a bad start, dark cloudy and rainy but by late afternoon, the clouds had blown away, the sun was shining and it was indeed a pretty scene, my west window pictured.

The sun, filtering through the newly-turned leaves, sparkled on the creek, turning it into a shimmering shining stream. The rain had washed the trees and grass, leaving them a fresh rich green.

☆

SUDDENLY SHE uttered a cry of disbelief, turned around and ran out the front door. I heard her talking to someone down along the creek's edge, saw Dad hurry across the yard to join her, and then when she came back in the house, from the expression on her face, and from bits of the overheard conversation, I knew what had happened.

"Well, boy, are you proud of yourself? The duck, you know, died! One of the stones you threw hit her in the shoulder, breaking her wing and neck.

"It was a very sportman like deed, wasn't it? Throwing stones at a poor defenseless duck who never hurt anybody but who, in her all too short life, had given many people much pleasure and enjoyment."

"Oh, you say, 'But it was just a duck'? She too was one of God's creatures and until you came on the scene, was a living, feeling thing, enjoying her life on the creek. Just what pleasure did it give you to stone out this life? What was the kick? What was the thrill?"

☆

FORTUNATELY, I did not actually see this senseless display of brutality. Having been sitting up all afternoon and watching the activities on and around the creek, I was a bit tired and had just had my bed rolled down.

To hear a first-hand account of such an unprovoked attack is bad enough, but to be an eye witness to such a sickening display of sadistic meanness must have been terrible. I know from watching Eddie's reaction that it was terrible.

I don't know who the boy was and I'm glad of it.

The shock of seeing such a sickening display of sadism was most upsetting and at first Eddie did not realize how bad the attack was.

When talking to the boy, she did not realize the duck was dying and instead of asking for his name, she quite naturally, asked why-why, under the sun, was he doing such an incredibly cruel thing?

Guess what his answer was? He said the duck was bothering him. He was fishing and the duck kept nibbling at him.

Imagine! A boy probably 10 or more and this small white duck was bothering him. Now I didn't see what happened but I do know the ducks and I now the creek. In the first place the kid said he was fishing.

☆

WELL, THE incident took place this side of Doctor's bridge and the water there is much to shallow for fishing. In fact, the fishing holes are either up or down stream quite a ways so if like he said he had been fishing, he must have chased that poor duck a long way.

Second, the duck was not so friendly or trusting as to get close enough to a stranger to annoy him. (Both ducks long ago learned that youngsters are apt to throw stones and are best avoided.)

Third, and most important of all, even had the duck been troublesome, the boy had absolutely no right, either legally or morally, to stone her. His actions, so deliberate and so intended to cause harm, are absolutely unforgiveable.

Actually, I'm not sure the boy is wholly to blame. Certainly he was of an age to know right from wrong, but on the other hand, parents have a responsibility, too. They should know where their children are and what they are doing.

Most of all, before letting their children run loose, parents should teach them respect for others — people, then property and animals.

☆

FOR YEARS, children have roamed the creek bank and had a wonderful time. Lately however, there has been an increasing amount of vandalism.

B-B guns and bows and arrows have been cruelly used in deliberate attempts to wound, kill or maim; Marsh's wildflower collection has been trampled and many of the flowers pulled up or broken off; stones, many of them especially placed to stop erosion and even some sandstone slabs used for stepping stones, have been pried loose and thrown into the water just for the splash.

The senseless killing of the duck was the last straw. This, after all, is private property and if our rights are not to be respected, there are going to be some changes.

Some No Trespassing signs are being put up and to the few responsible for such cruel and destructive actions let this be fair warning — IF YOU CAN'T BEHAVE, KEEP OUT!

Sports Banquet Will Be Closed to the Public

A change has been made in the Tecumseh high school all-sports banquet—it will not be open to the general public.

Vic Lawson, athletic director, states that only members of THS teams and coaches will be present.

The affair is Saturday evening. In recent years, the banquet has been closed and this tradition will be maintained, he states.

Another factor is that the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting is the same evening.

Don Lund, Michigan baseball coach and former big leaguer, will be the all-sports speaker.

Auxiliary Again Offering $200 Scholarship

A nursing school scholarship of $200 is again being offered for the next year by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

The successful candidate must have been accepted by an accredited nursing school and must need financial help before applying to the Auxiliary.

It is hoped that any girl receiving the award will be willing to work for at least one year after graduation at Herrick Memorial Hospital at the current rate of pay.

This scholarship was set up primarily to ease the shortage of nurses at the local hospital.

John Pobuda, counselor at Tecumseh high school, and Mrs. Edward Boss, scholarship chairman for the Auxiliary, will be glad to talk with girls living in or near Tecumseh, concerning applications for the award.

Announcement of the successful candidate or candidates will be made sometime between May 15 and the beginning of the fall term.

Herald Cited by Legislature for Ad Series

Michigan's legislature has commended The Herald and more than 300 other Michigan newspapers for participating in a unique industrial development advertising program.

The resolution, adopted unanimously by members of both the House and Senate, paid tribute to the newspapers for publishing a year-long series of industrial sponsored by the Michigan Press development advertisements Association and Michigan Economic Development Department.

Calling it "an outstanding example of public service," the resolution said the advertisements have made Michigan residents "aware of the need for effective local industrial development programs."

These advertisements have brought to millions of newspaper readers a better concept and understanding of industrial development and the need for participation in such local undertakings," the resolution said.

"This understanding seems certain to lead to stronger industrial development programs to attract new industry to our State and to encourage Michigan industry to expand within our boundaries.

The advertising campaign will help "assure continuing progress and a greater Michigan" the resolution said.

The resolution extended "the appreciation of the people of Michigan" to newspapers "who are participating so generously in this advertising campaign as a means of advancing the industrial and economic progress of every Michigan community.

Larry's Blast Beats Milan

Larry Yoakum hit a home run into the creek to break up a tight game with Milan last Friday and give Tecumseh a 7-6 win.

Going into the sixth inning the visitors led 6-1, but Tecumseh rallied to knot the count to 6-6.

How to add years to your life

100

100 years ago the average American could expect to live about 40 years. Today—about 70. Modern sanitation, diet, drugs and medical practice have added 30 years to our life span. And note that 70 is average. Many die sooner. Many live longer. You up your chances of being a "longer" if you eat properly and get proper medical care. This means periodic check-ups by your physician. As pharmacists we are pleased to help by supplying the drugs your doctor prescribes—drugs unknown a century ago. We're soconscious of the effectiveness of modern medicine that we're shooting for a life span of 100 years.

How about you?

Jam-Packed Years Expected for Parks

Conservation department parks officials expect another jam-packed year for Michigan's 58 state parks and recreation areas.

In recent years, attendance figures have hovered in the 17-18 million bracket.

The rising popularity of camping was clearly evidenced last year when a record 132,770 permits were issued.

Coupled with the state's economic upswing from the recession, this trend should cause a record demand in use for these recreation units.

Whether there will be an increase in attendance and camping depends upon the distribution of this use. In previous years, department employes have been forced to turn away thousands of park users in over-congested sites.

In view of present funds and facilities, parks officials feel the saturation point has been reached unless the public distributes its use more evenly in parks and recreation areas.

There is no state-wide opening date for state parks and recreation areas. Such limited accommodations as pit toilets, hand water pumps and campsites remain open throughout the year at most units.

Water systems, electricity, concessions, picnic tables and other facilities generally become available around mid-May.

Campers are reminded that permits are issued on a "first come, first serve" basis. No reservations are accepted. When campsites are filled, campers will be advised of units where there are vacancies.

The daily camping fee has been raised to $1 to help defray rising costs. The daily charge for electricity remains at 25 cents.

3,843 Boats Registered in County

Watercraft registration forms can be obtained at all Department of State branch offices and at most sporting goods shops, sheriff's offices, marinas, and many hardware stores. The fee is $2.

Chevy pickup pulls through "bottomless" pastures to keep stock fed!

At the Hall Bros. Dairy Farm, Montgomery, Ala., they say this 4-wheel drive Chevy will go anywhere to keep stock fed—even through hub-deep muck that makes it a fight all the way. And yet after a full year of it—no mechanical trouble of any kind!

That Chevy pickup may not win any beauty awards (till it's cleaned up). But it's sure walking off with the top prize for dependability. And that's standard Chevrolet procedure. Put a Chevy truck to work and it keeps on working until you say quit. Not before.

We aren't claiming that every Chevrolet truck is turning out to be a miracle-worker and averaging 100,000 miles before a valve job. (Even though some are going 150,000!) You're sure to find, however, that you can't buy more truck dependability at any price. And that's borne out by the fact that more truck owners put their faith, and their payloads, in Chevrolets than in any other make.

Take your load and schedule figures to your Chevrolet dealer. He'll specify the best way to handle both and save in the bargain.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck! CHEVROLET

The Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Collins was presented a program by the entire school, Sunday, on his Silver Jubilee.

The presentation began with the fourth grade class who cleverly gave, "The name that grew and grew, a biography of Father Collin's life.

The sixth graders in picturesque robes, built a golden chalice while reciting, "The beautiful hands of a priest."

The seventh and eighth grade boys impressively related "Consecration", the life of the sacred priesthood.

The girls in the seventh and eighth grade generously offered Father Mystical Gifts."

"Why do you tip your hat to a priest? was answered in a gay song and dance by the fifth grade.

The third graders presented a cheerful poem about St. Joseph.

Sweetly, "Jewel Box" was dellivered by the first graders.

The last class to present a skit was the second graders with their very own "Jubilee Cake" for Father.

Following this, the coral group sang selections, of which some favorites were:

"Over in Killarney," "You'll never walk alone", "Danny boy," and "My Task".

In appreciation, Father Collins generously made Monday a holiday, with no school.

☆

The seventh and eighth grade dance was held in the gym of St. Elizabeth's School, on Wednesday evening.

Keeping with the theme, "Cloud 9", fluffy pastel clouds gayly decked the walls as streamers skimmered across the room.

It was really lovely, especially with Mr. Reese's orchestra, a delightful surprise, playing in its midst.

Gay corsages were exchanged with pleasure. An award for the best one was to be given but due to so many nice and clever corsages the Sisters, our panel of judges, chose many happy winners.

The highlight of the dance was a comical Charleston contest won by Linda DeJonghe and Joseph Procheska.

"DISEASES WHICH AFFLICT US ARE AS DIFFERENT AS THE FEATURES ON OUR FACES"

When a physician treats a sick person, he may first relieve pain or other discomforts, but he always concentrates on curing the cause of the trouble. When people try to treat themselves, they seldom can cure the cause because of lack of knowledge of how to properly diagnose.

Home remedies that temporarily relieve pain can sometimes create severe danger, because they enable the disease to take a firmer hold and eventually to become more difficult or impossible to cure. Always let your physician determine the cause of your sickness and prescribe the proper treatment and you will prevent serious trouble.

Our Readers Write

To The Editors,

I read with interest the parody on "Michigan My Michigan" in your paper a few weeks ago.

I have written one that I think is a good contrast to that one.

Print it if you like.
We are taking the Herald here in Lakeland and enjoy reading it very much. It keeps us in touch with the folks back in Michigan.

THE STATE OF FLORIDA
By IRENE (ROGERS) FAIRBANKS

Florida is called "The Sunshine State"
We made it our home in the year of '58
After selling our farm and our household too
We bade fairwell to Michigan and our loved ones so true
We loaded the car 'till T'would hold no more
And traveled to the south we've learned to adore

We've lived in Lakeland six months or nearly
And we can tell you all so very sincerely
It's a State to be proud of with its lakes so blue
It's flowers and sunshine and swimming pools too
The fruit is out of this world you'll agree
When you can pick it off your very own tree

We have oranges, grapefruit and lemons galore
After picking, and picking we still have more
The trees are in blossom now as full as can be
And the beauty of it all is wonderful to see
The fragrance in the air is so very sweet
I'm sure dame nature couldn't be beat

The Royal Palms waving in the breeze
Are the most stately of Florida's many trees
The moss covered cypress and the long-needled pine
Are oft' enhanced with a beautiful vine
Florida's places of beauty are many it's true
And are visited by tourists who come here to view

There's Cypress Gardens, Silver Springs, Bok Tower and Tarpon Springs
Citrus Tower, Marineland and many many other things
For an ideal climate this is the spot
It never gets icy and it seldom gets hot
Its parks and beaches are havens of rest
They are known far and wide to be of the best

The people we've met we've tried to please
They've made us feel welcome and much at ease
They've invited us to dinners and sociables and such
We've learned to love them all so very much
Florida is a state of "Sunshine and Flowers"
We've come to stay so now it is ours.

Long AND Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

Drive with care this weekend. Our paper likes news, but we'd hate to report that some Tecumseh folks had been killed in a mishap.

☆

Writing the series "Taxes in Tecumseh" is most enjoyable. General reader reaction has been of great interest.

But it's like taking a college course in economics digesting the facts. I'd like to thank Cal Zorn and Jim McDowell, who to date have been my teachers, for their help and, in particular, their patience in answering the most basic questions.

To write on taxes requires complete understanding and that's quite a trick for this square-headed Irish-Dutchman.

One reader asked about the reduction on valuation, 1%-per-year, per age of the property.

Mr. Zorn explained, when I relayed the question, that this was taken into consideration when appraisals were made in 1955.

From that year, valuations remained the same.

He opinioned that, while age is a factor, property has increased in value since '55 and therefore one more or less offsets the other.

The part about millage last week was correct. Tecumseh is actually only 7.6 of its allowed 15 mills, based on state equalized valuation figures.

Phone us at 476 or drop in should you want additional information "about local taxation. If we don't know, we'll find out.

Probably about 3,000 will view Tecumseh's annual Memorial Day parade.

Harold Easton, this year's marshal, has done an excellent job in making all arrangements.

There's one thing he'd like to make the event complete — a three-man color guard, made up of Tecumseh servicemen home on leave or furlough.

If you know of such young men, phone Harold at either 1032 or 1130.

This year's march will be the second without a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

The car, honoring vets of this conflict, will be in its usual place, draped with a flag.

Our community's last Spanish-American vet, Lyman Ousterhout, passed away a year ago February.

If you know any golfing jokes, pass them along to Dr. M. R. Blanden—he seems to be gathering a collection.

A pro was introduced to a duffer, who said he'd like to go around and bet $1 a hole—if the pro would give him some strokes.

"Certainly," replied the expert,

Dillon Offers City Contract on Trash Pickup

A possible solution for control of the city dump was offered to council by Tecumseh Hauling Company, which proposed a new residential pick-up arrangement.

Herb Dillon, company owner, offered by letter twice-weekly pickups of "anything" brought to the curb.

This would include garbage, junk and trash. Garbage would have to be wrapped and put in metal containers.

He asked that the city subsidize the pickups to the extent of charging each water tap $1 a month.

If adopted by Council next Monday night, dumping of trash and garbage by individuals at the city dump would be greatly reduced.

Tecumseh Hauling is now engaged in picking up garbage and trash in the city, but not to the wide extent now suggested to council.

Treatments Start June 16

Earl Green announced Monday that fluoride treatments will be given to elementary students June 16 through July 22 in the high school.

Parents will be mailed cards about two weeks preceding appointments and are asked to read the dates carefully.

Any persons, who will volunteer to assist in the program, are asked to contact Mrs. E. S. Oyer.

Workers will meet for instruction June 15 at 1:30 p.m. in the high school.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Blackfoot Patrol of Boy Scout Troop 73, led by Tom Wilson, performed their monthly community service by delivering Safety-Check advertising cards Tuesday night to the cars parked downtown.

Parade Highlights Memorial Day

Tecumseh's annual Memorial Day parade, with 28 marching and motorized units, starts at 10 a.m. Saturday.

According to marshal Harold Easton, it will form on N. Ottawa St. at Chicago Blvd., move west on Chicago to Union and then north to Brookside Cemetery.

The traditional Memorial Day service will follow on the cemetery grounds.

Making up the parade will be:

Tecumseh high school and junior high school bands, under the direction of Don Johnson.

Drill teams made up of American Legion and VFW members, also units representing both of their Auxiliaries.

Mayor and councilmen.

46th Signal Company of Ypsilanti.

Civil Air Patrol cadets.

156th Signal Battalion of Adrian.

Gray Ladies.

Boy, Girl and Cub Scouts, Brownies.

Saddle Clubs.

Decorated bicycles and marching youngsters.

AT THE CEMETERY, the invocation will be given by the Rev. Alvin Brazee and the THS band will provide music.

Mayor Oley Hanna will make a few remarks, followed by bugle calls, which will signal the placing of wreaths at three monuments, honoring Civil War, Spanish American War and World Wars I and II dead.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne is this year's speaker.

A salute to the dead will be given by the American Legion firing squad, followed by Taps and the Star Spangled Banner.

KING & FRIENDS—Wearing a casual grin, King, a collie-shepherd owned by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spreeman, relaxes while some of his 14 step-children enjoy fun in the sun. King whispered in the photographer's ear that he'd like to find nice homes for the brood. Call his mistress at 7016-J if you're interested.

Retired Merchant Dies at 72 Years

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home for John Harold Anderson, former Tecumseh merchant for many years.

He was 72-years-old and owned and operated a grocery which is now Rushia's Apparel, until his retirement in 1953.

Mr. Anderson spent practically all of his life in the store, which was originally owned by his granfather, Albert Anderson.

The business started as a general store located somewhere north on Red Mill Pond and was moved to the main street location in 1875.

Mr. Anderson passed away May 20 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Johnston at 5747 Ridge Highway, Britton. He had been in failing health

HE WAS born in Tecumseh Jan. 15, 1887, the son of John D. and Julia D. Anderson.

He married Anna Lentz Oct. 5, 1908, the couple celebrating their 50th anniversary last year.

They moved to Clark Lake on selling the grocery store six years ago.

Mr. Anderson is survived by his wife, two sons, Harold and John of Clark Lake; four daughters, Mrs. Robert Ritter of Clark Lake, Mrs. Johnston of Britton, Mrs. Donald Filter of Gallion, Ohio, and Mrs. Seymour Barrut of Tecumseh; a brother, Kenneth B. Anderson of Bogalusa, La.; a sister, Mrs. J. Lloyd Kelly of Springfield, Mass.; ten grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne officiated and burial was in Clark Lake cemetery.

Back to Dog's Life for 'King'

"King", a nine-year-old combination collie and shepherd dog, has been playing step-father to 14 kittens since Easter weekend.

The strain is beginning to show, his master and mistress agree.

They're Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spreeman of Murphy Rd., north and east of town, who are ready to farm out the kittens and give King back his freedom.

If you're interested, phone 7016-J, and the Spreemans will gladly reserve a pussy for you. In case they're not home, King will probably take your call.

Here's how this crazy thing all happened.

There are three momma cats, on the Spreeman farm, all unnamed, who delivered Easter weekend.

Mom No. 1 slipped into King's doghouse to have her litter of

The next day, No. 2 had six in the barn and when she discovered a maternity ward had been set up at the doghouse, she promptly moved her brood there.

No. 3, with just three, was content with a spot in the Spreeman garage, but Mrs. Spreeman wasn't so she consolidated this batch with the others in King's house.

King took it like a man, in fact, seemed a little proud of his role.

He didn't mind being evicted and watched proudly as his 14 young ones learned to come outside and wade into a saucer of milk.

But in the last week or so, the Spreemans noticed that King was getting circles under his eyes and seemed too concerned about the future of the little brood.

So they're giving the kittens away — first come, first serve.

Then it's back to a dog's life for King.

'Circle of Safety'

Motorists who have had their vehicles safety-checked will travel with greater confidence Memorial Day weekend.

So advises the Tecumseh Safety-Check committee.

The annual check lane was scheduled to get into operation Wednesday afternoon at 4, immediately following the Safety-Check parade.

The lane will be open both Thursday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. It's located on S. Pearl St., just below Chicago Blvd.

All motorists, whether driving cars or trucks, are invited to put their vehicles through the free 10-point check. Each approved car receives a "Circle of Safety" window sticker."

HERE'S WHAT the trained mechanics will carefully examine:

1. Brakes.
2. Front and rear lights.
3. Steering
4. Tires.
5. Exhaust system.
6. Windshield and windows.
7. Wipers.
8. Rear-view mirror.
9. Horn.

Drivers may think some of this minor, but last year in the nation, of 2½ millions vehicles checked, one out of five needed immediate attention.

This is for the benefit of drivers, especially with the first major "driving" holiday coming this weekend.

☆

IN ADDITION to stressing the importance of vehicle condition, Tecumseh's safety comittee suggested the following safe driving tips in asking motorists to "Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road":

1. Be sure your car is in safe driving condition.
2. Get an early start. Allow plenty of time to reach your destination.
3. Share the road by driving in the proper lane.
4. Allow ample clearance when passing.
5. Yield the right of way to other drivers and pedestrians.
6. Give proper signals for turns and stops.
7. Dim headlights when meeting or following vehicles.
8. Respect traffic laws, signs, signals, and road markings.
9. Adjust your driving to road, traffic and weather conditions.

☆

SPONSORS OF the Tecumseh Safety-Check Program are local service clubs, Rotary, Exchange Kiawanis, Chamber of Commerce, JCCs, and the Highway Sportsmen's Club.

Bud Morley, president of the Sportsmen's Club, will be in charge of the check lane.

As an added incentive for car owners going through the check lane, Tecumseh's leading merchants are giving away groceries, gasoline and gift certificates.

TAXES IN TECUMSEH — A SERIES

We Pay $318,331 for Schools

SECOND IN A SERIES

Now the fun begins. Winter taxes is the topic this week, with emphasis on school outlay.

To begin with, what property owners pay each December is a combination—two-thirds for school and library and the balance for county purposes.

Taking the fellow with a $10,000 home in Tecumseh, it has an assessed value of 50% or $5,000.

Based on state equalized valuation (which is 30% higher than city), he will pay 15 mills or $150 total. Of this, $109.25 is for schools and $40.75 for county.

(At present, most of the county money is used for welfare. Road maintenance is another item. We'll get into that next week.)

Now, what if this same home is located in the country—for example in Franklin township, which is part of the Tecumseh school district.

Well, here's the rub. Franklin assessments are low, according to the state, only slightly over 50% of what they should be. Thus, state equalized pulls the local valuation up 51.01% for winter-tax purposes.

☆

BUT THE UNANSWERED QUESTIONS remain: is this enough? Is property valuation in Franklin or in Ridgeway township (44% off the state pace), Macon (42% off), Raisin (45% low) made on the same basis as in the city of Tecumseh?

No one will ever be able to answer that.

Only until a single assessor tags every piece of real estate in the district's entire 90 square miles will this point be resolved. It's doubtful if this ever will happen.

On state equalized valuation everyone in the area paid 9.35 mills for operating expenses and 6.45 for bond retirement last December. This is after local valuations have been adjusted.

But the kicker still is: were local valuations through the entire school district fair in the first place?

In our book, the only way to regard the situation is what do our children get for the money we spend, whether we live in the city or country.

Few could honestly respond that it is anything short of the finest public education offered in the middle west. The system has modern, functional buildings, teachers are excellent and the administration is far-reaching in its constant effort to make even better what already is offered.

And just to make you feel good, school taxes are ever-so-gradually declining from the all-time high—16 mills—in 1957-'58. It shrank .2 of a mill last year and will drop .6 this coming December.

However, don't start getting excited, these small percentages will probably have to go back in the future to offset increased operating expenses.

☆

NOW FOR THE total school budget:

It's $896,568 and comes from the following sources:

Taxes—$318,331.

State aid—$524,587.

Federal aid—$3,250.

Textbook rentals—$15,000.

Gifts—$25,000.

Miscellaneous—$10,400.

That $524,587 from the state is quite a chunk, but we all help pay it in sales and hidden taxes. This figures out about $156 per pupil in the district and includes primary money ($24 for every child 5 through 19 living in this school district), sales tax and transportation.

The state furnishes $40,000 to transport all students who live more than 1½ miles from their school. All others given bus rides are an expense of the local district.

☆

JAMES McDOWELL, school superintendent, brings up three interesting facts, to point up the value of having a parochial school, namely St. Elizabeth's, within the district.

Initially, it has meant district taxpayers have not had to provide classrooms for approximately 200 elementary students (the number of St. Elizabeth pupils who reside in the Tecumseh district), which would mean an outlay of about $300,000.

Secondly, the district saves upwards of $35,000 each year in operating expenses.

Finally, Tecumseh public schools receive about $4,800 in primary state aid covering youngsters who are taught at St. Elizabeth's.

(Next week: County and township taxes.)

Grave Service Held for Infant

The Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins officiated for the service Monday for Steven Michael Wentworth, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wentworth, who passed away that morning at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he was born Sunday.

LONG & SHORT

as he loosened his swing, visions of new-found cabbage dancing in his head.

"How about 15 strokes and two lookouts" the hacker asked.

"Fine," replied the pro, even though he had no idea what a lookout was.

As the expert was right in the middle of his drive off the first tee the dub yelled, "Look out!" Unnerved, the pro slashed a slice into the woods.

Four hours later, as the pair trudged off the 18th green, the pro's friends were startled to see him dig out his wallet and pull from it several large bills, which he handed the duffer.

"What happened?" they wanted to know.

In a weary voice, he replied, "That devil never did call the second lookout."

Saturday night's Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting was a most enjoyable affair.

Singled out for honors were Charlie Butler and Bill Sage. Charlie, the veteran Ford dealer who recently sold his business, was given a certificate of recognition for his many years of Chamber work. At three different times he served as president of the group.

Mr. Sage was cited with a certificate of appreciation for his assistance to the Chamber, including permitting use of office space in his building rent-free.

And don't think that Bill has taken lightly his chairmanship of Clean-Up days here.

The schedule called for Paint-Up the early part of this week and that's exactly what was happening to his building Monday morning.

Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Sheldon will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday. Their children are inviting friends to an open house at the Tecumseh Baptist Church Youth House, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Miss Jessie Millis and Fred S. Sheldon were united in marriage on May 31, 1899, in the bride's home in Tecumseh, by the Rev. C. A. Fulton of Detroit, a cousin of Mrs. Sheldon.

They have resided in Tecumseh all of their lives and in their present farm home, across from the Tecumseh Country Club for 57 years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon enjoy good health, so they are able to attend church and various organizations of which they are members.

They are both 85-years-of-age.

From this union came five children, 12 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren, with two more expected soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon hope to have present their four daughters: Mrs. Roy Bacon of Toledo, Mrs. Chris Anderson of Flint, Mrs. Vaughn Curtis of Adrian, Mrs. Dale Hoag of Saginaw and one son, Paul Sheldon of Dundee, to attend the morning service at the Baptist church, where they have been active members for 75 years.

They request no gifts.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

All dry-cleaning establishments in Tecumseh are cooperating with the nation-wide campaign to give "New Glory for Old Glory" by cleaning any American flag free of charge.

Not only do the cleaners do this work in preparation for Memorial Day and Flag Day, June 14, but at any time through the year.

It has appeared to this writer on Memorial Day in past years, that too few display the flag.

Lets get that flag out this time, let the kids have the fun of raising it properly with assistance from mom and dad and let the neighbors know that we are proud to be Americans.

CC Wins Double Header

By MIKE FERO

Last Monday afternoon the Tecumseh high school baseball team engaged Monroe Catholic Central in a rare doubleheader.

This was brought about by the cancellation of two single games last week.

Monroe took both games 4-2 and 7-3.

The Indians countered in the second inning with a run on singles by Steve Kruger and Ron Hathaway and a double by Bob O'Neill.

In the third, Monroe added their last run.

Again the Indians bounced back with a run in the fourth on a walk to Kruger, a single by Hathaway and another single by Tim Whitney.

Tecumseh	010	100	0—2	8 4
Monroe	301	000	x—4	5 2

In the second game, it looked as if the Indians would bounce back, but CC poured it on in the late innings.

Tecumseh pushed across two runs in the second on two walks, two stolen bases, a wild pitch and an error.

The Falcons took the lead in the fourth with three runs. Three straight singles, an error, a hit batsman, and a fielder's choice put Monroe in the lead, 3-2.

In the bottom of the same inning, the Indians tied the game on three straight walks and Lynn Frost's single.

In the fifth, the Falcons erupted for three, added an insurance marker in the next.

Monroe CC	000	331	0—7	8 1

A May-basket was given to the Sisters, Friday, by the fourth grade class. This thoughtful surprise was greatly appreciated.

"Oh Mary, we crown thee with blossoms today."

Yes, the anticipated May crowning will be this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Elizabeth's Church.

The public is cordially invited to attend.
